Taft Lashes Out At Truman

Ohio Senator Hits At "Lack" Of Cooperation

"Still Dominated" By CIO Principles

COLUMBUS, O., July 31 (AP)—Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) declared tonight President Truman "is still dominated by the principles of the CIO" and the only way to get cooperation on domestic problems and redeem what he called a "befuddled foreign policy" is to elect a Republican president in 1948.

He asserted he is "not happy about the country's foreign policy"; that the administration's German policy "has wrecked the economy of Europe and now we are called upon for cash from our taxpayers to redemedy the breakdown."

Taft, endorsed earlier in the day by the Ohio Republican State Committee and the state's GOP delegation in Congress for his party's presidential nomination next year, criticized the President in both the foreign and domestic field and indicated this would be his line of attack when he takes the stump in September.

The senior Senator, at an afternoon news conference, thanked his fellow Republicans for their endorsement and said he would make a definite decision whether to run October 3 when he returns from his western speaking trip. All signs indicate he will make the race.

Praises Congress' Record

At tonight's rally, attended by 1,300 Republicans from Ohio and nearby states, Taft praised the record of the Republican-controlled Congress session just finished. He struck vigorously at what he called its Communist and New Deal critics.

As for the Marshall plan, he said his party is interested in reasonable loans to foreign countries "to go to work and help themselves, but I believe those loans hereafter should be confined to actual goods, machinery and equipment necessary to enable the countries which receive them to restore their own productive ability."

"Certainly," he added, "we must move very cautiously and be sure that additional loans really furnish incentive to the foreign peoples involved to work harder to support themselves, and are not too burdensome in our own taxpayers."

Taft said throughout the congressional session adjourned last Sunday "it has become clear that the President is completely opposed to the principles of the Republican Congress, representing the people of the United States," he added:

"Spending" and "Taxing"

"He has often talked in a conservative way, but in every crisis he has shown that he is still dominated by the principles of the CIO. It is not his personal fault. He faces a division in the Democratic Party in

Former Missouri Senator Passes

WASHINGTON, July 31. (AP)—Former Sen. Harry B. Hawes, of Missouri, died at his home here tonight. Death was attributed to a heart ailment. He was 78 years old and had been in failing health for several years.

Hawes was elected to the Senate in 1926 and did not seek reelection in 1932. After the 1932 election, in which Bennett Champ Clark was elected to the Senate, Hawes resigned his Senate seat in order to give Clark seniority over other senators elected that year.

Before going to the Senate, Hawes served three terms in the House from the old Eleventh (St. Louis) District, being first elected in 1920.

Hawes is survived by his widow, the former Eppes Osborne Robinson, of Washington, D. C., and two daughters, Mrs. Peyton Hawes Dunn, of Washington, and Mrs. William Sahnestock, Jr., of near Centerville, Md.

Elizabeth And Mountbatten To Be Wed Nov. 20 In Westminster Abbey

LONDON, July 31 (AP)—Princess Elizabeth, 21-year-old heiress presumptive to the British throne, and Philip Mountbatten, 26-year-old Royal Navy lieutenant, will be married in Westminster Abbey November 20, Buckingham Palace announced tonight.

The place and date of the marriage were announced after the prospective bride's father, King George VI, appeared before the Privy Council today and, in a 175-year-old ritual, gave his formal consent to the union.

The Buckingham Palace statement said "the King and Queen have approved that the marriage of Princess Elizabeth and Lt. Philip Mountbatten shall take place at Westminster Abbey at 11:30 a. m. on Thursday, 20th November, 1947."

Mountbatten, formerly Prince Philip of Greece, was born in Corfu, educated in England and has lived here for the past 20 years. In order to become a British citizen, he renounced his title and his distant claim of succession to the Greek throne last February. He is a nephew of Adm. Viscount Mountbatten, Viceroy of India and a cousin of King George VI.

The engagement was announced July 10 after almost a year of speculation and many appearances together in public.

The bride-to-be will accompany her parents to Balmoral, Scotland, early next week. Philip is now at a naval station in Wiltshire where he is an instructor in current affairs.

EIGHT B-29 SUPERFORTS ON TOKYO-WASHINGTON FLIGHT LAND IN ALASKA

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, July 31 (AP)—Eight Texas-based B-29 Superfortresses striving for a new distance and speed record landed here today on a one-stop flight from Tokyo to Washington.

Seven of the big bombers landed during a driving rainstorm. The eighth plane came in about three hours later after a forced landing at Adak Island in the Aleutian chain.

Seven of the eight planes, including the one which landed at Adak, took off at one minute intervals after 2:30 p. m. (7:30 p. m., Eastern Standard Time) into overcast skies for the flight to Washington. The Public Relations Office reported that radio trouble kept the eighth plane behind. Its crew hoped to make repairs in time to enable it to take off with a chance of catching the squadron.

Heavy rains which plagued some of the planes on their arrival had ceased before the takeoff.

Pledge-Swapping Proposal Is Made To Union By Ford

Firm Acts In Face Of Strike Threat

DETROIT, July 31 (AP)—The Ford Motor Company offered tonight to ignore damage suit provisions of the Taft-Hartley labor law if its 107,000 organized workers gave certain pledges in return.

Henry Ford II, president of the company, announced the offer through company offices here after a conference with CIO President Philip Murray earlier in the day.

Ford acted in the face of a strike threat from the CIO United Auto Workers, who will decide Saturday on a proposal to walk out at Ford plants, probably next week.

Ford, in a statement, laid down the following proposal:

"We have, to be specific, proposed that the company will agree not to institute suit against the union for damages arising out of illegal strikes under the following 'good faith' conditions:

"1. If the union has not inspired or authorized such an illegal strike, and

"2. If the union will agree promptly to denounce publicly such an illegal strike, and

"3. If the union and its responsible officers and agents will agree to use prompt and honest effort to prevent or end any such illegal strike, and

"4. If the impartial umpire who, by agreement with the union, decides other points of difference arising out of our contract and who has always had the complete confidence of both the union and the company, can be the final judge as to whether the union has taken these reasonable steps in regard to illegal strikes."

The Ford-Murray conference took place in New York City at the request of the 29-year-old company president.

Ford's proposal with respect to the Taft-Hartley law yas contained in a letter which he said he handed to Murray.

The company's proposal, Ford told Murray, "merely asks" that the union "act in good faith" to avoid illegal strikes or threats of such strikes.

"In return," he said, "we are pledging the good faith of the Ford Motor Company not to claim damages if, in the opinion of the impartial umpire, the union meets these reasonable conditions."

Australia Asks Steps To Stop Indonesia War

Dutch Declare U.N. Lacks Jurisdiction

LAKE SUCCESS, July 31 (AP) — Australia today demanded that the Security Council take immediate steps to stop hostilities in Indonesia but the Netherlands quickly countered that the United Nations had no jurisdiiction in the fighting there.

After a four-hour session at which debate-weary delegates several times approached a vote on a call for cessation of hostilities, the United States announced that it had offered "its good offices to both parties"—the Netherlands and the Indonesian Republic.

The fast-moving developments came shortly after Greece hurled direct charges of aggression against Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria as a follow-up to Russia's veto of the Balkan solution offered by the United States.

With the two complaints of aggression on the table before them, delegates finally adjourned until tomorrow without any decisions and without any discussion on the Greek charges.

Johnson Pushes For Action

The cases were the first two direct complaints of aggression in United Nations history. Both were submitted under articles providing for possible use of international force.

Pushing for action in the turbulent Balkans, United States Deputy Delegate Herschel V. Johnson sought a commitment from Council President Oscar Lange that at least a portion of two meetings tomorrow would be given over to the Greek case.

Lange said only that both items would be on the agenda and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko commented wryly: "Let's wait until tomorrow to worry what we will discuss tomorrow."

Dr. Eelco N. Van Kleffens, new Dutch ambassador to Washington, stepped into the debate just when it appeared that the council might shatter all records for speed and ballot on the Australian resolution calling on the Netherlands and Indonesia to cease fighting immediately. Van Kleeffens flew here from Washington after presenting his credentials to President Truman.

Charter "Not Applaudable"

Van Kleffens said the United Nations charter was not applicable to the Indonesian situation and declared that the Netherlands only wanted to see that "anarchy, chaos and lawlessness cease." He added that "this is a matter essentially

CIO Rejects AFL Bid For Merger Talk

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP) — Hopes for an early merger of the CIO and AFL took a heavy and perhaps fatal wallop tonight when CIO President Philip Murray rejected a proposal by AFL President William Green for another meeting.

The obstacle is the same one that has slowed negotiations all this year:

The CIO wants an immediate joint program of action on the economic and political fronts.

The AFL insists that an outright merger must come first.

Two weeks ago Green invited CIO leaders to a meeting to follow up the conference of May 1 and 2, in which both organizations agreed that "organic unity should be established," disagreed on the method of doing this, and promised to have future meetings.

But Green told Murray the AFL Executive Council had decided that a common program of action would be "impossible" without first ending "division within the ranks of labor."

Murray wrote Green tonight it was "distinctly our understanding" that the CIO and AFL had jointly recognized in the May conference the "imperative need" for an immediate joint program in addition to opening the way for further discussions on a merger.

"It now becomes apparent," Murray declared, "that it is the objective of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor to prevent the members of organized labor from effectuating their keen desire to establish immediate working unity to defeat the drive of reaction on both economic and political fronts."

Murray said the AFL "refusal to discuss this vital subject while insisting upon long drawn-out negotiations with reference to organizational unity must be viewed with alarm by all who appreciate the dangers which presently confront labor and the nation."

Blood Flows In Holy Land Following Execution Of Two British Sergeants

Tjilatjap's Fall To Dutch Is Near; Malang Captured

Seat Of Indonesian Parliament Seized

BATAVIA, Java, July 31 (AP)—The scorched, dead city of Malang, seat of the Indonesian Republic's Parliament, fell to the Dutch today, the Netherlands army announced, and other Dutch columns raced toward the blazing town of Tjilatjap, chief Republican port on the South Java coast.

A high Dutch official said Dutch columns spearing southward across West Central Java from Tegal were within 20 miles of Tjilatjap, the last important Republican-held port in Java. A Republican communique acknowledged tonight that Dutch columns were "advancing" on two fronts south from Tegal.

This official said there was an "eighty per cent chance" that other Dutch troops already had, or by tomorrow would have, landed on the south coast near Tjilatjap to seize the port and prevent further destruction. Capture of this port would cut the Indonesian Republic in two virtually at its center.

Semi-official Dutch dispatches from the resort city of Malang, considered the key to East Central Java, said: "The town is a wilderness. Important buildings, factories, convents, cinemas were blown up days ago. Shops have been pillaged and the city is dead."

An earlier communique from the Indonesian army said "the scorched earth policy has been applied since yesterday" in Malang. It said the city had been under Dutch mortar fire and had been strafed by Netherlands planes. One hundred thousand Indonesians were reported to have fled the city ahead of the oncoming Dutch troops

Malang, once considered Java's most beautiful city, lies 50 miles due south of the naval base of Soerabaja and approximately 125 miles west of Japava's eastern tip. The Dutch say they hold most of the eastern end of the island.

Five Jews Are Slain In Clash With Troops

JERUSALEM, July 31, (AP)—The hanging of two British sergeants and the booby trap mutilation of their bodies by a Zionist underground gang brought a bloody response from enraged British troops tonight as five Jews were killed and at least 18 wounded by gunfire from armored cars in the streets of Tel Aviv.

The blackened and bloody bodies of the two 20-year-old sergeants, Clifford Martin and Mervyn Paice, who were seized as hostages by Irgun Zvai Leumi nearly three weeks ago, were found today swinging at the end of nooses in an eucalyptus grove south of Natanya. A booby trap exploded and scattered bits of flesh for 100 yards when the first body was cut down.

Following the finding of the bodies, the terror-racked Holy Land waited in fear that new acts of reprisal and counter-reprisal would far exceed the violence of the past several weeks.

Palestinians did not have long to wait and tonight, a reliable source said, Jews and British soldiers clashed in the streets of the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv and indiscriminate shooting began from armored cars.

Buses Raked By Gunfire

The raking of two buses by gunfire caused most of the casualties, the source said. Three persons were killed in one bus and one in another, while a fifth person died in a hospital of bullet wounds. At one time, eight armored cars opened up with their guns, the informant reported.

The dead were two women, two men and a young boy. Damage to shops and other property was placed at $100,000. Late tonight all British troops and British police patrols were withdrawn from Tel Aviv and the tension eased.

A Jewish source said that Haganah, moderate Jewish underground group, was fearful of the result of the Tel Aviv incident — bloodiest single episode in the past weeks' history of Holy Land violence — and ordered its members, which it calls the "Jewish National Defense Army," on a "stand by" basis throughout the country.

Haganah, which termed the hangings of the sergeants as "the most foul act of the Irgun murderers

Woman Charged With Attempted Holdup Of Bank

Backed Up Demand For Money With Gun

FORT SMITH, Ark., July 31. (AP)—A slim young woman in a pink and white sports dress was charged today with attempting to hold up a bank in the heart of the business district in this Western Arkansas city of 50,000.

Federal charges of attempted robbery of a national bank were filed against the woman who gave her name as June Ashby, 21, Eureka Springs, Ark., and Sheriff Prentice Maddux said the slight brunette admitted poking a gun through the cage of Bank Teller George Miller and demanding his money. She refused to tell where she got the loaded .32 caliber revolver for which he said she reached when officers arrested her or anything else about herself.

Teller Thought It Was Joke

The sheriff gave this account of events.

The woman entered the City National Bank about 11:15 p. m. and went to Miller's cage.

"This is a holdup," she said.

Miller said he thought she was joking and paid no attention to her threats. Then she produced a gun and declared:

"This is a stickup. I mean it. Hand me your money."

Miller said he pushed the gun aside and dropped to the floor behind the counter, calling to another teller to do likewise.

Turned Over To FBI

"She talked rather queerly," the sheriff related, "asking whether something had happened; whether there'd been a bankrobbery or anything. We decided she was our woman."

She told Deputy Sheriff F. M. (Buddy) Cardwell where she was

Arrangements For GI Bond Cashing Completed

WASHINGTON, July 31. (AP)—The Treasury tonight completed arrangements for banks throughout the country to cash GI terminal leave bonds beginning September 2.

It said banks have been "specially cautioned against cashing the bonds for anyone other than the person whose name is inscribed on the bond."

To protect the bond owners, it also has "asked that banks require presentation of original discharge or separation papers as a means of identification."

In cases where the original papers are not available, banks have been asked to "exercise extra care and diligence to see that the right person gets the money," the Treasury announced.

BLUE RIDGE BUS STRIKE AVERTED; DRIVERS WILL GET 12 1-2 CENT INCREASE

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Friday, August 1 (AP) — Carlos Gysberts, eastern division supervisor of Blue Ridge Lines, announced early today that an agreement between the bus company and Local 1335, Amalgamated Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes of America (AFL) had been reached and that a walkout of division drivers had been averted.

Union leaders had stated that unless an agreement were reached before the old contract expired at 1 a. m., drivers and maintenance men would quit work.

A walkout would have affected service on the line between Hagerstown and Washington, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, Pa., and Winchester, Va.

A. F. MacDonald, a company officia lsaid the agreement provides for a 12½ cents per hour pay increase for each of the division's 183 employes.

Meat Prices Due To Take Drop In Fall

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP)—The Agriculture Department said tonight meat prices may come down in the fall and winter, but the amount will be governed largely by consumers themselves.

It said that if demand for meat continues strong, the price decline may be modest. But prices would drop substantially by late in the year, it added, should consumer incomes and spending decline materially.

The department made no forecast as to future consumer demand and income. It noted that employment and national income have risen to record heights.

The prediction of possible lower prcies is based on prospects that marketings of slaughter hogs and cattle will increase in the fall and reach a peak in the winter.

The normal fall increase in beef produced from grass-fed cattle may be a little later than usual, the department said, because of the excellent condition of pastures this year. Normally these cattle start moving to market in large volume during late August and September.

The department said hog marketings are likely to be somewhat greater during the October-March period than a year earlier, but that the animals may be lighter in weight unless an unusually large quantity of this year's corn turns out to be of high moisture content, requiring heavy feeding during the winter to prevent its spoilage.

The department said meat prices have climbed to record levels. An above average demand from lower-income families was given as an important factor. Continued shortages of some consumer durable goods werealso given as factors in the meat price situation.

The department said that "spending for weat increases relatively more than most other foods when consumer income in the lower income brackets increases."

Taking notice of uncertain corn crop prospects, the department said smaller feed grain production this year would not cause a decrease in meat production this year but would lower the output next year.

Dewey Will Complete "Vacation" Tour Today

DETROIT, July 31. (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, concluded his Michigan stay tonight by meeting six Michigan Republican congressional district leaders and Wayne County (Detroit) GOP Chairman Arthur T. Iverson.

After the conference the Governor and his wife and two sons left for Albany, where they are due tomorrow morning, completing a western "vacation" tour that began July 4.

Plane-Builder Assails Move As "Ballyhoo"

Says That He Will Appear Wednesday

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP)—The Senate War Investigating Committee got out a subpoena for Howard Hughes tonight and the plane-builder, in Los Angeles, callerd it "circus ballyhoo."

He also accused Sen. Brewster (R-Me), chairman of the full committee, of dragging "a sex inplicaton, involving an airline hostess into its investigation of his wartime contracts.

These developments followed a hearing today which developed testimony that the government may have to pay Hughes an extra $2,000,000 before it ever gets the huge flying boat ordered from him, and that the joint chiefs of staff had opposed diversion of scarce materials to such cargo craft.

The subpoena calling for Hughes to appear "forthwith" was issued after Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), chairman of the subcommittee holding the hearings, said he could get no definite reply to a request for Hughes' voluntary appearance.

Hughes issued a statement, in turn, saying he will appear here Wednesday, that pressure of business will prevent his going sooner, and that Brewster and Ferguson are trying to make it appear they "are hot on the trail of an escaping criminal."

Hostess Incident

Hughes earlier had issued a statement saying that Brewster is trying "to smear me with a yarn about an airline hostess."

Brewster was not available for comment on this tonight.

This business goes back to Monday when Hughes reported that Brewster "bummed" $1,400 of free plane rides from him. Brewster at that time told reporters in reply that he accepted the rides only in order to accommodate Hughes with a conference.

And the Senator added that "a very attractive" hostess whom he did not name had been asked by Hughes to fly to Columbus, O., from Washington with Hughes and Brewster but had refused. Brewster quoted her a having told him she "would have had to come back alone with him (Hughes) and she didn't dare do that."

Hughe today produced a signed statement by Harriet Applewick, who he said was the hostess in question, denying the report as "most ridiculous."

Ferguson told reporters he had asked Thombas Sack Hughes' attorney here, "to telephone Mr. Hughes and get me a yes or no answer on whether he would appear tomorrow," but that the lawyer got no satisfactory reply. Then, the Senator said, he asked Slack, Hughes' attorney here to telephone Hughes again but the attorney refused.

The committee wanted to question Hughes tomorrow along with his publicity man, John Meyer, who has told previously behind closed doors of entertaining government officials. Meyers left Parns by air today to testify on instructions from Hughes.

The hearing today brought these developments:

Two Murderers Die On Gallows

BALTIMORE, Friday, Aug. 1. (AP)—Ross J. Abbott, who shot and killed his childhood sweetheart, and Weldon Jones, Jr., who murdered a Deal Island oyster packer, were hanged early today on the gallows of the Maryland Penitentiary, bringing an end to two cases which caused sensations on the Eastern Shore.

Abbott was convicted of the murder of Pansy Twigg, whom he shot while she was on a beach at Deal Island with friends last summer. She had just announced her engagement to another man.

Weldon Jones, a young Chance, Md., negro, was convicted of shooting and killing I. Raynor Graham outside his oyster house in January, 1946.

Three Ships Reportedly Sail From Cuba To Invade Dominican Republic

WASHINGTON, July 31, (AP)—The Dominican Embassy said tonight a three-ship expedition left from Cuba last night or this morning to invade the Dominican Republic.

Jose Vega, secretary to the ambassador, told newsmen the "expedition" was composed of two landing barges and one corvette equipped with cannon and machine guns.

He placed the point of departure between Antilla and Barracoa on the eastern tip of Cuba.

Vega had no estimate of the number of men aboard the vessels.

Dominican Ambassador Julio Ortega Frier told reporters Saturday that 3,000 men recruited from Cuba, Guatemala, Venezuela and Puerto Rico were poised in Cuba to attack his country.

This was denied by officials of Guatemala, Venezuela and Cuba.

A State Department spokesman said the department had heard about "rumors" that an army of Communists was preparing to sail from Cuba to invade the Dominican Republic but that its informatice from its own representatives was insufficient to make any comment.

The Dominican ambassador described the men as "Communist revolutionaries" and indicated their purpose was to overthrow President Rafael Trujillo.

Cuban Prime Minister Raul Lopez Del Castillo last Saturday termed a "Canard" a news story published in a Cuban newspaper which said an army was being trained in Cuba to invade the Dominican Republic, that a training post had been set up near Holguin, Cuba, and that truckloads of trainees had been seen en route to the port of Antilla.

Dutch Declare U.N. Lacks Jurisdiction

LAKE SUCCESS, July 31 (AP) — Australia today demanded that the Security Council take immediate steps to stop hostilities in Indonesia but the Netherlands quickly countered that the United Nations had no jurisdiction in the fighting there.

After a four-hour session at which debate-weary delegates several times approached a vote on a call for cessation of hostilities, the United States announced that it had offered "its good offices to both parties"—the Netherlands and the Indonesian Republic.

The fast-moving developments came shortly after Greece hurled direct charges of aggression against Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria as a follow-up to Russia's veto of the Balkan solution offered by the United States.

With the two complaints of aggression on the table before them, delegates finally adjourned until tomorrow without any decisions and without any discussion on the Greek charges.

Johnson Pushes For Action

The cases were the first two direct complaints of aggression in United Nations history. Both were submitted under articles providing for possible use of international force.

Pushing for action in the turbulent Balkans, United States Deputy Delegate Herschel V. Johnson sought a commitment from Council President Oscar Lange that at least a portion of two meetings tomorrow would be given over to the Greek case.

Lange said only that both items would be on the agenda and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko commented wryly: "Let's wait until tomorrow to worry what we will discuss tomorrow."

Dr. Eelco N. Van Kleffens, new Dutch ambassador to Washington, stepped into the debate just when it appeared that the council might shatter all records for speed and ballot on the Australian resolution calling on the Netherlands and Indonesia to cease fighting immediately. Van Kleeffens flew here from Washington after presenting his credentials to President Truman.

Charter "Not Applaudable"

Van Kleffens said the United Nations charter was not applicable to the Indonesian situation and declared that the Netherlands only wanted to see that "anarchy, chaos and lawlessness cease." He added that "this is a matter essentially

CIO Rejects AFL Bid For Merger Talk

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP) — Hopes for an early merger of the CIO and AFL took a heavy and perhaps fatal wallop tonight when CIO President Philip Murray rejected a proposal by AFL President William Green for another meeting.

The obstacle is the same one that has slowed negotiations all this year:

The CIO wants an immediate joint program of action on the economic and political fronts.

The AFL insists that an outright merger must come first.

Two weeks ago Green invited CIO leaders to a meeting to follow up the conference of May 1 and 2, in which both organizations agreed that "organic unity should be established," disagreed on the method of doing this, and promised to have future meetings.

But Green told Murray the AFL Executive Council had decided that a common program of action would be "impossible" without first ending "division within the ranks of labor."

Murray wrote Green tonight it was "distinctly our understanding" that the CIO and AFL had jointly recognized in the May conference the "imperative need" for an immediate joint program in addition to opening the way for further discussions on a merger.

"It now becomes apparent," Murray declared, "that it is the objective of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor to prevent the members of organized labor from effectuating their keen desire to establish immediate working unity to defeat the drive of reaction on both economic and political fronts."

Murray said the AFL "refusal to discuss this vital subject while insisting upon long drawn-out negotiations with reference to organizational unity must be viewed with alarm by all who appreciate the dangers which presently confront labor and the nation."

Blood Flows In Holy Land Following Execution Of Two British Sergeants

Seat Of Indonesian Parliament Seized

BATAVIA, Java, July 31 (AP)—The scorched, dead city of Malang, seat of the Indonesian Republic's Parliament, fell to the Dutch today, the Netherlands army announced, and other Dutch columns raced toward the blazing town of Tjilatjap, chief Republican port on the South Java coast.

A high Dutch official said Dutch columns spearing southward across West Central Java from Tegal were within 20 miles of Tjilatjap, the last important Republican-held port in Java. A Republican communique acknowledged tonight that Dutch columns were "advancing" on two fronts south from Tegal.

This official said there was an "eighty per cent chance" that other Dutch troops already had, or by tomorrow would have, landed on the south coast near Tjilatjap to seize the port and prevent further destruction. Capture of this port would cut the Indonesian Republic in two virtually at its center.

Semi-official Dutch dispatches from the resort city of Malang, considered the key to East Central Java, said: "The town is a wilderness. Important buildings, factories, convents, cinemas were blown up days ago. Shops have been pillaged and the city is dead."

An earlier communique from the Indonesian army said "the scorched earth policy has been applied since yesterday" in Malang. It said the city had been under Dutch mortar fire and had been strafed by Netherlands planes. One hundred thousand Indonesians were reported to have fled the city ahead of the oncoming Dutch troops.

Malang, once considered Java's most beautiful city, lies 50 miles due south of the naval base of Soerabaja and approximately 125 miles west of Japava's eastern tip. The Dutch say they hold most of the eastern end of the island.

Five Jews Are Slain In Clash With Troops

JERUSALEM, July 31, (AP)—The hanging of two British sergeants and the booby trap mutilation of their bodies by a Zionist underground gang brought a bloody response from enraged British troops tonight as five Jews were killed and at least 18 wounded by gunfire from armored cars in the streets of Tel Aviv.

The blackened and bloody bodies of the two 20-year-old sergeants, Clifford Martin and Mervyn Paice, who were seized as hostages by Irgun Zvai Leumi nearly three weeks ago, were found today swinging at the end of nooses in an eucalyptus grove south of Natanya. A booby trap exploded and scattered bits of flesh for 100 yards when the first body was cut down.

Following the finding of the bodies, the terror-racked Holy Land waited in fear that new acts of reprisal and counter-reprisal would far exceed the violence of the past several weeks.

Palestinians did not have long to wait and tonight, a reliable source said, Jews and British soldiers clashed in the streets of the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv and indiscriminate shooting began from armored cars.

Buses Raked By Gunfire

The raking of two buses by gunfire caused most of the casualties, the source said. Three persons were killed in one bus and one in another, while a fifth person died in a hospital of bullet wounds. At one time, eight armored cars opened up with their guns, the informant reported.

The dead were two women, two men and a young boy. Damage to shops and other property was placed at $100,000. Late tonight all British troops and British police patrols were withdrawn from Tel Aviv and the tension eased.

A Jewish source said that Haganah, moderate Jewish underground group, was fearful of the result of the Tel Aviv incident — bloodiest single episode in the past weeks' history of Holy Land violence — and ordered its members, which it calls the "Jewish National Defense Army," on a "stand by" basis throughout the country.

Haganah, which termed the hangings of the sergeants as "the most foul act of the Irgun murderers

Backed Up Demand For Money With Gun

FORT SMITH, Ark., July 31. (AP)—A slim young woman in a pink and white sports dress was charged today with attempting to hold up a bank in the heart of the business district in this Western Arkansas city of 50,000.

Federal charges of attempted robbery of a national bank were filed against the woman who gave her name as June Ashby, 21, Eureka Springs, Ark., and Sheriff Prentice Maddux said the slight brunette admitted poking a gun through the cage of Bank Teller George Miller and demanding his money. She refused to tell where she got the loaded .32 caliber revolver for which he said she reached when officers arrested her or anything else about herself.

Teller Thought It Was Joke

The sheriff gave this account of events.

The woman entered the City National Bank about 11:15 p. m. and went to Miller's cage.

"This is a holdup," she said.

Miller said he thought she was joking and paid no attention to her threats. Then she produced a gun and declared:

"This is a stickup. I mean it. Hand me your money."

Miller said he pushed the gun aside and dropped to the floor behind the counter, calling to another teller to do likewise.

The woman left the bank unobserved.

Turned Over To FBI

"She talked rather queerly," the sheriff related, "asking whether something had happened; whether there'd been a bank robbery or anything. We decided she was our woman."

She told Deputy Sheriff F. M. (Buddy) Cardwell where she was

Arrangements For GI Bond Cashing Completed

WASHINGTON, July 31. (AP)—The Treasury tonight completed arrangements for banks throughout the country to cash GI terminal leave bonds beginning September 2.

It said banks have been "specially cautioned against cashing the bonds for anyone other than the person whose name is inscribed on the bond."

To protect the bond owners, it also has "asked that banks require presentation of original discharge or separation papers as a means of identification."

In cases where the original papers are not available, banks have been asked to "exercise extra care and diligence to see that the right person gets the money," the Treasury announced.

BLUE RIDGE BUS STRIKE AVERTED; DRIVERS WILL GET 12 1-2 CENT INCREASE

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Friday, August 1 (AP) — Carlos Gysberts, eastern division supervisor of Blue Ridge Lines, announced early today that an agreement between the bus company and Local 1335, Amalgamated Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes of America (AFL) had been reached and that a walkout of division drivers had been averted.

Union leaders had stated that unless an agreement were reached before the old contract expired at 1 a. m., drivers and maintenance men would quit work.

A walkout would have affected service on the line between Hagerstown and Washington, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, Pa., and Winchester, Va.

A. F. MacDonald, a company officia lsaid the agreement provides for a 12½ cents per hour pay increase for each of the division's 183 employes.

Meat Prices Due To Take Drop In Fall

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP)—The Agriculture Department said tonight meat prices may come down in the fall and winter, but the amount will be governed largely by consumers themselves.

It said that if demand for meat continues strong, the price decline may be modest. But prices would drop substantially by late in the year, it added, should consumer incomes and spending decline materially.

The department made no forecast as to future consumer demand and income. It noted that employment and national income have risen to record heights.

The prediction of possible lower prcies is based on prospects that marketings of slaughter hogs and cattle will increase in the fall and reach a peak in the winter.

The normal fall increase in beef produced from grass-fed cattle may be a little later than usual, the department said, because of the excellent condition of pastures this year. Normally these cattle start moving to market in large volume during late August and September.

The department said hog marketings are likely to be somewhat greater during the October-March period than a year earlier, but that the animals may be lighter in weight unless an unusually large quantity of this year's corn turns out to be of high moisture content, requiring heavy feeding during the winter to prevent its spoilage.

The department said meat prices have climbed to record levels. An above average demand from lower-income families was given as an important factor. Continued shortages of some consumer durable goods werealso given as factors in the meat price situation.

The department said that "spending for weat increases relatively more than most other foods when consumer income in the lower income brackets increases."

Taking notice of uncertain corn crop prospects, the department said smaller feed grain production this year would not cause a decrease in meat production this year but would lower the output next year.

Dewey Will Complete "Vacation" Tour Today

DETROIT, July 31. (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, concluded his Michigan stay tonight by meeting six Michigan Republican congressional district leaders and Wayne County (Detroit) GOP Chairman Arthur T. Iverson.

After the conference the Governor and his wife and two sons left for Albany, where they are due tomorrow morning, completing a western "vacation" tour that began July 4.

Plane-Builder Assails Move As "Ballyhoo"

Says That He Will Appear Wednesday

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP)—The Senate War Investigating Committee got out a subpoena for Howard Hughes tonight and the plane-builder, in Los Angeles, called it "circus ballyhoo."

He also accused Sen. Brewster (R-Me), chairman of the full committee, of dragging "a sex implicaton, involving an airline hostess into its investigation of his wartime contracts.

These developments followed a hearing today which developed testimony that the government may have to pay Hughes an extra $2,000,000 before it ever gets the huge flying boat ordered from him, and that the joint chiefs of staff had opposed diversion of scarce materials to such cargo craft.

The subpoena calling for Hughes to appear "forthwith" was issued after Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), chairman of the subcommittee holding the hearings, said he could get no definite reply to a request for Hughes' voluntary appearance.

Hughes issued a statement, in turn, saying he will appear here Wednesday, that pressure of business will prevent his going sooner, and that Brewster and Ferguson are trying to make it appear they "are hot on the trail of an escaping criminal."

Hostess Incident

Hughes earlier had issued a statement saying that Brewster is trying "to smear me with a yarn about an airline hostess."

Brewster was not available for comment on this tonight.

This business goes back to Monday when Hughes reported that Brewster "bummed" $1,400 of free plane rides from him. Brewster at that time told reporters in reply that he accepted the rides only in order to accommodate Hughes with a conference.

And the Senator added that "a very attractive" hostess whom he did not name had been asked by Hughes to fly to Columbus, O., from Washington with Hughes and Brewster but had refused. Brewster quoted her a having told him she "would have had to come back alone with him (Hughes) and she didn't dare do that."

Hughe today produced a signed statement by Harriet Applewick, who he said was the hostess in question, denying the report as "most ridiculous."

Ferguson told reporters he had asked Thombas Sack Hughes' attorney here, "to telephone Mr. Hughes and get me a yes or no answer on whether he would appear tomorrow," but that the lawyer got no satisfactory reply. Then, the Senator said, he asked Slack, Hughes' attorney here to telephone Hughes again but the attorney refused.

The committee wanted to question Hughes tomorrow along with his publicity man, John Meyer, who has told previously behind closed doors of entertaining government officials. Meyers left Parns by air today to testify on instructions from Hughes.

The hearing today brought these developments:

Two Murderers Die On Gallows

BALTIMORE, Friday, Aug. 1. (AP)—Ross J. Abbott, who shot and killed his childhood sweetheart, and Weldon Jones, Jr., who murdered a Deal Island oyster packer, were hanged early today on the gallows of the Maryland Penitentiary, bringing an end to two cases which caused sensations on the Eastern Shore.

Abbott was convicted of the murder of Pansy Twigg, whom he shot while she was on a beach at Deal Island with friends last summer. She had just announced her engagement to another man.

Weldon Jones, a young Chance, Md., negro, was convicted of shooting and killing I. Raynor Graham outside his oyster house in January, 1946.

Elizabeth And Mountbatten To Be Wed Nov. 20 In Westminster Abbey

LONDON, July 31 (AP)—Princess Elizabeth, 21-year-old heiress presumptive to the British throne, and Philip Mountbatten, 26-year-old Royal Navy lieutenant, will be married in Westminster Abbey November 20, Buckingham Palace announced tonight.

The place and date of the marriage were announced after the prospective bride's father, King George VI, appeared before the Privy Council today and, in a 175-year-old ritual, gave his formal consent to the union.

The Buckingham Palace statement said "the King and Queen have approved that the marriage of Princess Elizabeth and Lt. Philip Mountbatten shall take place at Westminster Abbey at 11:30 a. m. on Thursday, 20th November, 1947."

Mountbatten, formerly Prince Philip of Greece, was born in Corfu, educated in England and has lived here for the past 20 years. In order to become a British citizen, he renounced his title and his distant claim of succession to the Greek throne last February. He is a nephew of Adm. Viscount Mountbatten, Viceroy of India and a cousin of King George VI.

The engagement was announced July 10 after almost a year of speculation and many appearances together in public.

The bride-to-be will accompany her parents to Balmoral, Scotland, early next week. Philip is now at a naval station in Wiltshire where he is an instructor in current affairs.

Three Ships Reportedly Sail From Cuba To Invade Dominican Republic

WASHINGTON, July 31, (AP)—The Dominican Embassy said tonight a three-ship expedition left from Cuba last night or this morning to invade the Dominican Republic.

Jose Vega, secretary to the ambassador, told newsmen the "expedition" was composed of two landing barges and one corvette equipped with cannon and machine guns.

He placed the point of departure between Antilla and Barracoa on the eastern tip of Cuba.

Vega had no estimate of the number of men aboard the vessels.

Dominican Ambassador Julio Ortega Frier told reporters Saturday that 3,000 men recruited from Cuba, Guatemala, Venezuela and Puerto Rico were poised in Cuba to attack his country.

This was denied by officials of Guatemala, Venezuela and Cuba.

A State Department spokesman said the department had heard about "rumors" that an army of Communists was preparing to sail from Cuba to invade the Dominican Republic but that its information from its own representatives was insufficient to make any comment.

The Dominican ambassador described the men as "Communist revolutionaries" and indicated their purpose was to overthrow President Rafael Trujillo.

Cuban Prime Minister Raul Lopez Del Castillo last Saturday termed a "Canard" a news story published in a Cuban newspaper which said an army was being trained in Cuba to invade the Dominican Republic, that a training post had been set up near Holguin, Cuba, and that truckloads of trainees had been seen route to the port of Antilla.

Truman Names Murdock, Gray To Labor Board

Denham Designated As General Counsel

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP) — President Truman today appointed Abe Murdock and J. Copeland Gray to temporary posts as members of the enlarged National Labor Relations Board and designated Robert Denham as NLRB general counsel.

The three men will serve as recess apointees until Congress reconvenes in January.

They were nominated by Mr. Truman for the positions in the closing days of Congress but efforts to reach a Senate vote confirming them bogged down just before adjournment early Sunday. The nominations had been approved by the Senate Labor Committee.

Murdock is a former Democratic Senator from Utah. Gray is a Republican and industrial relations counselor from Buffalo, N. Y. Denham is a Missouri-born attorney now living in Washington.

Board Is Enlarged

The present labor relations board is enlarged from three to five members under the new Taft-Hartley labor law. Murdock and Gray will join Chairman Paul M. Herzog, John M. Houston and James J. Reynolds, Jr., the present members, in making up the new board.

Effective August 22 they will undertake the administration of the new law.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters that the three will be sworn in tomorrow, "after which the board will issue a statement."

President Truman today signed appropriation bills totalling $608,819,012, vetoed a bill for a commemorative Wisconsin half dollar, received the new Dutch ambassador and otherwise kept busy.

Passes Up New Conference

He passed up a news conference and arranged instead to meet newsmen and photographers in an off-the-record talk at the White House tomorrow at 10:30 a. m. EST.

But he found time to fix the open season and shooting limits on wild foul. The dates vary by states.

One of the appropriation bills carries $502,123,912 for non-military functions of the Army, chiefly flood control and navigation improvement work by the Army engineers. It is $117,803,188 less than Mr. Truman originally asked.

Judge Rejects Plea For Murder Warrants In Fatal Jail Scuffle

SALISBURY, Md., July 31 (AP)—A public hearing without legal precedent developed in People's Court here today into the fight at the Wicomico County jail Saturday night which preceded the death of a man who had been arested on a drunken driving charge.

Attorneys retained by the widow of 31-year-old Milton H. Jones, automobile dealer and truck line operator, asked that first degree murder warrants be sworn out against two peace officers involved in a fight with Jones.

Judge Carl L. Walter refused their plea and set a preliminary hearing tomorrow on manslaughter charges already filed against John J. Harbaugh, 29-year-old Maryland state trooper, and John W. Turner, 62-year-old one-armed night jailer.

State's Attorney Rex A. Taylor said "a hearing of this sort has never been held before in the State of Maryland, but we don't object."

The unofficial proceedings before Judge Walter developed into a series of exchanges between the State's Attorney and counsel employed by the Jones family, with assertions that the state's investigation was a "white wash."

Judge Walter yesterday issued manslaughter warrants against Harbaugh and Turner on the basis of information provided by State's Attorney Taylor.

Taylor said he had learned that Harbaugh had ample grounds for arresting Jones on the drunken driving charge about a mile out of town Saturday night.

He asserted that how Jones was treated and what happened at the jail is something for a jury to consider.

1,000 Army Mules To Be Sent Greeks

FORT RENO, Okla., July 31 (AP)—If the Greeks can find a word for 1,000 items of "relief" being readied for them here, it may look like this:

The items of "relief" are United States Army mules—hundreds of them!

They are going to the Greeks as part of a $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid program approved by Congress.

"The word for these "£$-£&?/" mules is the same in any language," said GI Roy Wallace, of Cameron, N. C., the first casualty of the readying program.

"See what I mean," he emphasized, indicating bandages which covered his right side from his neck clear down to his waist.

"I was in a corral minding my own business when a truck unloaded some gravel and the mules stampeded.

"One jumped me from behind—and look at me."

Col. Morris M. L'Abbe, a mule-wise veteran who commands Fort Reno, took a more philosophic view of his four-legged charges.

"They're a fine bunch of mules," he grinned.

"We bought them in response to an order from the War Department for 1,000 mules for the Greeks.

"Now we are gentling them—" and here the colonel paused to watch a jittery mule jump around like a rodeo bronc, dragging three hapless GIs with him, and then continued:

"Of course they are a little skittish right now—they have been shot for anthrax, branded and otherwise processed and they eye the men with a little suspicion.

"But we'll make GI mules out of them—teach them to carry packs of various types, both led and free, and all the other things an Army mule should know."

Man Blames Dream For Fatal Shooting

CARTHAGE, Ill., July 31 (AP)—A 46-year-old woman was shot to death last night in a Burlington Railroad passenger train coach and Sheriff Willard Steinbarger said her 62-year-old father told him he fired his pistol after he had a dream about train robbers.

Mrs. Elizabeth Grady, of Harvey, Ill., was shot through the chest while accompanying her parents, James J. Stuffelbean, and his wife, Kathryn, 72, back to their home at Brookfield, Mo., after they had visited Mr. and Mrs. Grady. Stuffelbean was carrying about $500 cash in his pocket, Steinbarger said.

Mrs. Grady was seated behind her parents in the coach, which was speeding between Plymouth and Augusta, in Hancock County, with the lights dimmed about 11:35 p. m.

The sheriff said the passengers heard a shot, then saw Mrs. Grady stagger down the aisle and fall. Steinbarger said Stuffelbean, removed from the train at Augusta, was questioned for several hours. He said Stuffelbean appeared dazed but finally told him this story:

"I was asleep. I dreamed about train robbers. I woke up, and I thought I saw someone trying to rob me. I pulled out my gun and shot at them."

Steinbarger said a .32 caliber pistol was found at Stuffelbean's feet.

The sheriff said he held Stuffelbean in the Hancock County jail overnight and was keeping him in custody, without charge, pending a coroner's inquest.

yet," was said to believe that the Stern Gang, Irgun's rival in Zionist violence, "may try to kidnap other British soldiers."

Prior to the soldiers' gunfire raid in Tel Aviv, five British soldiers stopped their jeep on a street of the Jewish city and began attacking Jews with sticks and stones. The streets quickly were emptied of pedestrian and motor traffic. Business establishments closed their doors and public transportation ground to a halt.

A Tel Aviv cafe was shot up and windows in buildings along the length of one street were smashed. Armored cars were the only vehicles in sight.

The bells of Bethlehem, birthplace of Christ and the traditional cradle of peace and good will, were ordered by the town's Arab mayor to ring a requiem tonight for Sgt. Martin and Sgt. Paice.

The Arab population of Palestine mourned the soldiers and one of its spokesmen, Dr. Hussein Fakri Khalidi, declared that "even in the darkest days of the Arab revolt of 1936 never did such an act darken civilization's record in this part of the world."

LONDON, July 31 (AP) — Britain's Colonial Secretary called the execution of two British army sergeants by Palestine's Jewish underground a "cold-blooded and dastardly murder" today. Another government source hinted at stern new measures to quell violence in the Holy Land.

Simultaneously, the government informant said the government would send the 4,500 Jewish refugees of the Exodus 1947 expedition to the British zone of Germany and later possibly to Africa if they persisted in refusing to land at Port De Bouc, France.

Crying "horror and revulsion," Colonial Secretary Arthur Creech Jones announced the Irgun Zvai Leumi executions of Sergeants Mervyn Paice and Clifford Martin to the House of Commons. Both Conservative and Labor members cheered when he declared the government would do all in its power to bring "the authors and conspirers" of the executions to justice.

which the Democratic success depends upon retaining in the Democratic Party the radical and Communist votes of the largest northern cities. The people can never expect a Democratic President to take any other position.

"The President clearly believes in the New Deal doctrine of spending, spending, spending. He has shown not the slightest interest in one cent of economy, he believes in taxing, taxing, taxing, now and as far ahead as we can see. He insists upon a health plan which will socialize our entire medical profession and make every doctor an employe of the federal government.

"He has favored every step toward centralization of power in federal bureaus, or in federal valley authorities, as against the power of independent states, cities and schools. He has appointed to office those who believe in control by government. He has violently opposed every effort to bring about labor reform."

Taft said while the presidency remains in Democratic hands, a Republican Congress "is faced with the job of undoing, step by step, the more serious abuses of the New Deal, and in every step it faces a veto by the President.

History Of Paper Making Outlined

Paper was made in some form as early as 2400 BC, Gerald Bishop, associate research director of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company at Luke, told members of the Kiwanis Club yesterday in an address on "Paper". He added that a Chinese man was the first to make real paper and that during a battle the Moors captured some Chinese paper makers and they started making paper in Bagdad in 790.

In 1150 A. D. paper was made in Spain and then in Italy, France, Germany and England. The first paper mill in the United States was established in Philadelphia in 1690, Bishop declared by a man by the name of Rittenhouse. The first paper machine was made in England in 1800.

"It takes a lot of materials to make a ton of paper" Bishop declared, and among the things which are used to make a ton of paper were the following: 4,500 pounds of wood, 40,000 pounds of cooal, 400,000 pounds of water, 250 pounds of salt and 100 pounds of soda ash.

Speaking of the by-products from paper making, Bishop listed a number, including resin, turpentine, soap, carbon, etc. He said the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company sells carbon to more than 1,000 cities for purification of water adding that one railroad car of carbon is shipped from Luke to Chicago daily where it is used to purify water.

Eaton Says U. S. Must Block Reds Or Employ Force

Sure Soviet Doesn't Have Atom Bomb Yet

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP) — Rep. Charles A. Eaton (R-N.J.), chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, declared today that the United States must warn Russia to stop her "world conquest" attempts or face ostracism from the United Nations and possibly war.

"I think we can still block Russia with psychology; if we don't, we must defeat her by force of arms," Eaton wrote in American Magazine. "It is time we told her so."

He said Russia has "shown very clearly" that "she intends to take Europe, then the world." He added that whatever changes might have been made for outward appearances "she hasn't changed her tune. I mean the tune of world conquest."

"We can put Russia in her place now without resorting to force," Eaton continued. "We can stop her by asserting our leadership of the other members of the Big Five group and of the smaller nations who aspire to our democratic ideals.

"If she doesn't give in and behave like a civilized nation, we must read Russia out of the United Nations and proceed without her . . . If we don't stop her now, there may come a time when we may have to keep her out by force of arms.

"It may be a hard job then, because she may have us outclassed in numbers and weapons. But we still have the atomic bomb, and I am sure that Russia has not, at least as yet. . . .

"Once kicked out of decent society, Russia must either seek to retain good standing or be disciplined by the military action of the union of decent nations. I am sure Russian leaders have learned from Germany's two unhappy experiments . . . That it is not an easy job to lick the world."

"Letter Of Intent" Contract

1. Ferguson produced a "letter of intent" contract under which Hughes is building a huge flying boat. This, the Senator said, makes it clear that the government cannot take over the plane for four years after it first flies unless it pays Hughes an addtiional $2,000,000. The 200-ton flying boat already has cost the government $18,265,970, and a former government engineer testified the final figure—exclusive of any new $2,000,000 item—will run about $21,115,970.

2. Undersecretary of the State Robert A. Lovett testified that America's military high command warned in 1942 against diverting scarce materials from war combat planes to huge cargo craft such as Hughes and Henry J. Kaiser were authorized to build.

3. H. Robert Edwards, former supervising engineer for the Defense Plant Corporation declared that in 1944 the Hughes management disregarded his order to stop work on the flying boat after the contract had been ordered cancelled. It later was reinstated.

Ferguson read into the record a DPC letter of intent which he said gives Hughes the right to lease the big flying boat when it is completed.

Ferguson said the letter constitutes a valid contract under which Hughes would have use of the plane by paying $37,500 a month rental, as well as $50 for every flight hour and $6.25 for every hour the engines operate.

Sex Criminal Confesses Strangling Chicago Tot

CHICAGO, July 31 (AP) — The body of a three and one-half year old boy was found in a West Side areaway today, and Police Capt. Frank Gill said a known sex criminal had admitted taking the child from his bed last night and strangling him.

Capt. Gill quoted Joseph Bortnyak, 27, as stating orally that he had strangled Charles Bradley, 3½, and saying, "I don't know why I did it."

Two teen-age boys found Charles' body beneath a rear stairway 600 feet from his home.

Police had searched for the tot after his father reported him missing at 11:30 last night.

Bortnyak was arrested in a round-up of known sex offenders, and police said he at first admitted abducting the boy but denied harming him. Police quoted him as saying he had taken the boy after a drinking spree.

Capt. Gill said Bortnyak, recently released from county jail after serving a one-year term for contributing to the delinquency of a minor, had made an oral statement that he took the boy from his bed as he sleft shortly before 11 o'clock last night.

The police captain quoted Bortnyak, a former neighbor of the Bradleys, as saying, after the child's body was found:

"I took him out of his bed and kept him with me for several hours. I left him under the porch but I didn't kill him. I didn't harm him in any way."

Bortnyak was held without charge.

Accused Minister Says Memory Hazy

SALISBURY, England, July 31. (AP)—A statement from a 36-year-old Church of England clergyman which was read at his arraignment for bigamy today, said he had no recollection of marrying attractive Joan Boddie, 29, but "I was satisfied I was the man who contracted this marriage."

Rev. Charles Henry Lamb pleaded that his "memory was hazy" from 1942—when he underwent a series of heavy bombings during service with the RAF in Malta—until 1946.

Miss Boddie, a former member of the Womens Auxiliary Air Force, said Lamb went through the form of marriage with her in 1944 and that they lived together "very happily" until 1946 when she found a letter addressed to him beginning, "My dear husband." She left him then, four months before her daughter was born.

The letter, it was brought out, was from Mrs. Dorothy Lamb, who Lamb married in 1941. They have a four-year-old son.

Lamb was held for trial in October and released on his own bonds of 50 pounds ($200).

Lamb's statement said that after undergoing heavy bombing in Malta, "I felt I was breaking up completely." He was recalled to Britain and posted to an RAF station in Lincolnshire.

Pastor To Refuse Church Salary, Work On Railroad

LANARK, Ill., July 31. (AP)—The 27-year-old pastor of the Christian Church in this town of 1,500 has advised his congregation he will henceforth refuse his church salary and support himself as a railroad section hand because of dwindling church attendance and financial support.

Rev. Harmon H. Bro, pastor of the church since last March, told his flock Sunday, "There are too many people in modern churches who think that the kingdom of God is just something you hire a preacher to worry about so the congregation can relax."

On Monday he began work as a section hand for the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad.

He told his congregation he would continue to serve the church without salary.

Martin Aircraft Asks NLRB To Delay Election

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP) — A petition from the Glenn L. Martin Company at Baltimore asking postponement of a National Labor Relations Board bargaining election at the plant has been filed with the NLRB.

The NLRB has scheduled the election for August 20.

Meanwhile, Rep. Meade (D-Md) asked Paul M. Herzog, NLRB chairman, to place the American Aircraft Workers Union on the ballot to be submitted to workers.

Proposed ballots would list only the CIO United Automobile, Aircraft and Agricultural Implement Workers Union and the International Association of Machinists.

Dr. Kraushaar will succeed Dr. David Allan Robertson, who will retire as president of the Baltimore institution for women in July, 1948.

Dr. Robertson will have completed 17 years as head of Goucher when he retires.

She was turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

He said "our action shows we have gone to the last resort in patience and tolerance to settle this problem" and cautioned delegates to move slowly in stepping into a case which was of "no concern" to the council.

"My government is going to invite a number of other governments to send representatives into Indonesia to report to the world their findings," he said. A Netherlands spokesman said later that details of this step now were being worked out in the Hague.

Van Kleffens said that the military action being taken—which he termed police action—"has the full backing of all political parties in Holland with the exception of the Communists."

Truman Names Murdock, Gray To Labor Board

Denham Designated As General Counsel

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP) — President Truman today appointed Abe Murdock and J. Copeland Gray to temporary posts as members of the enlarged National Labor Relations Board and designated Robert Denham as NLRB general counsel.

The three men will serve as recess apointees until Congress reconvenes in January.

They were nominated by Mr. Truman for the positions in the closing days of Congress but efforts to reach a Senate vote confirming them bogged down just before adjournment early Sunday. The nominations had been approved by the Senate Labor Committee.

Murdock is a former Democratic Senator from Utah. Gray is a Republican and industrial relations counselor from Buffalo, N. Y. Denham is a Missouri-born attorney now living in Washington.

Board Is Enlarged

The present labor relations board is enlarged from three to five members under the new Taft-Hartley labor law. Murdock and Gray will join Chairman Paul M. Herzog, John M. Houston and James J. Reynolds, Jr., the present members, in making up the new board.

Effective August 22 they will undertake the administration of the new law.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters that the three will be sworn in tomorrow, "after which the board will issue a statement."

President Truman today signed appropriation bills totalling $608,819,012, vetoed a bill for a commemorative Wisconsin half dollar, received the new Dutch ambassador and otherwise kept busy.

Passes Up New Conference

He passed up a news conference and arranged instead to meet newsmen and photographers in an off-the-record talk at the White House tomorrow at 10:30 a. m. EST.

But he found time to fix the open season and shooting limits on wild foul. The dates vary by states.

One of the appropriation bills carries $502,123,912 for non-military functions of the Army, chiefly flood control and navigation improvement work by the Army engineers. It is $117,803,188 less than Mr. Truman originally asked.

Man Blames Dream For Fatal Shooting

CARTHAGE, Ill., July 31 (AP)—A 66-year-old woman was shot to death last night in a Burlington Railroad passenger train coach and Sheriff Willard Steinbarger said her 62-year-old father told him he fired his pistol after he had a dream about train robbers.

Mrs. Elizabeth Grady, of Harvey, Ill., was shot through the chest while accompanying her parents, James J. Stuffelbean, and his wife, Kathryn, 72, back to their home at Brookfield, Mo., after they had visited Mr. and Mrs. Grady. Stuffelbean was carrying about $500 cash in his pocket, Steinbarger said.

Mrs. Grady was seated behind her parents in the coach, which was speeding between Plymouth and Augusta, in Hancock County, with the lights dimmed about 11:35 p. m.

The sheriff said the passengers heard a shot, then saw Mrs. Grady stagger down the aisle and fall. Steinbarger said Stuffelbean, removed from the train at Augusta, was questioned for several hours. He said Stuffelbean appeared dazed but finally told him this story:

"I was asleep. I dreamed about train robbers. I woke up, and I thought I saw someone trying to rob me. I pulled out my gun and shot at them."

Steinbarger said a .32 caliber pistol was found at Stuffelbean's feet.

The sheriff said he held Stuffelbean in the Hancock County jail overnight and was keeping him in custody, without charge, pending a coroner's inquest.

yet," was said to believe that the Stern Gang, Irgun's rival in Zionist violence, "may try to kidnap other British soldiers."

Prior to the soldiers' gunfire raid in Tel Aviv, five British soldiers stopped their jeep on a street of the Jewish city and began attacking Jews with sticks and stones. The streets quickly were emptied of pedestrian and motor traffic. Business establishments closed their doors and public transportation ground to a halt.

A Tel Aviv cafe was shot up and windows in buildings along the length of one street were smashed. Armored cars were the only vehicles in sight.

The bells of Bethlehem, birthplace of Christ and the traditional cradle of peace and good will, were ordered by the town's Arab mayor to ring a requiem tonight for Sgt. Martin and Sgt. Paice.

The Arab population of Palestine mourned the soldiers and one of its spokesmen, Dr. Hussein Fakri Khalidi, declared that "even in the darkest days of the Arab revolt of 1936 never did such an act darken civilization's record in this part of the world."

LONDON, July 31 (AP) — Britain's Colonial Secretary called the execution of two British army sergeants by Palestine's Jewish underground a "cold-blooded and dastardly murder" today. Another government source hinted at stern new measures to quell violence in the Holy Land.

Simultaneously, the government informant said the government would send the 4,500 Jewish refugees of the Exodus 1947 expedition to the British zone of Germany and later possibly to Africa if they persisted in refusing to land at Port De Bouc, France.

Crying "horror and revulsion," Colonial Secretary Arthur Creech Jones announced the Irgun Zvai Leumi executions of Sergeants Mervyn Paice and Clifford Martin to the House of Commons. Both Conservative and Labor members cheered when he declared the government would do all in its power to bring "the authors and conspirers" of the executions to justice.

Judge Rejects Plea For Murder Warrants In Fatal Jail Scuffle

SALISBURY, Md., July 31 (AP)—A public hearing without legal precedent developed in People's Court here today into the fight at the Wicomico County jail Saturday night which preceded the death of a man who had been arested on a drunken driving charge.

Attorneys retained by the widow of 31-year-old Milton H. Jones, automobile dealer and truck line operator, asked that first degree murder warrants be sworn out against two peace officers involved in a fight with Jones.

Judge Carl L. Walter refused their plea and set a preliminary hearing tomorrow on manslaughter charges already filed against John J. Harbaugh, 29-year-old Maryland state trooper, and John W. Turner, 62-year-old one-armed night jailer.

State's Attorney Rex A. Taylor said "a hearing of this sort has never been held before in the State of Maryland, but we don't object."

The unofficial proceedings before Judge Walter developed into a series of exchanges between the State's Attorney and counsel employed by the Jones family, with assertions that the state's investigation was a "white wash."

Judge Walter yesterday issued manslaughter warrants against Harbaugh and Turner on the basis of information provided by State's Attorney Taylor.

Taylor said he had learned that Harbaugh had ample grounds for arresting Jones on the drunken driving charge about a mile out of town Saturday night.

He asserted that how Jones was treated and what happened at the jail is something for a jury to consider.

1,000 Army Mules To Be Sent Greeks

FORT RENO, Okla., July 31 (AP)—If the Greeks can find a word for 1,000 items of "relief" being readied for them here, it may look like this:

"£$-£&?/"

The items of "relief" are United States Army mules—hundreds of them!

They are going to the Greeks as part of a $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid program approved by Congress.

"The word for these "£$-£&?/" mules is the same in any language," said GI Roy Wallace, of Cameron, N. C., the first casualty of the readying program.

"See what I mean," he emphasized, indicating bandages which covered his right side from his neck clear down to his waist.

"I was in a corral minding my own business when a truck unloaded some gravel and the mules stampeded.

"One jumped me from behind—and look at me."

Col. Morris M. L'Abbe, a mule-wise veteran who commands Fort Reno, took a more philosophic view of his four-legged charges.

"They're a fine bunch of mules," he grinned.

"We bought them in response to an order from the War Department for 1,000 mules for the Greeks.

"Now we are gentling them—" and here the colonel paused to watch a jittery mule jump around like a rodeo bronc, dragging three hapless GIs with him, and then continued:

"Of course they are a little skittish right now—they have been shot for anthrax, branded and otherwise processed and they eye the men with a little suspicion.

"But we'll make GI mules out of them—teach them to carry packs of various types, both led and free, and all the other things an Army mule should know."

which the Democratic success depends upon retaining in the Democratic Party the radical and Communist votes of the largest northern cities. The people can never expect a Democratic President to take any other position.

"The President clearly believes in the New Deal doctrine of spending, spending, spending. He has shown not the slightest interest in one cent of economy, he believes in taxing, taxing, taxing, now and as far ahead as we can see. He insists upon a health plan which will socialize our entire medical profession and make every doctor an employe of the federal government.

"He has favored every step toward centralization of power in federal bureaus, or in federal valley authorities, as against the power of independent states, cities and schools. He has appointed to office those who believe in control by government. He has violently opposed every effort to bring about labor reform."

Taft said while the presidency remains in Democratic hands, a Republican Congress "is faced with the job of undoing, step by step, the more serious abuses of the New Deal, and in every step it faces a veto by the President.

History Of Paper Making Outlined

Paper was made in some form as early as 2400 BC, Gerald Bishop, associate research director of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company at Luke, told members of the Kiwanis Club yesterday in an address on "Paper". He added that a Chinese man was the first to make real paper and that during a battle the Moors captured some Chinese paper makers and they started making paper in Bagdad in 790.

In 1150 A. D. paper was made in Spain and then in Italy, France, Germany and England. The first paper mill in the United States was established in Philadelphia in 1690. Bishop declared by a man by the name of Rittenhouse. The first paper machine was made in England in 1800.

"It takes a lot of materials to make a ton of paper" Bishop declared, and among the things which are used to make a ton of paper were the following: 4,500 pounds of wood, 40,000 pounds of cooal, 400,000 pounds of water, 250 pounds of salt and 100 pounds of soda ash.

Speaking of the by-products from paper making, Bishop listed a number, including resin, turpentine, soap, carbon, etc. He said the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company sells carbon to more than 1,000 cities for purification of water adding that one railroad car of carbon is shipped from Luke to Chicago daily where it is used to purify water.

Eaton Says U. S. Must Block Reds Or Employ Force

Sure Soviet Doesn't Have Atom Bomb Yet

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP) — Rep. Charles A. Eaton (R-N.J.), chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, declared today that the United States must warn Russia to stop her "world conquest" attempts or face ostracism from the United Nations and possibly war.

"I think we can still block Russia with psychology; if we don't, we must defeat her by force of arms," Eaton wrote in American Magazine. "It is time we told her so."

He said Russia has "shown very clearly" that "she intends to take Europe, then the world." He added that whatever changes might have been made for outward appearances "she hasn't changed her tune. I mean the tune of world conquest."

"We can put Russia in her place now without resorting to force," Eaton continued. "We can stop her by asserting our leadership of the other members of the Big Five group and of the smaller nations who aspire to our democratic ideals.

"If she doesn't give in and behave like a civilized nation, we must read Russia out of the United Nations and proceed without her . . . If we don't stop her now, there may come a time when we may have to keep her out by force of arms.

"It may be a hard job then, because she may have us outclassed in numbers and weapons. But we still have the atomic bomb, and I am sure that Russia has not, at least as yet. . . .

"Once kicked out of decent society, Russia must either seek to retain good standing or be disciplined by the military action of the union of decent nations. I am sure Russian leaders have learned from Germany's two unhappy experiments . . . That it is not an easy job to lick the world."

"Letter Of Intent" Contract

1. Ferguson produced a "letter of intent" contract under which Hughes is building a huge flying boat. This, the Senator said, makes it clear that the government cannot take over the plane for four years after it first flies unless it pays Hughes an addtional $2,000,000. The 200-ton flying boat already has cost the government $18,265,970, and a former government engineer testified the final figure—exclusive of any new $2,000,000 item—will run about $21,115,970.

3. H. Robert Edwards, former supervising engineer for the Defense Plant Corporation declared that in 1944 the Hughes management disregarded his order to stop work on the flying boat after the contract had been ordered cancelled. It later was reinstated.

Ferguson read into the record a DPC letter of intent which he said gives Hughes the right to lease the big flying boat when it is completed.

Ferguson said the letter constitutes a valid contract under which Hughes would have use of the plane by paying $37,500 a month rental, as well as $50 for every flight hour and $6.25 for every hour the engines operate.

Sex Criminal Confesses Strangling Chicago Tot

CHICAGO, July 31 (AP) — The body of a three and one-half year old boy was found in a West Side areaway today, and Police Capt. Frank Gill said a known sex criminal had admitted taking the child from his bed last night and strangling him.

Capt. Gill quoted Joseph Bortnyak, 27, as stating orally that he had strangled Charles Bradley, 3½, and saying, "I don't know why I did it."

Two teen-age boys found Charles' body beneath a rear stairway 600 feet from his home.

Police had searched for the tot after his father reported him missing at 11:30 last night.

Bortnyak was arrested in a round-up of known sex offenders, and police said he at first admitted abducting the boy but denied harming him. Police quoted him as saying he had taken the boy after a drinking spree.

Capt. Gill said Bortnyak, recently released from county jail after serving a one-year term for contributing to the delinquency of a minor, had made an oral statement that he took the boy from his bed as he sleft shortly before 11 o'clock last night.

The police captain quoted Bortnyak, a former neighbor of the Bradleys, as saying, after the child's body was found:

"I took him out of his bed and kept him with me for several hours. I left him under the porch but I didn't kill him. I didn't harm him in any way."

Bortnyak was held without charge.

Accused Minister Says Memory Hazy

SALISBURY, England, July 31. (AP)—A statement from a 36-year-old Church of England clergyman which was read at his arraignment for bigamy today, said he had no recollection of marrying attractive Joan Boddie, 29, but "I was satisfied I was the man who contracted this marriage."

Rev. Charles Henry Lamb pleaded that his "memory was hazy" from 1942—when he underwent a series of heavy bombings during service with the RAF in Malta—until 1946.

Miss Boddie, a former member of the Womens Auxiliary Air Force, said Lamb went through the form of marriage with her in 1944 and that they lived together "very happily" until 1946 when she found a letter addressed to him beginning, "My dear husband." She left him then, four months before her daughter was born.

The letter, it was brought out, was from Mrs. Dorothy Lamb, who Lamb married in 1941. They have a four-year-old son.

Lamb was held for trial in October and released on his own bonds of 50 pounds ($200).

Lamb's statement said that after undergoing heavy bombing in Malta, "I felt I was breaking up completely." He was recalled to Britain and posted to an RAF station in Lincolnshire.

Pastor To Refuse Church Salary, Work On Railroad

LANARK, Ill., July 31. (AP)—The 27-year-old pastor of the Christian Church in this town of 1,500 has advised his congregation he will henceforth refuse his church salary and support himself as a railroad section hand because of dwindling church attendance and financial support.

Rev. Harmon H. Bro, pastor of the church since last March, told his flock Sunday, "There are too many people in modern churches who think that the kingdom of God is just something you hire a preacher to worry about so the congregation can relax."

On Monday he began work as a section hand for the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad.

He told his congregation he would continue to serve the church without salary.

Martin Aircraft Asks NLRB To Delay Election

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP) — A petition from the Glenn L. Martin Company at Baltimore asking postponement of a National Labor Relations Board bargaining election at the plant has been filed with the NLRB.

The NLRB has scheduled the election for August 20.

Meanwhile, Rep. Meade (D-Md) asked Paul M. Herzog, NLRB chairman, to place the American Aircraft Workers Union on the ballot to be submitted to workers.

Proposed ballots would list only the CIO United Automobile, Aircraft and Agricultural Implement Workers Union and the International Association of Machinists.

Dr. Kraushaar will succeed Dr. David Allan Robertson, who will retire as president of the Baltimore institution for women in July, 1948.

"She grabbed for her purse when she saw them coming," Maddux said, "but they thought the gun was in there and jerked it away from her. Then she didn't offer any resistance."

She was turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

He said "our action shows we have gone to the last resort in patience and tolerance to settle this problem" and cautioned delegates to move slowly in stepping into a case which was of "no concern" to the council.

"My government is going to invite a number of other governments to send representatives into Indonesia to report to the world their findings," he said. A Netherlands spokesman said later that details of this step now were being worked out in the Hague.

Van Kleffens said that the military action being taken—which he termed police action—"has the full backing of all political parties in Holland with the exception of the Communists."

City's Traffic Problem Becoming More Acute Daily

A much needed survey of the traffic problem in Cumberland has been proposed by Acting Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn. It is a Herculean task he is launching, but with the cooperation of those groups he seeks, and under the systematic plan he has in mind for this study, results should be had.

The narrowness of our downtown streets has always proved a handicap to other heads of our police department when efforts have been made to relieve the congestion, and while they succeeded in speeding up, somewhat, the movement of traffic through the city, there remains much to be desired.

One way streets have helped to some extent, but the parking privileges have tended to defeat the aims of those seeking corrections of our difficulties. To our mind, the matter of parking should be included in the traffic survey, and probably will be, because if that could be solved through the establishing of parking areas by the city, thus keeping all downtown streets open to moving traffic, tieups would be eliminated except when railroad crossings, our greatest bottleneck, are blocked.

There is no disputing the fact that Cumberland's traffic conditions are growing more acute day by day and probably until parking is forbidden on our major thoroughfares to permit extended three lanes of traffic to move in one direction on Center, Mechanic, Liberty and George Streets, Chief Flynn will probably find the survey he is about to launch studded with many headaches.

We are of the opinion that if a solution to the parking problem is found through, say, the establishment of parking areas, under control of the city government, and leased to operators on a yearly rental basis, the traffic difficulties might quickly dissolve.

While we cannot hope to provide such extensive parking facilities as planned in larger cities such as New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Boston, Toledo, to name a few, ways should be found, which would be not too expensive, to correct this condition.

Take New York, for instance. It has a plan to spend $25,000,000 on city-operated parking lots and garages. Philadelphia City Council already has approved $2,000,000 on underground parking lots, while Cleveland is negotiating for further land to be used as free municipal parking areas, and a survey committee has recommended the creation of an agency to buy and lease parking facilities.

Boston and Toledo are considering the purchase of a number of sites for municipal parking lots. In Minneapolis, San Francisco and Los Angeles, big municipal parking programs are being urged. Madison, Wisconsin, is preparing to spend $400,000 through a board of parking commissioners. And 345 American cities already have municipal parking facilities of one kind or another.

So, Cumberland is far from being the only city facing a traffic and parking problem, but it might consider the possibility of turning toward municipal control of parking as a solution. It will be noted, that while some other cities are considering over-all control agencies, most seem to be planning municipal parking facilities as mere additions to present facilities.

And we believe, it will go a long way in clearing up our traffic snarls.

America's Economy In Contrast To Soviet Russia

With the cost of living at a perhaps unprecedented high, adjustment to the problem of making ends meet is correspondingly difficult. At the same time, under the American free enterprise system, the difficulties are to a considerable extent being met. The situation of the American people, however, affected by economic strain, compares favorably with that of any nation on earth.

Today, employment is at an all-time high, average weekly wages are estimated to be the highest on record, individual savings are only slightly under the wartime high, production is in prospect of exceeding that of the most active year of the war effort, and dollar volume of retail sales is considerably ahead of last year.

Certain Americans, however, appear to be sold on the totalitarian system of Communist Russia. It is interesting, therefore, to note Labor Department statistics to the effect that while the Russian wage earner has had a 25 per cent pay boost, his rationed foods are up 166 per cent. Even so, he still must struggle along under rationing while politically favored classes are enabled to live on such fat of the land as Russia boasts.

Considering the contrast between the American way of life and the rigorous scale of living in Russia, it is apparent that those who find so much fault with conditions in this country as compared with those in the Soviet Union must be willfully ignorant of practical facts or politically prejudiced beyond reason.

Insofar as they are sold economically on the Soviet totalitarian system, they evidently are the dupes of Russian propagandists, willing to exchange their American heritage for bricks—not gold but just plain Red.

Hail And Farewell

Dean Acheson is leaving his post as undersecretary of state without regret although he has a long record of public service. First and foremost, he needs the money which he is expected to get readily from his thriving law firm. In addition, he is happy to get away from the blows and torments of criticism which anyone in public office gets.

In what appears to have been his valedictory speech recently, he amused his audience with a story illustrating his feelings on being a public servant. The story originally was told by Acheson's Capitol Hill friend, Democratic Senate Leader Alben Barkley of Kentucky. It goes:

A farmer used to take his dog to town every Saturday afternoon and invariably the urchins on the street would tie tin cans to the dog's tail. After this had gone on for some time and the puppy had matured into houndhood, whenever he saw an empty tin can he would back up.

Actually, Acheson has received less criticism than most State Department officials of his rank do. His motives have never been questioned and his judgment seldom criticized.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

DIET OF THE AGED

MOST elderly persons eat what custom and tradition dictate. Medical science has little more to offer inasmuch as no one has answered satisfactorily the question of what they should take. On the other hand, physicians can help to overcome the numerous fears and prejudices which have no scientific basis and often rob our elders of essential nourishment and enjoyment.

The majority of individuals between 60 and 80 can consume as much as those 10 to 20 years their junior. The specific caloric requirements vary according to weight, height, and activity. If most of the time is spent in resting, less food is demanded; as in all age groups, women usually need less than men.

Quality is as important as quantity. Here, too, there are many fads and fancies which must be overthrown. Most oldsters prefer carbohydrates because they are softer and sweeter. This is particularly true when the teeth have been lost or poorly fitted dentures are worn. Tests have revealed the presence of ferments required to digest this type of edible; consequently there is no reason why starches cannot be ingested. Furthermore, an adequate intake of sugars and starches in the aged has never been shown to increase the danger of diabetes. Should the disease occur later in life, it was probably in the cards.

Proteins are essential in spite of the fact that the stomach secretes less acid and pepsin. Meats and eggs may be denied by the family because they are thought to damage the kidneys and produce high blood pressure. On the contrary, the mature individual can take as much as any one half his age. But fats should be used in moderation, as they are more difficult to digest. Animal experiments have revealed that they tend to encourage hardening of the arteries, but this has never been proved in human beings.

Vitamins are necessary. B is especially recommended because of the greater intake of carbohydrates. Symptoms of senility may be decreased when deficiencies, incident to poor eating habits are corrected These include dryness of the skin, loss of hair, tremors, puffiness, sore tongue, and diarrhea. Calcium and phosphorous should not be neglected and milk and cheese are high in such minerals.

"What will be feed grandma?" is a question likely to be asked by a daughter or son of an undernourished and weak old lady. Supplying regular meals or vitamins does not always improve the situation. There may be hidden emotional or psychic factors that disturb not only the nervous make-up, but digestion. Grief for loved ones is commonly observed as well as a feeling of insecurity and dependency. Others are maladjusted to living with their children or in an institution.

The following sensible daily regimen has been suggested by Sebrell: "One pint of milk or its equivalent [cream soups, puddings, milk toast, and cheese]; 1 serving orange, grapefruit, tomato or other juices; 1 serving green, or yellow vegetables; 1 serving potatoes or other vegetable or fruit; 1 serving whole grain cereal; 1 egg [or 3 to 4 per week]; and 1 serving meat, poultry, seafood, or other high protein food."

All bread and flour should be of the whole grain type or enriched; butter, oleomargarine with vitamin A, peanut butter, or other vitamin rich fats are indicated. Tea, coffee, alcoholic beverages, and tobacco in moderaton are permitted if the old-timer is used to them. In fact, the less the eating habits are disturbed, the better.

DISTORTED TASTE

Mrs. E. writes: Can you explain a bitter taste in the mouth that comes and goes?

REPLY

Perversions of the sense of taste are usually present in digestive upsets, fever, pregnancy, or following the excessive use of condiments. Emotional disturbances will sometimes play a part.

NO EFFECT

G. E. writes: Will clipping the hair very short give it new life?

REPLY

No more than cutting the grass or bushes will help vegetation. The hair grows from its roots and the stimulus must start there.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

The tourist trade is finally getting a break. New houses are shooting up everywhere you look these days. It's wonderful to be able to relieve the housing shortage, but there's one drawback to these mushrooming dwellings—they all look alike. The only ones able to find your house without any trouble are the termites.

My brother just moved into one of these housing developments. He's third from the left in a row of sixteen little frame cottages. It seems the builder had a cement mixer and some carbon paper.

The sixteen houses are alike in every detail. When a couple was expecting a baby, the stork circled the block three days looking for the right house, and then had a nervous breakdown.

Just to give you an idea of how confused these people are, one guy painted his house a different color so he could recognize his from the rest. When he finished the job his neighbor thanked him and threw him out. It was the wrong house again.

One guy tried to be different and was thrown off the block for it. He went and paid his mortgage.

The only way to find your house is to come home drunk. My brother tried everything to distinguish between his and the other fifteen houses. He kept coming home and kissing his neighbor's wife. That was the excuse he gave, anyway, as they took him off to the hospital.

DEVELOPING A CASE OF OVERCONFIDENCE

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Now that the U. S. Senate has heard the last rap of the gavel and gone home, it is appropriate to let the voters who elected them know something about how their new Senators stacked up in the arena of Washington. This session saw the largest crop of new Senators in years, including seven who previously served as Governors. They were men of broad experience of whom much could be expected.

Out of the entire crop, however, only four achieved an A-1 rating: Ives of New York and Flanders of Vermont, Republicans; with Sparkman of Alabama and McGrath of Rhode Island, Democrats. All were a credit to their states and justified the confidence of the voters.

On the other hand, four freshman Senators rate in the dunce-cap class: O'Conor of Maryland, Democrat, with McCarthy of Wisconsin, Bricker of Ohio, and Jenner of Indiana, Republicans. In some respects, Bricker, McCarthy, and Jenner were no worse than two or three of their freshman colleagues, except for one thing—their constant babble of braggadocio brought them more public attention.

Senatorial Box-Score

Zales Ecton, Montana Republican—hearty, amiable, country-bred, agrees that you can take the boy out of the farm, but that you can't take the farm out of the boy. His ruddy face and bulky frame would look more at home alongside a cow or behind a tractor. Shy and timid about Washington, Ecton never pretended to be anything but a party hack—which he is. Class D rating.

Arthur Watkins, Utah Republican—was a little-known, small-town lawyer never taken seriously until the 1946 Republican landslide suddenly swept him into the Senate. He is frank, honest, garrulous in private, but on the Senate floor sits meekly at his desk behaving like a good but very timid Republican. No one can question his sincerity, but no one can rate him high on ability. A class D Senator.

George Malone, Nevada Republican—a former consulting engineer, works hard, does more listening than talking, is not afraid to buck GOP leadership when he thinks they're wrong, has turned out to be a slightly better-than-average freshman Senator. Class C rating.

William B. Umstead, North Carolina Democrat—an expert on parliamentary procedure, and a conscientious conservative, Umstead seemed to be right at home among the mediocrities surrounding him. A class C-minus Senator.

William E. Jenner, Indiana Republican—a man of convictions—those of the senior Senator from Indiana, Homer Capehart, whom Jenner follows religiously. Never did he deviate from Capehart. Never did he indicate that he had a mind of his own. A great grandstander and breast-beater, Jenner talked big about aiding veterans, but nearly always could be found voting against them. Class E rating.

Raymond Baldwin, Connecticut Republican—a man of intense personal drive, rates next to Ives and Flanders among the abler of GOP freshmen. A moderate independent, Baldwin voted against the wool-grab bill, opposed Taft isolation, let no grass grow under his feet. Class B.

Joseph McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican—came to the Senate with more publicity build-up than any colleague, but fizzled faster. Worked hard for Pepsi-Cola sugar decontrol, preached aid to veterans, but consistently voted with the real-estate lobby against them, talked more and did less constructive work than any other new Congressman except Bricker. Class E rating.

John Bricker, Ohio Republican—former Governor of Ohio and GOP candidate for Vice-President, big things were expected of Bricker but his Ohio colleague, Bob Taft, put him well in the shade. Bricker made his Washington debut with a grid-iron speech which struck a universally sour note, and he kept sounding sour notes during most of the session. He worked more for his Ohio banking friend, John Galbreath, and the real estate lobby than for the veterans. One real-estate lobby even gloated over the fact Bricker introduced four bills for them. Class E.

Edward J. Thye, Minnesota Republican—ex-Governor of his state, quiet, sincere, unassuming, can be a strong battler for issues that interest him, one of the better members of the new Senate crop. Class B.

Henry Dworshak, Idaho Republican—after an undistinguished career in the House, Dworshak rode the GOP landslide into the Senate where he has been equally undisplace in the Senate. Class D rating. Senator.

Edward Martin, Pennsylvania Republican—former Governor of Pennsylvania, given to haranguing on the Senate floor, Martin may have been a good major general but in the Senate he adds nothing to the prestige of the Nation's second most powerful state.

John J. Williams, Delaware Republican—a grain dealer and turkey raiser, who pretends to be an expert statesman, Williams is out of place in the Senate. Class R rating.

Herbert O'Conor, Maryland Democrat—a former Governor, O'Conor's experience should have rated him among the top Senate freshmen. Instead, his groveling before the Republicans who are probing his election has lost him the respect of both Republicans and Democrats. He has bowed and bootlicked so much that no one knows what his politics and position are—perhaps not even O'Conor himself. He is going no place—unless it is back to Maryland. A class E-minus Senator.

Spessard Holland, Florida Democrat—a slow starter, who began to sparkle toward the end of the session. Prior to that, few people realized he was in Washington. A C Senator.

Willis Robertson, Virginia Democrat—his presence in the Senate merely means that Senator Harry Byrd now has two votes instead of one. And much of the time those two votes are cast on the Republican side.

John S. Cooper, Kentucky Republican—a rugged independent, Cooper might make a real name for himself if he had more personal drive. A B-minus Senator.

Except for top-rating Ives, Flanders, Sparkman and McGrath, already discussed many times in this column, this is the Merry-Go-Round box-score on new members of the 80th Senate.

Question Of Whether We Are Better Off Than In '29 Raised

By SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL

In his recent economic report, President Truman says that Americans are richer than ever before in peacetime history; that we must adjust our minds to the fact that "we are living in a $225,000,000,000 economy." Also, that we can place our production and employment on a "firm foundation of enduring prosperity and peace."

This sounds like the new "permanent plateau" of prosperity we were told about in the 1920's. Presidential utterances, such as the "Atlantic Charter," etc., always contain ballyhoo. Probably we will never see the end of this until we adopt the "no third-term" amendment, and have a President who is serving his second—and last—term in office. Probably not then.

The report frankly recognizes that there are some discounts to this optimism. But to balance off the bitter and the sweet, one should read an article by L. C. Walker, in "American Affairs," a magazine without soothing syrup, published by the National Industrial Conference Board. This article raises the question whether we are in fact as well off as we were in 1929 before the big crash. In 1929, "you could buy anything you wanted.' You can't do that today—whether it is a house, an automobile, steel, etc. Only the other day, General Motors laid men off because of a shortage of steel.

Statistical Mirage To Measure $s

It is a statistical mirage to measure dollar income today against dollar income in 1929. This is like measuring anything wtih a rubber yardstick. In 1929, you bought a house dress for $1.98; today, it costs you $5.95, up 200 per cent. A wash cloth which cost 10c in 1929 sells for 19c today, up 90 per cent. An automobile which sold for $900 in 1929 today costs $1600—if you can get it.

So, when Mr. Truman tells us to adjust our minds to a $225,000,000,000 economy, he should also tell us to adjust our minds to the fact that these dollars have been rapidly losing value—due, chiefly, to the policies of the same government that brags about them.

While more men are employed today than ever before, the real question is whether they are producing more goods per man than in 1929. If not, the soothing syrup will turn sour. For you can't eat dollars. Midas starved when everything he touched turned to gold.

It is a serious question whether our gains in technology since 1929 have not been cancelled off by lower output per man. An automobile manufacturer reports that it now takes 120 man hours to produce a car as against 84 man hours before the war.

As off-sets to Mr. Truman's "unprecedented prosperity," consider the following:

1. We are exporting $12,000,000,000 more goods than we are importing. Will we ever receive anything for this petroleum, coal, copper, etc., that is leaving America forever? If not, our exports are making us poor, and not rich.

Tax Take Enormous

2. The tax "take" of the federal government, per person, is 849 per cent greater than in 1929.

3. As dollars lose value, all holders of life insurance, pensions, social security, and government bonds pay an invisible tax that runs into the billions, through the loss of their savings.

4. We have 2,000,000 in the armed forces not producing goods, but consuming them, as against 200,000 in 1929.

5. In the other government departments, we have over 2,000,000 as against 550,000 in 1929.

6. Hours of productive work are going down to 40 or 35 hours per week. Longer vacations. More holidays. More pay for less work. In the last six years, wages per unit of goods have gone up 73%, but the goods produced per man hour have gone down!

7. A national debt of $258,000,000,000 as against $17,000,000,000 in 1929.

Mr. Walker, in his article, concludes that it is "done with mirrors"; that we are not in fact producing per person, and keeping in America real wealth (not dollars) to equal the standard of living we had in 1929.

Has Congress Power To Regulate Sale Of Intoxicating Beverages?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, July 31. — Has congress any power to regulate the sale of intoxicating beverages?

This question arises because a sub-committee of the Senate commerce committee has just recommended that the Federal Trade Commission be empowered to declare "misleading" certain advertisements being used by liquor dealers if those advertisements or broadcasts suggest that the use of liquor will promote health or social standing or describe its use as in accordance with American tradition or family customs.

Apparently the Senators who are advocating such legislation are not aware of the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, in an opinion rendered by Justice Brandeis on November 9, 1936, which held in effect that the so-called commerce clause of the Constitution no longer applied to the liquor traffic and that the only source of federal power today is the Twenty-First Amendment.

This decision aroused considerable comment at the time because it was so wide-sweeping. The case involved the imposition of an import fee by the state of California on the sale of beer in that state by dealers outside the state—a fee not imposed on dealers inside the state. The court said this would plainly have been unconstitutional under the commerce clause but that the Twenty-First Amendment superseded that clause.

Many people have believed that when the Eighteenth Amendment was repealed, the situation reverted to that which existed prior to its adoption and that federal power over the transportation of intoxicating liquors is now much the same as it was before, namely a simple exercise of the right to regulate commerce and to prohibit or to regulate the flow of any article of commerce.

Rights of States Supreme

Actually, however, the rights of the states on liquor trade have been declared supreme by the Twenty-First Amendment. They can set up monopolies inside their states and make any regulations they wish with respect to the liquor traffic and be untouched by the federal power. Thus as many of the states today have their own stores and their own system of advertising and sale and distribution, it would appear that the federal government cannot by any legislation interfere with or curtail such sale. Indeed, the power of Congress to regulate the manufacture and sale of intoxicating beverages which was specifically granted to the federal government by the people when they ratified the Eighteenth Amendment was specifically taken back by the people in the first section of the Twenty-First Amendment.

The Twenty-First Amendment says:

"The transportation or importation into any state, territory, or possession of the United States for delivery or use therein of intoxicating liquors, in violation of the laws thereof, is hereby prohibited."

The sole federal power, therefore, it is contended, relates to such assistance as the states may require in keeping out of their jurisdiction products which they do not want. There is no corresponding power of Congress to keep out of these states the products they do want and do sell.

The effort to curtail sales of intoxicating beverages by enacting legislation dealing with "misleading" advertisements implies that Congress, under the power to regulate commerce, can also regulate advertisements that sell goods in interstate commerce. This might well be true of any other classification of products except those specifically dealt with by a particular article of the constitution.

Amendments Do Not Conflict

Thus, in the so-called "Young's market" case in 1936, the contention of one party was that the rules of the Twenty-First Amendment did not apply because they ran counter to the Fourteenth Amendment, which forbids discrimination as between businesses and which declares that all businesses have "equal protection" under the law. Justice Brandeis, however, in handing down the decision, wrote that "a classification recognized by the Twenty-First Amendment cannot be deemed forbidden by the Fourteenth."

Hence, since the power granted to the states to handle the liquor traffic is absolute, it will be contended that neither the pure food laws nor the Federal Trade Commission Act, which are derived from the commerce-clause powers, can supersede the powers of the states granted to them by the Twenty-First Amendment.

There seems to be only one constitutional way by which the liquor traffic, whether in sales or manufacture, can be regulated and that is by adoption of a substitute for or amendment of the Twenty-First Amendment to the constitution.

THESE DAYS By George E. Sokolsky

TIME TO KNOW

THE RIGHT of Congress to inform itself by investigation cannot be questioned, for legislation would be impossible unless the legislative body possessed the means of informing itself directly on the subjects before it. This function of the Congress is as important as the actual passage of laws. Without it, the Congress would be completely dependent upon the executive for data and guidance. It would, indeed, become a rubber-stamp Congress—a mere institution of ratification.

Various committees of Congress are now engaged in such investigations. It is a curiosity of the liberal mind that whereas so-called liberals favored similar Congressional activities when conducted by Hugo Black, Robert La Follette, Jr. and others who served their purposes, they now express chagrin and almost horror that the process continues but under different management. They are particularly annoyed that the name, Roosevelt, appears in unfavorable headlines so often.

Some investigations raise old issues, as, for instance, the conduct of the war. This war was profligately conducted. Although on the diplomatic side, there is ample evidence that we had been moving toward war since 1937, and although it was obvious after September 1, 1939, that we might become involved, Pearl Harbor found this country unprepared and undefended. It was necessary to move rapidly after December 7. It was necessary to place the entire nation on a war footing. That cost money. It involved waste.

Congress needs to review everything that has occurred in relationship to the war so that from that experience it may have guidance for the future. If in the course of such studies, corruption, graft, trickery are uncovered, it is incidental to the task of understanding how the people's money was spent and how their welfare is to be safeguarded. If perchance some humor creep into this very serious business, no one need complain. Americans cannot help laughing when a fat man slips on a banana peel.

Crooks always take advantage of war situations. And Congressional Committees will discover some of them. Whether they will be prosecuted or adequately punished is not the function of Congress but of the Attorney General and the Courts. It is, however, a legitimate Congressional function to get at the truth. For instance, it would seem as necessary to investigate UNRRA, AMB, and the military administration in Germany as the activities of Howard Hughes and Henry Kaiser. Sometimes such an investigation is courted by the investigated: it establishes a favorable record and safeguards the individual's reputation from slander and calumny. Sometimes such investigations produce precisely the changes in policy which the man on the spot has long advocated. Not all investigations produce unfavorable data.

It is essential that the functioning of the State Department since 1933 be investigated. It is doubtful whether that can be done until a Republican President makes available documents which are now withheld. It is not merely a matter of policy but the conduct of policy.

Who has been Secretary of State since the fiasco of the London Economic Conference of 1933? The names are Hull, Stettinius, Byrnes and Marshall; the actuality is that the President has used the Department of State as a secret arm of his private office. The American people, in spite of press and radio, are a poorly informed people. They have not known since 1933 what has been done to their country in relationship to other countries; they have known little about how it was done and who did it.

The Marshall Plan is a case in point. It is constantly being referred to as the Marshall Plan. But what is the Marshall Plan? Can you describe it? Can your Senator with any precision? Can your Congressman? Can the editor of the newspaper you read? Can I or any other columnist?

The answer is, No! The Marshall Plan is secret diplomacy. It is some kind of a deal to give American money to European countries. How much? How? When? On what conditions? That is what a Congressional Investigating Committee ought to find out for us.

Practically every proposition, from the decisions at the London Economic Conference, through Lend-Lease, Teheran, Yalta, Potsdam and other conferences, has been handled in the blackest secrecy. It is time to know.

City's Traffic Problem Becoming More Acute Daily

A much needed survey of the traffic problem in Cumberland has been proposed by Acting Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn. It is a Herculean task he is launching, but with the cooperation of those groups he seeks, and under the systematic plan he has in mind for this study, results should be had.

The narrowness of our downtown streets has always proved a handicap to other heads of our police department when efforts have been made to relieve the congestion, and while they succeeded in speeding up, somewhat, the movement of traffic through the city, there remains much to be desired.

One way streets have helped to some extent, but the parking privileges have tended to defeat the aims of those seeking corrections of our difficulties. To our mind, the matter of parking should be included in the traffic survey, and probably will be, because if that could be solved through the establishing of parking areas by the city, thus keeping all downtown streets open to moving traffic, tieups would be eliminated except when railroad crossings, our greatest bottleneck, are blocked.

There is no disputing the fact that Cumberland's traffic conditions are growing more acute day by day and probably until parking is forbidden on our major thoroughfares to permit extended three lanes of traffic to move in one direction on Center, Mechanic, Liberty and George Streets, Chief Flynn will probably find the survey he is about to launch studded with many headaches.

We are of the opinion that if a solution to the parking problem is found through, say, the establishment of parking areas, under control of the city government, and leased to operators on a yearly rental basis, the traffic difficulties might quickly dissolve.

While we cannot hope to provide such extensive parking facilities as planned in larger cities such as New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Boston, Toledo, to name a few, ways should be found, which would be not too expensive, to correct this condition.

Take New York, for instance. It has a plan to spend $25,000,000 on city-operated parking lots and garages. Philadelphia City Council already has approved $2,000,000 on underground parking lots, while Cleveland is negotiating for further land to be used as free municipal parking areas, and a survey committee has recommended the creation of an agency to buy and lease parking facilities.

Boston and Toledo are considering the purchase of a number of sites for municipal parking lots. In Minneapolis, San Francisco and Los Angeles, big municipal parking programs are being urged. Madison, Wisconsin, is preparing to spend $400,000 through a board of parking commissioners. And 345 American cities already have municipal parking facilities of one kind or another.

So, Cumberland is far from being the only city facing a traffic and parking problem, but it might consider the possibility of turning toward municipal control of parking as a solution. It will be noted, that while some other cities are considering over-all control agencies, most seem to be planning municipal parking facilities as mere additions to present facilities.

And, we believe, it will go a long way in clearing up our traffic snarls.

America's Economy In Contrast To Soviet Russia

With the cost of living at a perhaps unprecedented high, adjustment to the problem of making ends meet is correspondingly difficult. At the same time, under the American free enterprise system, the difficulties are to a considerable extent being met. The situation of the American people, however, affected by economic strain, compares favorably with that of any nation on earth.

Today, employment is at an all-time high, average weekly wages are estimated to be the highest on record, individual savings are only slightly under the wartime high, production is in prospect of exceeding that of the most active year of the war effort, and dollar volume of retail sales is considerably ahead of last year.

Certain Americans, however, appear to be sold on the totalitarian system of Communist Russia. It is interesting, therefore, to note Labor Department statistics to the effect that while the Russian wage earner has had a 25 per cent pay boost, his rationed foods are up 166 per cent. Even so, he still must struggle along under rationing while politically favored classes are enabled to live on such fat of the land as Russia boasts.

Considering the contrast between the American way of life and the rigorous scale of living in Russia, it is apparent that those who find so much fault with conditions in this country as compared with those in the Soviet Union must be willfully ignorant of practical facts or politically prejudiced beyond reason.

Insofar as they are sold economically on the Soviet totalitarian system, they evidently are the dupes of Russian propagandists, willing to exchange their American heritage for bricks—not gold but just plain Red.

Hail And Farewell

Dean Acheson is leaving his post as undersecretary of state without regret although he has a long record of public service. First and foremost, he needs the money which he is expected to get readily from his thriving law firm. In addition, he is happy to get away from the blows and torments of criticism which anyone in public office gets.

In what appears to have been his valedictory speech recently, he amused his audience with a story illustrating his feelings on being a public servant. The story originally was told by Acheson's Capitol Hill friend, Democratic Senate Leader Alben Barkley of Kentucky. It goes:

A farmer used to take his dog to town every Saturday afternoon and invariably the urchins on the street would tie tin cans to the dog's tail. After this had gone on for some time and the puppy had matured into houndhood, whenever he saw an empty tin can he would back up.

Actually, Acheson has received less criticism than most State Department officials of his rank do. His motives have never been questioned and his judgment seldom criticized.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

DIET OF THE AGED

MOST elderly persons eat what custom and tradition dictate. Medical science has little more to offer inasmuch as no one has answered satisfactorily the question of what they should take. On the other hand, physicians can help to overcome the numerous fears and prejudices which have no scientific basis and often rob our elders of essential nourishment and enjoyment.

The majority of individuals between 60 and 80 can consume as much as those 10 to 20 years their junior. The specific caloric requirements vary according to weight, height, and activity. If most of the time is spent in resting, less food is demanded; as in all age groups, women usually need less than men.

Quality is as important as quantity. Here, too, there are many fads and fancies which must be overthrown. Most oldsters prefer carbohydrates because they are softer and sweeter. This is particularly true when the teeth have been lost or poorly fitted dentures are worn. Tests have revealed the presence of ferments required to digest this type of edible; consequently there is no reason why starches cannot be ingested. Furthermore, an adequate intake of sugars and starches in the aged has never been shown to increase the danger of diabetes. Should the disease occur later in life, it was probably in the cards.

Proteins are essential in spite of the fact that the stomach secretes less acid and pepsin. Meats and eggs may be denied by the family because they are thought to damage the kidneys and produce high blood pressure. On the contrary, the mature individual can take as much as any one half his age. But fats should be used in moderation, as they are more difficult to digest. Animal experiments have revealed that they tend to encourage hardening of the arteries, but this has never been proved in human beings.

Vitamins are necessary. B is especially recommended because of the greater intake of carbohydrates. Symptoms of senility may be decreased when deficiencies, incident to poor eating habits are corrected These include dryness of the skin, loss of hair, tremors, puffiness, sore tongue, and diarrhea. Calcium and phosphorous should not be neglected and milk and cheese are high in such minerals.

"What will be feed grandma?" is a question likely to be asked by a daughter or son of an undernourished and weak old lady. Supplying regular meals or vitamins does not always improve the situation. There may be hidden emotional or psychic factors that disturb not only the nervous make-up, but digestion. Grief for loved ones is commonly observed as well as a feeling of insecurity and dependency. Others are maladjusted to living with their children or in an institution.

The following sensible daily regimen has been suggested by Sebrell: "One pint of milk or its equivalent [cream soups, puddings, milk toast, and cheese]; 1 serving orange, grapefruit, tomato or other juices; 1 serving green, or yellow vegetables; 1 serving potatoes or other vegetable or fruit; 1 serving whole grain cereal; 1 egg [or 3 to 4 per week]; and 1 serving meat, poultry, seafood, or other high protein food."

All bread and flour should be of the whole grain type or enriched; butter, oleomargarine with vitamin A, peanut butter, or other vitamin rich fats are indicated. Tea, coffee, alcoholic beverages, and tobacco in moderaton are permitted if the old-timer is used to them. In fact, the less the eating habits are disturbed, the better.

DISTORTED TASTE

Mrs. E. writes: Can you explain a bitter taste in the mouth that comes and goes?

REPLY

Perversions of the sense of taste are usually present in digestive upsets, fever, pregnancy, or following the excessive use of condiments. Emotional disturbances will sometimes play a part.

NO EFFECT

G. E. writes: Will clipping the hair very short give it new life?

REPLY

No more than cutting the grass or bushes will help vegetation. The hair grows from its roots and the stimulus must start there.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

The tourist trade is finally getting a break. New houses are shooting up everywhere you look these days. It's wonderful to be able to relieve the housing shortage, but there's one drawback to these mushrooming dwellings—they all look alike. The only ones able to find your house without any trouble are the termites.

My brother just moved into one of these housing developments. He's third from the left in a row of sixteen little frame cottages. It seems the builder had a cement mixer and some carbon paper.

The sixteen houses are alike in every detail. When a couple was expecting a baby, the stork circled the block three days looking for the right house, and then had a nervous breakdown.

Just to give you an idea of how confused these people are, one guy painted his house a different color so he could recognize his from the rest. When he finished the job his neighbor thanked him and threw him out. It was the wrong house again.

One guy tried to be different and was thrown off the block for it. He went and paid his mortgage.

The only way to find your house is to come home drunk. My brother tried everything to distinguish between his and the other fifteen houses. He kept coming home and kissing his neighbor's wife. That was the excuse he gave, anyway, as they took him off to the hospital.

DEVELOPING A CASE OF OVERCONFIDENCE

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Now that the U. S. Senate has heard the last rap of the gavel and gone home, it is appropriate to let the voters who elected them know something about how their new Senators stacked up in the arena of Washington. This session saw the largest crop of new Senators in years, including seven who previously served as Governors. They were men of broad experience of whom much could be expected.

Out of the entire crop, however, only four achieved an A-1 rating: Ives of New York and Flanders of Vermont, Republicans; with Sparkman of Alabama and McGrath of Rhode Island, Democrats. All were a credit to their states and justified the confidence of the voters.

On the other hand, four freshman Senators rate in the dunce-cap class: O'Conor of Maryland, Democrat, with McCarthy of Wisconsin, Bricker of Ohio, and Jenner of Indiana, Republicans. In some respects, Bricker, McCarthy, and Jenner were no worse than two or three of their freshman colleagues, except for one thing—their constant babble of braggadocio brought them more public attention.

Here is the box-score of new Senators in the 80th Congress:

Senatorial Box-Score

Zales Ecton, Montana Republican—hearty, amiable, country-bred, agrees that you can take the boy out of the farm, but that you can't take the farm out of the boy. His ruddy face and bulky frame would look more at home alongside a cow or behind a tractor. Shy and timid about Washington, Ecton never pretended to be anything but a party hack—which he is. Class D rating.

Arthur Watkins, Utah Republican—was a little-known, small-town lawyer never taken seriously until the 1946 Republican landslide suddenly swept him into the Senate. He is frank, honest, garrulous in private, but on the Senate floor sits meekly at his desk behaving like a good but very timid Republican. No one can question his sincerity, but no one can rate him high on ability. A class D Senator.

George Malone, Nevada Republican—a former consulting engineer, works hard, does more listening than talking, is not afraid to buck GOP leadership when he thinks they're wrong, has turned out to be a slightly better-than-average freshman Senator. Class C rating.

William B. Umstead, North Carolina Democrat—an expert on parliamentary procedure, and a conscientious conservative, Umstead seemed to be right at home among the mediocrities surrounding him. A class C-minus Senator.

William E. Jenner, Indiana Republican—a man of convictions—those of the senior Senator from Indiana, Homer Capehart, whom Jenner follows religiously. Never did he deviate from Capehart. Never did he indicate that he had a mind of his own. A great grandstander and breast-beater, Jenner talked big about aiding veterans, but nearly always could be found voting against them. Class E rating.

Raymond Baldwin, Connecticut Republican—a man of intense personal drive, rates next to Ives and Flanders among the abler of GOP freshmen. A moderate independent, Baldwin voted against the wool-grab bill, opposed Taft isolation, let no grass grow under his feet. Class B.

Joseph McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican—came to the Senate with more publicity build-up than any colleague, but fizzled faster. Worked hard for Pepsi-Cola sugar decontrol, preached aid to veterans, but consistently voted with the real-estate lobby against them, talked more and did less constructive work than any other new Congressman except Bricker. Class E rating.

John Bricker, Ohio Republican—former Governor of Ohio and GOP candidate for Vice-President, big things were expected of Bricker but his Ohio colleague, Bob Taft, put him well in the shade. Bricker made his Washington debut with a grid-iron speech which struck a universally sour note, and he kept sounding sour notes during most of the session. He worked more for his Ohio banking friend, John Galbreath, and the real estate lobby than for the veterans. One real-estate lobby even gloated over the fact Bricker introduced four bills for them. Class E.

Edward J. Thye, Minnesota Republican—ex-Governor of his state, quiet, sincere, unassuming, can be a strong battler for issues that interest him, one of the better members of the new Senate crop. Class B.

Henry Dworshak, Idaho Republican—after an undistinguished career in the House, Dworshak rode the GOP landslide into the Senate where he has been equally undisplace in the Senate. Class D rating. Senator.

Edward Martin, Pennsylvania Republican—former Governor of Pennsylvania, given to haranguing on the Senate floor, Martin may have been a good major general but in the Senate he adds nothing to the prestige of the Nation's second most powerful state.

John J. Williams, Delaware Republican—a grain dealer and turkey raiser, who pretends to be an expert statesman, Williams is out of place in the Senate. Class R rating.

Herbert O'Conor, Maryland Democrat—a former Governor, O'Conor's experience should have rated him among the top Senate freshmen. Instead, his groveling before the Republicans who are probing his election has lost him the respect of both Republicans and Democrats. He has bowed and bootlicked so much that no one knows what his politics and position are—perhaps not even O'Conor himself. He is going no place—unless it is back to Maryland. A class E-minus Senator.

Spessard Holland, Florida Democrat—a slow starter, who began to sparkle toward the end of the session. Prior to that, few people realized he was in Washington. A C Senator.

Willis Robertson, Virginia Democrat—his presence in the Senate merely means that Senator Harry Byrd now has two votes instead of one. And much of the time those two votes are cast on the Republican side.

John S. Cooper, Kentucky Republican—a rugged independent, Cooper might make a real name for himself if he had more personal drive. A B-minus Senator.

Except for top-rating Ives, Flanders, Sparkman and McGrath, already discussed many times in this column, this is the Merry-Go-Round box-score on new members of the 80th Senate.

Question Of Whether We Are Better Off Than In '29 Raised

By SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL

In his recent economic report, President Truman says that Americans are richer than ever before in peacetime history; that we must adjust our minds to the fact that "we are living in a $225,000,000,000 economy." Also, that we can place our production and employment on a "firm foundation of enduring prosperity and peace."

This sounds like the new "permanent plateau" of prosperity we were told about in the 1920's. Presidential utterances, such as the "Atlantic Charter," etc., always contain ballyhoo. Probably we will never see the end of this until we adopt the "no third-term" amendment, and have a President who is serving his second—and last—term in office. Probably not then.

The report frankly recognizes that there are some discounts to this optimism. But to balance off the bitter and the sweet, one should read an article by L. C. Walker, in "American Affairs," a magazine without soothing syrup, published by the National Industrial Conference Board. This article raises the question whether we are in fact as well off as we were in 1929 before the big crash. In 1929, "you could buy anything you wanted." You can't do that today—whether it is a house, an automobile, steel, etc. Only the other day, General Motors laid men off because of a shortage of steel.

Statistical Mirage To Measure $s

It is a statistical mirage to measure dollar income today against dollar income in 1929. This is like measuring anything wtih a rubber yardstick. In 1929, you bought a house dress for $1.98; today, it costs you $5.95, up 200 per cent. A wash cloth which cost 10c in 1929 sells for 19c today, up 90 per cent. An automobile which sold for $900 in 1929 today costs $1600—if you can get it.

So, when Mr. Truman tells us to adjust our minds to a $225,000,000,000 economy, he should also tell us to adjust our minds to the fact that these dollars have been rapidly losing value—due, chiefly, to the policies of the same government that brags about them.

While more men are employed today than ever before, the real question is whether they are producing more goods per man than in 1929. If not, the soothing syrup will turn sour. For you can't eat dollars. Midas starved when everything he touched turned to gold.

It is a serious question whether our gains in technology since 1929 have not been cancelled off by lower output per man. An automobile manufacturer reports that it now takes 120 man hours to produce a car as against 84 man hours before the war.

As off-sets to Mr. Truman's "unprecedented prosperity," consider the following:

1. We are exporting $12,000,000,000 more goods than we are importing. Will we ever receive anything for this petroleum, coal, copper, etc., that is leaving America forever? If not, our exports are making us poor, and not rich.

Tax Take Enormous

2. The tax "take" of the federal government, per person, is 849 per cent greater than in 1929.

3. As dollars lose value, all holders of life insurance, pensions, social security, and government bonds pay an invisible tax that runs into the billions, through the loss of their savings.

4. We have 2,000,000 in the armed forces not producing goods, but consuming them, as against 200,000 in 1929.

5. In the other government departments, we have over 2,000,000 as against 550,000 in 1929.

6. Hours of productive work are going down to 40 or 35 hours per week. Longer vacations. More holidays. More pay for less work. In the last six years, wages per unit of goods have gone up 73%, but the goods produced per man hour have gone down!

7. A national debt of $258,000,000,000 as against $17,000,000,000 in 1929.

Mr. Walker, in his article, concludes that it is "done with mirrors"; that we are not in fact producing per person, and keeping in America real wealth (not dollars) to equal the standard of living we had in 1929.

Has Congress Power To Regulate Sale Of Intoxicating Beverages?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, July 31. — Has congress any power to regulate the sale of intoxicating beverages?

This question arises because a sub-committee of the Senate commerce committee has just recommended that the Federal Trade Commission be empowered to declare "misleading" certain advertisements being used by liquor dealers if those advertisements or broadcasts suggest that the use of liquor will promote health or social standing or describe its use as in accordance with American tradition or family customs.

Apparently the Senators who are advocating such legislation are not aware of the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, in an opinion rendered by Justice Brandeis on November 9, 1936, which held in effect that the so-called commerce clause of the Constitution no longer applied to the liquor traffic and that the only source of federal power today is the Twenty-First Amendment.

This decision aroused considerable comment at the time because it was so wide-sweeping. The case involved the imposition of an import fee by the state of California on the sale of beer in that state by dealers outside the state—a fee not imposed on dealers inside the state. The court said this would plainly have been unconstitutional under the commerce clause but that the Twenty-First Amendment superseded that clause.

Many people have believed that when the Eighteenth Amendment was repealed, the situation reverted to that which existed prior to its adoption and that federal power over the transportation of intoxicating liquors is now much the same as it was before, namely a simple exercise of the right to regulate commerce and to prohibit or to regulate the flow of any article of commerce.

Rights of States Supreme

Actually, however, the rights of the states on liquor trade have been declared supreme by the Twenty-First Amendment. They can set up monopolies inside their states and make any regulations they wish with respect to the liquor traffic and be untouched by the federal power. Thus as many of the states today have their own stores and their own system of advertising and sale and distribution, it would appear that the federal government cannot by any legislation interfere with or curtail such sale. Indeed, the power of Congress to regulate the manufacture and sale of intoxicating beverages which was specifically granted to the federal government by the people when they ratified the Eighteenth Amendment was specifically taken back by the people in the first section of the Twenty-First Amendment.

The Twenty-First Amendment says:

"The transportation or importation into any state, territory, or possession of the United States for delivery or use therein of intoxicating liquors, in violation of the laws thereof, is hereby prohibited."

The sole federal power, therefore, it is contended, relates to such assistance as the states may require in keeping out of their jurisdiction products which they do not want. There is no corresponding power of Congress to keep out of these states the products they do want and do sell.

The effort to curtail sales of intoxicating beverages by enacting legislation dealing with "misleading" advertisements implies that Congress, under the power to regulate commerce, can also regulate advertisements that sell goods in interstate commerce. This might well be true of any other classification of products except those specifically dealt with by a particular article of the constitution.

Amendments Do Not Conflict

Thus, in the so-called "Young's market" case in 1936, the contention of one party was that the rules of the Twenty-First Amendment did not apply because they ran counter to the Fourteenth Amendment, which forbids discrimination as between businesses and which declares that all businesses have "equal protection" under the law. Justice Brandeis, however, in handing down the decision, wrote that "a classification recognized by the Twenty-First Amendment cannot be deemed forbidden by the Fourteenth."

Hence, since the power granted to the states to handle the liquor traffic is absolute, it will be contended that neither the pure food laws nor the Federal Trade Commission Act, which are derived from the commerce-clause powers, can supersede the powers of the states granted to them by the Twenty-First Amendment.

There seems to be only one constitutional way by which the liquor traffic, whether in sales or manufacture, can be regulated and that is by adoption of a substitute for or amendment of the Twenty-First Amendment to the constitution.

THESE DAYS By George E. Sokolsky

TIME TO KNOW

THE RIGHT of Congress to inform itself by investigation cannot be questioned, for legislation would be impossible unless the legislative body possessed the means of informing itself directly on the subjects before it. This function of the Congress is as important as the actual passage of laws. Without it, the Congress would be completely dependent upon the executive for data and guidance. It would, indeed, become a rubber-stamp Congress—a mere institution of ratification.

Various committees of Congress are now engaged in such investigations. It is a curiosity of the liberal mind that whereas so-called liberals favored similar Congressional activities when conducted by Hugo Black, Robert La Follette, Jr. and others who served their purposes, they now express chagrin and almost horror that the process continues but under different management. They are particularly annoyed that the name, Roosevelt, appears in unfavorable headlines so often.

Some investigations raise old issues, as, for instance, the conduct of the war. This war was profligately conducted. Although on the diplomatic side, there is ample evidence that we had been moving toward war since 1937, and although it was obvious after September 1, 1939, that we might become involved, Pearl Harbor found this country unprepared and undefended. It was necessary to move rapidly after December 7. It was necessary to place the entire nation on a war footing. That cost money. It involved waste.

Congress needs to review everything that has occurred in relationship to the war so that from that experience it may have guidance for the future. If in the course of such studies, corruption, graft, trickery are uncovered, it is incidental to the task of understanding how the people's money was spent and how their welfare is to be safeguarded. If perchance some humor creep into this very serious business, no one need complain. Americans cannot help laughing when a fat man slips on a banana peel.

Crooks always take advantage of war situations. And Congressional Committees will discover some of them. Whether they will be prosecuted or adequately punished is not the function of Congress but of the Attorney General and the Courts. It is, however, a legitimate Congressional function to get at the truth. For instance, it would seem as necessary to investigate UNRRA, AMB, and the military administration in Germany as the activities of Howard Hughes and Henry Kaiser. Sometimes such an investigation is courted by the investigated: it establishes a favorable record and safeguards the individual's reputation from slander and calumny. Sometimes such investigations produce precisely the changes in policy which the man on the spot has long advocated. Not all investigations produce unfavorable data.

It is essential that the functioning of the State Department since 1933 be investigated. It is doubtful whether that can be done until a Republican President makes available documents which are now withheld. It is not merely a matter of policy but the conduct of policy.

Who has been Secretary of State since the fiasco of the London Economic Conference of 1933? The names are Hull, Stettinius, Byrnes and Marshall; the actuality is that the President has used the Department of State as a secret arm of his private office. The American people, in spite of press and radio, are a poorly informed people. They have not known since 1933 what has been done to their country in relationship to other countries; they have known little about how it was done and who did it.

The Marshall Plan is a case in point. It is constantly being referred to as the Marshall Plan. But what is the Marshall Plan? Can you describe it? Can your Senator with any precision? Can your Congressman? Can the editor of the newspaper you read? Can I or any other columnist?

The answer is, No! The Marshall Plan is secret diplomacy. It is some kind of a deal to give American money to European countries. How much? How? When? On what conditions? That is what a Congressional Investigating Committee ought to find out for us.

Practically every proposition, from the decisions at the London Economic Conference, through Lend-Lease, Teheran, Yalta, Potsdam and other conferences, has been handled in the blackest secrecy. It is time to know.

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

"That's a cute chick over there on the pier," yelled a soldier, nudging the sergeant next to him at the rail.

The man in the sergeant's uniform moved away from the boy who had touched him. Physical contact of any kind had always given him a feeling of revulsion. He stood there watching the tugs worry the big Army transport into its berth. A six-piece band on the pier was playing "Roll Out the Barrel." A long strip of oilcloth tacked to a warehouse read, "WELCOME HOME—WELL DONE."

Billy Rose

"Well done, indeed," the sergeant thought.

In a few minutes he would disembark. Demobilization — and then South America. There were friends in Argentina. And there was work there for Colonel Karl von Winther, S.S. Gruppenfuehrer, late of Hitler's personal staff.

It had been almost too easy. His dog-tags read, "Keefer, George—ASN 95010158 — Blood type O — Religion P." His service record stated: "Born—Des Moines, Iowa. Widower. Children—none." Unless somebody checked fingerprints at the separation center, his chances of being detected were—how was it the Americans phrased it—one in a million. Yes, that was it—one in a million.

But his neat Teutonic mind would not let it rest at that. As he stood there waiting for the gangplank to be lowered, he reviewed again every detail of the escape operation.

Just bfore the Ardennes offensive in December, 1944, General Sepp Dietrich had placed him in charge of infiltration tactics. Because of his flawless English and three years in America as Embassy attache, he had been selected to brief the English-speaking Germans who were to be put behind the Allied lines in American uniforms to sabotage and cause confusion. Each saboteur would be supplied with the identity of a dead or captured American soldier, and would be required to memorize the personal information contained in Intelligence Office files.

It was while checking over these files that the Colonel first saw a photograph of Sergeant George Keefer. Keefer might have been his brother. Same general build, same colored hair, same color eyes, even the same blood type. Without quite knowing why, he removed Keefer's dossier from the files, and with it the man's dog-tags, identification card and personal letters.

And then the plan had taken form. On the sixth day of the offensive, the clouds lifted and the P-47's began to slash the German armor on the roads. Von Winther knew the campaign was lost—and with it the war. There would be trials. The generals might get off with jail sentences, but not an S.S. Colonel who had devised several memorable methods for eliminating overcrowding in concentration camps.

The first step in the plan was to have the commandant at Dormstadt shoot Sergeant Keefer and bury him in an unmarked grave. The second was to select an American sergeant's uniform from the stock pile, and then make his way toward the positions of the American Seventh Armored. The third was to acquire a wound and place himself where a medical corpsman might find him.

On the eleventh day of the offensive, not far from an American anti-tank gun position near Hanhay, the Colonel-Sergeant took out a pistol and shot himself in the fleshy part of the upper arm.

Five days at a field hospital. A month in a hospital near Paris. And then several months doing payroll work in a replacement depot at Namur. After that, Le Havre and the transport. Some questions here and there, but he knew the answers. His medical record—lost, of course. Who cared? The war was over.

Here he was now, fifteen yards from American soil. A thousand dollars in back pay waiting for him at the separation center. In addition, a three-hundred-dollar bonus. His chances of being discovered now —a million to one. No need for that little cyanide capsule in his jacket pocket.

The gangplank was down. The men pushed forward. Von Winther tossed his barracks bag to his shoulder and stepped on the gangway. "Keefer, George," he called out to the officer who was checking the disembarkation list.

The officer put his hand on the Sergeant's shoulder. "Here's your man!" he shouted down to a small group of military officials who were clustered around the foot of the gangway. The crowd on the pier began to yell. Two white-helmeted MP's started up toward him.

"Kaput," said the Colonel to himself. He acted almost automatically. His fingers found the capsule in his right-hand jacket pocket. He bit into it. It tasted of bitter almonds.

The MP's carried his lifeless body to the Red Cross station on the pier. A photographer shoved through the crowd and took a flash picture.

"What happened?" the photographer asked an Army officer.

"I don't know," said the officer. "Excitement, maybe. Yeah, I guess that's what it was. Here half the town turns out to welcome the millionth Yank to come back from overseas and he keels over from the excitement. Too bad."

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

"That's a cute chick over there on the pier," yelled a soldier, nudging the sergeant next to him at the rail.

The man in the sergeant's uniform moved away from the boy who had touched him. Physical contact of any kind had always given him a feeling of revulsion. He stood there watching the tugs worry the big Army transport into its berth. A six-piece band on the pier was playing "Roll Out the Barrel." A long strip of oilcloth tacked to a warehouse read, "WELCOME HOME—WELL DONE."

Billy Rose

"Well done, indeed," the sergeant thought.

In a few minutes he would disembark. Demobilization — and then South America. There were friends in Argentina. And there was work there for Colonel Karl von Winther, S.S. Gruppenfuehrer, late of Hitler's personal staff.

It had been almost too easy. His dog-tags read, "Keefer, George—ASN 95010158 — Blood type C — Religion P." His service record stated: "Born—Des Moines, Iowa. Widower. Children—none." Unless somebody checked fingerprints at the separation center, his chances of being detected were—how was it the Americans phrased it—one in a million. Yes, that was it—one in a million.

Allegany Student Nurses To Hold Boy Friend Night

A weekly "Boy Friend's Night" is to be inaugurated for student nurses at Allegany Hospital School of Nursing under the sponsorship of the members of the Children of Mary of the hospital.

It is to be held as an informal dance, each Friday night, beginning August 8, and will be held in the auditorium of Our Lady of the Mount, the nurses' new home. Music is to be provided by the new automatic victrola recently purchased for the purpose, and will be from 8:30 until 11 o'clock, and refreshments will be served.

Tentative plans have been discussed for an entertainment program and to hold several semi-formal dances throughout the year.

MISS BEAN GIVES CANNING SUGGESTIONS

It will soon be time to can peaches, Miss Maude A. Bean, home demonstration agent of Allegany county, reminds housewives and points out that ripe peaches should be kpet in a cool place until used. She advises to spread them out to avoid bruising and if they are a little on the green side, let them ripen at room temperature.

For easy peeling, dip the fruit in boiling water for a minute or two, then quickly into cold water and skins will slip easily, she said. A pinch of salt adds to the flavor in cooked fruit and cooking peaches in a light syrup will help to keep them firm.

Points to be remembered on preservation which Miss Bean lists, are table-ripe, firm and perfect peaches for home canning, freezing, drying or preserves. It is also well to remember that the background color, not the pink blush on the cheek of the peach, indicates ripeness. She suggests choosing peaches with yellow or yellow-white ground and putting them up promptly. Softer fruit, if sound, is good for butter or jam and slightly under-ripe peaches for pickles.

A pressure canner is not required, Miss Bean says and points out that peaches are easy to can, and may safely be canned in a boiling water bath canner or cold pack method. The hot pack uses less jar space, about one serving more can be put into a quart jar than when packed raw. On the other hand, raw packed peaches hold their shape better. It is a matter of taste with which flavor is better.

Weekly Dances To Be Begun Aug. 8

A weekly "Boy Friend's Night" is to be inaugurated for student nurses at Allegany Hospital School of Nursing under the sponsorship of the members of the Children of Mary of the hospital.

It is to be held as an informal dance, each Friday night, beginning August 8, and will be held in the auditorium of Our Lady of the Mount, the nurses' new home. Music is to be provided by the new automatic victrola recently purchased for the purpose, and will be from 8:30 until 11 o'clock, and refreshments will be served.

Tentative plans have been discussed for an entertainment program and to hold several semi-formal dances throughout the year.

Miss Mary Bernadette McKenzie is presfdent of the Children of Mary who will serve as hostesses for the dances. She has appointed Miss Mary DeSimone chairman for the first one to be assisted by Miss Polly McDermott and Miss Phyllis Valentine.

MISS BEAN GIVES CANNING SUGGESTIONS

It will soon be time to can peaches, Miss Maude A. Bean, home demonstration agent of Allegany county, reminds housewives and points out that ripe peaches should be kpet in a cool place until used. She advises to spread them out to avoid bruising and if they are a little on the green side, let them ripen at room temperature.

For easy peeling, dip the fruit in boiling water for a minute or two, then quickly into cold water and skins will slip easily, she said. A pinch of salt adds to the flavor in cooked fruit and cooking peaches in a light syrup will help to keep them firm.

Points to be remembered on preservation which Miss Bean lists, are table-ripe, firm and perfect peaches for home canning, freezing, drying or preserves. It is also well to remember that the background color, not the pink blush on the cheek of the peach, indicates ripeness. She suggests choosing peaches with yellow or yellow-white ground and putting them up promptly. Softer fruit, if sound, is good for butter or jam and slightly under-ripe peaches for pickles.

A pressure canner is not required, Miss Bean says and points out that peaches are easy to can, and may safely be canned in a boiling water bath canner or cold pack method. The hot pack uses less jar space, about one serving more can be put into a quart jar than when packed raw. On the other hand, raw packed peaches hold their shape better. It is a matter of taste with which flavor is better.

Bulletins on Food Preservation may be secured at the Home Demonstration office in the court house.

Baltimore Firm Will Submit Smoke Plan

The firm of Burrill and Gwin, Baltimore engineers, will submit a proposal to the Mayor and Council within a few weeks regarding smoke abatement in Cumberland, H. G. Burrill, partner in the firm, said here yesterday.

Burrill conferred with Mayor Thomas S. Post, James Alfred Avirett, chairman of the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission, and City Attorney Charles Z. Heskett regarding the possibility of his firm's acting as smoke consultant for Cumberland, as it does for Hagerstown.

The visitor explained that in Hagerstown his firm operates on an annual fee basis, not exceeding $250 per year, giving that city four days time per month and conducting a daily investigation through the Health Department. Burrill said that if his firm is appointed smoke consultant for Cumberland, a similar method would be used here, with a representative of one of the city departments making daily investigations.

Mayor Post gave Burrill a copy of the city's smoke control ordinance, which calls for the appointment of a smoke abatement engineer and a three-man board of appeals. An appropriation of $3,500 was made for the current fiscal year, although the ordinance will not take effect until next January 1.

The letter said that the Act will be certified to the Supervisors of Elections to be included in the 1948 ballot. It also stated that the signatures approved were in excess of the 2328 which were required to fulfill Maryland constitutional provisions.

Hot Or Cold

Both sunstroke and heat exhaustion are dangerous summer maladies, says the National Safety Council. With heat exhaustion the patient's skin is cold and clammy, while sunstroke results in a hot, dry skin. Here is a general rule for treatment of these burns: if the patient is cold, make him warm; if he is hot, make him cold.

10 Fined For Operating "Slots" In Ocean City

OCEAN CITY, Md., July 31 (AP)—Ten persons, including the daughter of a city councilman, were fined $50 and costs each yesterday for operating slot machines in this lively summer resort.

And while the brief hearings were held in the magistrate's office here, the Salisbury Times published a story quoting Mayor Daniel Trimper:

"If there are any slot machines here, I don't know where they are. I don't go into night clubs and places like that."

All 10 defendants were named in warrants sworn by Worcester County Sheriff Arthur W. Duer after he and a flying squad raided the resort broadwalk Monday night.

Guard Summer Training Schedule Is Announced

FT. GEORGE G. MEADE, Md., July 31 (AP)—Approximately 14,000 National Guardsmen in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Kentucky and Maryland will engage in summer training, Second Army headquarters announced today.

Headquarters announced the following schedule for the troops:

About 4,200 guardsmen of the 37th Infanty Division and the 166th Combat Team will encamp at Camp Perry, O., July 20-Aug. 3.

The 28th Infantry Division, the 11th Combat Team, and the 51st AA Brigade of the Pennsylvania Guard, totaling nearly 6,000, at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation Aug. 9-23.

The 149th Combat Team and the 138th Field Artillery group of the Kentucky Guard, numbering 1,200, at Fort Knox, Ky., Aug. 3-17.

Legion Bowling League Will Hold Banquet

A banquet marking the close of the four-month season of the mixed summer bowling league of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, will be held Thursday, September 4, at 7 p. m. at the LaVale Fire Hall, John P. Bowman, president, has announced.

Thomas R. Farrell, post commander, and Mrs. Frances Ansbach, president of the Ladies Auxiliary, have been invited to be honor guests. A prize will be awarded to the winning team of the six mixed teams in the league.

Other officers of the bowling organization are Mrs. Betty Rider, secretary, and Mrs. Mae Mont, treasurer. The summer season will end September 3.

From all indications the United States will this year harvest the largest wheat crop ever grown in any country of the world. While it is still too early to make definite estimates regarding the yield of spring wheat, it is roughly calculated that the total wheat harvest will amount to about 1,300,000,000 bushels. To store and transport this bumper crop will tax existing facilities as they never were taxed before.

Rubber Again Abundant

In a world of inflated commodity prices, rubber is a conspicuous exception. In 1939 the average price of rubber in New York was 17.66 cents per pound. The present price of natural rubber for September delivery is 18.40 cents a pound, which is well below the figure fixed by the government for synthetic rubber. Natural rubber is again plentiful.

A flying squirrel cannot really fly, but its gliding membrane sustains it in the air to add many feet to a normal leap. The flying or gliding apparatus of the flying squirrel consists of a fold of skin extended between the fore and hind legs, partly supported by bony processes of the feet, which enable it to leap and glide through the air for great distances.

Studies indicate that airplane pilots and passengers, also people living at high altitudes in mountainous regions, may need extra riboflavin in their diets.

Dog Charged With Being "Vicious" Freed By Judge

ANNAPOLIS, Md., July 31 (AP)—"Mutt," an eight-year-old German police dog, on trial charged with being "vicious and surly," was acquitted today by Judge James Clark in Anne Arundel County Circuit Court.

Mutt was vindicated after an appeal had been brought from an order to restrain him issued by Magistrate James G. Woodward.

After almost five hours of testimony by witnesses whom Judge Clark called "pro-Mutt's" and "anti-Mutts," the judge said, "I just don't think that Mutt's a vicious dog."

He ordered Herbert S. Ward, of Bay Ridge, who brought the original petition against Mutt's owner, Marine Lt. Carl M. Viner, also of Bay Ridge, to pay the costs.

More than five miles of wire hook up the instruments which collect test data on a new twin-engined transport plane.

Export Trade, Called One Of U. S. Economy Props By Truman, Slumps

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP)—American exports in June slumped 13 per cent below May's record.

The Census Bureau, reporting today that June shipments were $180,000,000 below the May peak of $1,422,000,000 called it "the first substantial interruption in the recent rising trend of exports."

President Truman, in an economic report to Congress last Monday, had classed the "extraordinary excess of exports over imports" as one of three "temporary props" beneath the nation's high employment and production levels.

Some government foreign trade experts privately called the export decline "a probable turning point"—the beginning of a downtrend in a $16,000,000,000-a-year business now furnishing employment for an estimated 3,500,000 Americans.

Others More Cautious

Others, somewhat more cautious, noted that there was a two-day shipping strike in June and that the month had one less working day than May. They said this might have accounted for part of the drop.

But all tended toward agreement that if June did not mark the turning point, July or August almost certainly will show the export profit sinking.

There was agreement also on the causes:

1. Rapid shrinking of foreign holdings of gold and United States dollars, the only kinds of money that will pay for American goods.

2. Tightening up by foreign countries on their purchases to conserve buying power that is fading while need for it grows.

Commerce Department officials estimated foreign holdings of gold and dollars had dropped $1,000,000,000 or more during the second quarter of the year as foreign buying in the United States ate into this reserve.

Assets Unevenly Distributed

They figured other countries still have upwards of $19,000,000,000 in gold and dollar assets, but observed that the holdings are unevenly distributed so that many countries in greatest need of reconstruction have little.

The number of countries tightening up on buying in the United States through import restrictions has been growing. It now includes Sweden, Mexico and several South American countries, with Britain and others likely to join the list.

Simultaneously, the unspent amount of United States loans that have furnished the means for paying about half the net debt of other countries on trade with the United States has shrunk below $4,400,000,000 at a rate indicating exhaustion in a comparatively few months.

North Branch Man Fined For Assault

Involved in an incident resulting from a water right dispute, Morgan D. Adams, North Branch, was found guilty yesterday in Trial Magistrates' Court of assaulting William Zack Kimble, also of North Branch.

A fine of $25 and $6 costs was suspended on condition that Adams refrain from further interference with Kimble and his family from taking water from a spring located on Adams' property.

The altercation happened when Kimble appeared at Adams' spring Monday to obtain water. Adams admitted shoving Kimble but denied the charge that he was intoxicated. Kimble's lease calls for use of the disputed spring.

Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce presided at the hearing.

The odds of multiple births when there is no previous history of them in the family of either parent, are that twins will appear once in 90 births, triplets once in 7,103, quadruplets once in 757,000, and quintuplets once in 41,600,000.

Openings Available For Reserve Nurses

Applications will be received from nurses for appointment in the Army Nurses Corps Reserve as second lieutenants, Capt. Thomas Stafford, inspector-instructor of the 208 Composite Group, O.R.C., said.

Female specialists may also obtain reserve commissions in the Women's Medical Specialists Section of the Organized Reserve. In most cases, these appointees must be between the ages of 21 and 28 and b a graduate of a recognized nursing school, or in the specialists section, a college graduate.

Stafford also said that Army liason pilots on inactive duty may apply for expense-paid flights not to exceed four hours per month per pilot, providing the expense does not exceed $10 per hour. Arrangements must be made with civilian plane operators for the training.

Rug Names

Names of Oriental rugs, only in a general way, are an indication of quality. Rugs get their names from the geographical districts where they are woven. One rug woven in the city of Hamadan, for example, might be worth considerably more than another rug of the same size from the same city.

WORLD'S MOST FAMOUS RUG

The most famous rug in the world is the Ardebil rug now in the South Kensington Museum in London according to the Oriental Rug Institute. Hand woven in the Orient, it contains 32,000,000 hand-tufted knots, or 530 knots to the square inch.

Originally made in 1536 during the reign of Tamasp I for the Ardebil mosque, the rug through the years graced the floors of palaces and castles in many lands and now, despite its age, is worth a king's ransom.

The field of the Ardebil rug is a rich blue, and it is covered with delicate, free-flowing floral designs. In the center is a pale yellow medallion. There are four border stripes. The outer border is yellow, the others are rich brown cream, and crimson.

The Myrmidons were the followers of Achilles in the Trojan war. They were an old Thessalonian race who colonized the island of Aegina. According to Greek legend, Zeus peopled Thessaly by transforming the ants into men, hence myrmidons ("murmez" an ant).

COSTUME PARADE HELD AT GEPHART

Approximately 50 children between the ages of 5 and 12 took part in a costume parade at Gephart Playground Wednesday night, according to John Cooper, a member of the playground association.

Winners, each of whom was presented with a cash prize, were as follows:

Prettiest costume among girls, Brenda Johnson as an Arabian dancer, and Carol Settle as a cowgirl; funniest costume — Barbara Holler as a pickaninny and Sue Wilson as a rabbit; riders of best decorated bicycles, Sue Howe and Ruth Schade.

In the boys' division, Jimmy Howe, dressed as Pinocchio, and Tommy Rizer as an Indian won first and second prize, respectively, for the best costume. Funniest costume prizes went to Arthur Williamson and Bob Twigg, and Ronnie Whetzell and Billy Coates won prizes for the two best decorated bicycles.

Judges were Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Johnson, B. W. Dyche and Harold Fearer, past president of the playground association.

Three Paroles Granted

Governor Lane has announced the signing of 27 paroles including three Western Marylanders who are serving time. They are:

Herman Bittinger, sentenced in Garrett County Circuit Court for larceny; Margaret Evick, Allegany County Magistrate's Court to State Reform School for Women for contributing to the delinquency of minors. The sentence not to exceed two years, and James Rexroad, Allegany County Magistrates Court, two years in the House of Correction on charges of contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Building Wages High

Testimony given at recent hearings before the House committee on labor and education brought out the fact that in some sections of the country bricklayers, painters and plumbers get $20 a day, or $2.50 per hour. Bricklayers who formerly laid 9000 bricks in nine days, at a cost of $72, have slowed down to the point where it takes 18 days to lay 9000 bricks, and the cost has riven to $360.

Roughly speaking, those employed in the building trades get wages that are nearly three times as high as those earned by many other groups. All this helps to explain why no progress is being made in solving the housing shortage.

Hollywood Fad

The newest Hollywood fads are leis worn as accessories. The leis are not just floral but are made of such things as ribbons, ruching, wool fringe, or furs.

One actress wears a lei of white carnations; another makes use of tiny white linen butterflies and wears it with a black linen suit. Others are made of small scarlet taffeta bows and roman-striped ribbons.

WHEN the chips are down, these sports stars come through with blue chip performances. Brecheen was the Cardinal hero in the 1946 World Series. Strong hasn't missed a point-after-touchdown for the football Giants in three years. Riggs is famed for pulling tough matches out from under his opponent, Locke's the big money winner on the golf circuit, and U. S. Chess Champion Samuel Reshevsky plays particularly well when time is running out.

Wicker To Be Honored

Caseys Won 25 Straight

Somerset Is Grid Camp

Brian Holsopple Injured

By C. V. BURNS

A reception is planned for Kemp C. Wicker, the southpaw hurler, who won 14 and lost 12 for the Mid-Atlantic Dobbins in 1932, the last year this city held a franchise in organized baseball.

Kemp piloted the Columbus Cardinals to the Sally League pennant last year and the fans are going to show their appreciation for his excellent work.

Although he denies using mirrors, Wicker brought the flag to a club that was seventh in team batting, sixth in team fielding, whose best pitcher won only 17 games and whose leading batter hit only .298.

Kemp has traveled extensively since leaving here. In 1937 he won seven and lost three for the New York Yankees. He once pitched for the Dodgers and was a big winner for the Newark Bears.

Cumberland obtained Wicker from the Jeannette (Pa.) Jays when the latter team lost its franchise in the M.A.

Jim Browning, manager of the Knights of Columbus softball team of the Rocking Chair Softball League, was discussing winning streaks the other day and called attention to the fact that 10, 12 and 15 wins in a row is nothing compared to a record established by the Caseys in 1943.

Four years ago the Knights won 25 consecutive games, including four in the championship playoffs of the Rocking Chair circuit, according to Jim.

"One of the highlights of that season was the pitching of Joe Neubiser," Browning recalled. "Joe pitched every game for the Caseys and included one no-hitter in his victory string. During the record-breaking winning streak Joe McDade went on a hitting spree and connected for eleven consecutive safeties.

"Beat that record if you can!"

The Bethlehem Bulldogs of the American Professional Football League, will file suit against the Colts for the return of a player and damages, according to Henry J. Heppe, general manager at Bethlehem.

Heppe said the suit will be opened in Maryland. The player in question is Cammille Piccone, Vineland, N. J., former Notre Dame halfback.

Piccone signed a Bethlehem contract November 14, 1946, Heppe said. Later the Colts announced he would play with them, and their roster released recently included his name.

Gordon Neil, 150-pounder of Washington, D. C., who has boxed several times recently for "Red" Mauk's Royale Athletic Club, almost halted the 25-bout winning streak of Joe O'Bara at the Point Stadium in Johnstown, Pa., last week.

In the fourth round Neil landed two right uppercuts that had O'Bara wobbly but the former Johnstown High School gridder shook the cobwebs from his brain, rallied and had Neil hanging on for the remainder of the fight, according to the Johnstown papers.

Neil was recommended to Mauk by Jimmie Childress, former local boxer.

If Tommy Yarosz defeats Bee Bee Washington in the nation's capital next month the Monaca, Pa., light-heavy will likely be matched with Smuggy Hursey in a September match there. That's the opinion of "Bunny" Buntag, Yarosz's manager. Hursey is the negro battler who knocked out Danny Kapilow in one round.

The Mahoney's certainly must like to handle "dough".

Mortimer was the first pari-mutuel manager hired by the Cumberland Fair Association. That was in 1926.

His son, William Riggs Mahoney, has been named mutuel manager at Laurel by directors of the Maryland State Fair, Inc. The Laurel meet opens October 1 and runs 25 days.

Riggs is also mutuel manager at Narragansett and has served as assistant to his father at Pimlico.

Another of Mort's sons, Jack, serves as an aide at Atlantic City, Monmouth Park, Garden State Park and Hialeah Park.

Nearby Somerset county (Pa.) seems to be a popular spot for high school football teams to pitch training camps this year.

Charleroi, Greensburg, Dunbar Township, Clairton and Hurst have all selected Somerset sites. Charleroi will make the Somerset armory its headquarters and take its meals at the high school there.

Brian Holsopple, the middleweight boxer of the Keystate Athletic Club of Johnstown, who knocked out Bill Mann of the Rocket A.C. in a recent amateur boxing show here was badly injured at the Point Stadium in Johnstown, Pa., the other night when he was flattened by Don Free, terrific punching 142-pounder of Jeanette, Pa., in 1:59 of the first round.

Free scored two quick knockdowns before he delivered the "atomic punch" that put Holsopple down for the full count.

Cleveland Sweeps Red Sox Series, 5-4

BOSTON, July 31 (AP)—Homers by Manager Lou Boudreau and Joe Gordon scored all Cleveland's runs today as the Indians swept a three-game stand by edging the Red Sox, 5 to 4, before a 5,879 crowd at Fenway Park.

Both drives landed barely fair in the left field screen, Boudreau's in the first with Dale Mitchell on base after a single, and Gordon's in the sixth with Eddie Robinson and Hank Edwards ahead of him after a single and a walk.

For righthander Bob Lemon it was his first start of the season for the Indians and he was credited with the victory although he left the game in the sixth, when the Sox collected three runs. Box:

Elks Defeat Moose 4-2 In Rocking Chair Loop

The B. P. O. Elks defeated the Loyal Order of Moose by the score of 4 to 2 in a Rocking Chair Softball League game yesterday at Fort Hill field.

Other games scheduled in the league were postponed on account of wet grounds.

Trailing 4-0 in the last of the 7th, the Moose team rallied for two runs after two down and had the bases loaded when John Angellatta grounded out to end the game.

Jewell and Bruce paced the Elks attack with three hits each while Jackson garnered two of the Moose team's eight safeties. Score:

Reese's 3-Base Hit Wins Game In Ninth

ST. LOUIS, July 31 (AP)—Brooklyn waltzed out of town today with a 13-game winning streak, a 1-game National League lead and a clean sweep of its important series with the defending champion St. Louis Cardinals off a 2-1 victory in the finale.

Pee Wee Reese, whose tenth-inning single had nullified the Cards' dramatic uphill surge last night, came through with a nine-inning triple today scoring Bruce Edwards who had singled. The winning smash hugged the fair side of the right field foul line.

The triumph, spun by little Vic Lombardi, only recently restored to grace as a regular starter, gave the Brooks their second longest win string in history. The club record of 15 was established by Uncle Wilbert Robinson's Robins of 1924.

Just as in last night's game when the Cards came back to force the issue at the last second, the champs rallied in the last of the ninth after Reese's blow had broken a 1-1 tie. Box:

REDS EDGE GIANTS

CINCINNATI, July 31 (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds and New York Giants traded runs in clusters today, but the Reds got the last cluster on Grady Hatton's three-run homer in the eighth as the Reds came off with an 8-7 decision over the New Yorkers.

The Reds got off to a five run lead in the first three innings, gathering four in the first on three hits and a two-run error, and chased starter "Hooks" Iott in the third with two singles and a walk.

LEONARD BLANKS PHILS

CHICAGO, July 31 (AP) — Emil "Dutch" Leonard, the ex-American League knuckle ball pitcher, held the Cubs to five scattered hits here today for the 3-0 victory which gave the Philadelphia Phillies their first series of the year over Chicago. It was Philedelphia's third victory in 16 meetings with the Cubs.

Leonard was the complete master in registering his 12th victory of the season against five defeats. He allowed only two runners to reach second, struck out six, and not a one of the Cubs' five hits were for extra bases. Box:

Legion Tourney Opens Tonight In Hagerstown

Fort Cumberland Will Battle Morris Frock

Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, of this city, and Morris Frock Post, of Hagerstown, will clash in the opening game of the Maryland American Legion junior baseball tournament tonight at 8:15 o'clock at Interstate League park, Hagerstown.

The team emerging from the three-day grind will be crowned champions of Maryland and will compete against champions of several states in the next round of the tourney.

A team must lose two games before being eliminated in the Hagerstown tourney which ends on Sunday.

The loser of tonight's game will play Westport Saturday afternoon. The winner of the Saturday afternoon game will play Friday night's winner on Saturday night.

Lost To Hagerstown

Fort Cumberland will be meeting Hagerstown for the second time this season. On July 13 at Hagerstown the Morris Frock team handed Cumberland its lone setback of the season, 7-1, after a 12-game victory streak. Dave Cole, Williamsport lad, pitching for Hagerstown, let Fort Cumberland down with one hit and fanned 16.

Manager Eddie Diehl has nominated his slim righthander, Jim Clingan, to pitch tonight's game while Cole will likely be Hagerstown's starter. Fort Cumberland will hold Pat "Lefty" Creegan in reserve.

Hagerstown is managed by Jac Stonebraker, former Hagerstown High School and University of Maryland athlete, who once played second base for the local Potomac Edison Company baseball team.

Cumberland won Mountain District honors by eliminating Farrady Post, Frostburg, then swept two games from My Maryland Post of Capitol Heights to move into the final round. Hagerstown eliminated Rising Sun.

Witness Night Game

Manager Diehl and his team arrived in Hagerstown yesterday and witnessed the Trenton-Hagerstown game of the Interstate League last night. During their stay in Hagerstown the players will visit other points of interest.

FROSTBURG, July 31.—Stoops' Restaurant nosed out Peck's Cafe in a Frostburg Softball League game today at State Teachers' College by the score of 2 to 1.

Bill Farrady and Kenny Edwards led the winners at the plate with two hits each.

The Chubby's-Century A. C. game scheduled today at Eckhart was postponed on account of wet grounds and will be played Friday at 6 p. m. at State Teachers' College field. The team from Frostburg Elks Lodge No. 470 will meet the Aristocrats in the second game on the program. Score:

Stitcher Planning Boys' Week Bouts

Show Set For Tuesday At Constitution Park

An amateur boxing show of approximately eight two-round exhibition bouts will be presented on the stage of the amphitheater at Constitution Park next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in conjunction with the Boys' Week program to be presented at the park.

Officer John Henry Stitcher, of the Cumberland Police Department, who promotes boxing shows for the Cumberland Police Boys' Club, is arranging the program.

Boxers of St. Mary's A. C., the Diamond A. C., Police Boys' Club and unattached leather pushers will participate in the no decision bouts.

No admission will be charged but a free will offering will be taken up, Stitcher said.

Stitcher said the outdoor show will give parents of the boxers and others who have never seen a boxing show an opportunity to witness the amateurs in action.

Billy Talbert Upset, Kramer, Schroeder Lose

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., July 31 (AP)—Second-seeded Billy Talbert of New York bowed out of the Meadow Club's 57th annual invitation tennis tournament today, joining three other top-ranking players on the sidlines as the quarter-final round was completed.

Talbert, sixth-ranking player in the country, was eliminated by seventh-seeded Sam Match of San Francisco in the second major upset of the grass court competition. Rallying from virtual defeat in the second set, Match triumphed with scores of 5-7, 6-4, 6-4.

No less surprising was the defeat of Jack Kramer and Ted Schroeder, Davis Cup doubles champions, who lost in straight sets in the second round doubles to Bernard Bartzen of San Angelo, Tex., and Gardner Larned of Chicago, 11-9, 6-3.

Colts Scrimmage

HERSHEY, Pa., July 31. (AP)—The Baltimore Colts of the All-America Professional Football Conference held their first scrimmage session today, just one week after the squad of 60-odd prospects pitched preseason training camp.

Harry Hopp, veteran pro campaigner, was impressive as he paced backfield candidates through the grind. Other standouts in today's workout were Quarterback Ernie Case and Halfbacks Doc Mobley and John Vardian.

Weldon Humble and Hub Bechtol showed up well in line play.

Third baseman Bob Elliott of the Boston Braves was born in San Francisco yet never played organized ball on the Pacific Coast.

Harness And Auto Races To Feature Fair At Bedford

Chitwood Daredevils Open Program Monday

BEDFORD, Pa., July 31—Bedford's great Fair, one of the top ten in Pennsylvania, will swing wide its gates Monday night, August 4, for the 73rd annual exhibition. Six nights and five days of entertainment and amusement are promised to thousands of fairgoers in the Tri-State area.

The fair will start right off with one of its feature attractions, the sensational Joie Chitwood Daredevils, featuring the veteran Cherokee Indian racetrack driver in a two-hour tilt with death. Three times winner of the national dirt track championship, Chitwood heads a cast of ace performers.

To Stage Harness Races

The harness racing season will get under way Tuesday, continuing on Thursday and Friday. Purses for the 3-day meet total $3,600. and many of the finest racers have been attracted by the 9-race program.

Tuesday will also be Children's Day at the fairgrounds. The management will throw open the grounds to children under 12 absolutely free, and an opportunity is thus extended for folks from far and wide to bring the kiddies and enjoy the special entertainment scheduled for this day.

The stage show which will be presented both afternoon and evening in front of the grandstand again provides top-flight entertainment, including the famed Grand Stand Follies of 1947, featuring 25 beautiful girls from the stage of the Roxy Theatre in New York. Six vaudeville acts include an unusual Apache trio, a perch pole act, one of the cleverest dog acts in show business, the celebrated Montana Kid and his horse Coley, a high-wire act, and an acrobatic team.

Wednesday will bring Jack Kochman's Thrill Drivers to the fairgrounds in the afternoon for the second thrill show. This championship troupe, defying death in stock cars and motorcycles, kept the audience in a state of nervous suspense during their entire show last year, and several new "wrinkles" have been added by Kochman to make this year's performance a "super-duper."

Thursday is always the "Big Day" at the fair. Cattle judging, special events, celebrated visitors, a special horse-racing program, will combine again to provide a day jam-packed with interest.

Wicker To Be Honored

Caseys Won 25 Straight

By C. V. BURNS

A reception is planned for Kemp C. Wicker, the southpaw hurler, who won 14 and lost 12 for the Mid-Atlantic Dobbins in 1932, the last year this city held a franchise in organized baseball.

Kemp piloted the Columbus Cardinals to the Sally League pennant last year and the fans are going to show their appreciation for his excellent work.

Although he denies using mirrors, Wicker brought the flag to a club that was seventh in team batting, sixth in team fielding, whose best pitcher won only 17 games and whose leading batter hit only .298.

Kemp has traveled extensively since leaving here. In 1937 he won seven and lost three for the New York Yankees. He once pitched for the Dodgers and was a big winner for the Newark Bears.

Jim Browning, manager of the Knights of Columbus softball team of the Rocking Chair Softball League, was discussing winning streaks the other day and called attention to the fact that 10, 12 and 15 wins in a row is nothing compared to a record established by the Caseys in 1943.

Four years ago the Knights won 25 consecutive games, including four in the championship playoffs of the Rocking Chair circuit, according to Jim.

"One of the highlights of that season was the pitching of Joe Neubiser," Browning recalled. "Joe pitched every game for the Caseys and included one no-hitter in his victory string. During the record-breaking winning streak Joe McDade went on a hitting spree and connected for eleven consecutive safeties.

"Beat that record if you can!"

The Bethlehem Bulldogs of the American Professional Football League, will file suit against the Colts for the return of a player and damages, according to Henry J. Heppe, general manager at Bethlehem.

Heppe said the suit will be opened in Maryland. The player in question is Cammille Piccone, Vineland, N. J., former Notre Dame halfback.

Piccone signed a Bethlehem contract November 14, 1946, Heppe said. Later the Colts announced he would play with them, and their roster released recently included his name.

Gordon Neil, 150-pounder of Washington, D. C., who has boxed several times recently for "Red" Mauk's Royale Athletic Club, almost halted the 25-bout winning streak of Joe O'Bara at the Point Stadium in Johnstown, Pa., last week.

In the fourth round Neil landed two right uppercuts that had O'Bara wobbly but the former Johnstown High School gridder shook the cobwebs from his brain, rallied and had Neil hanging on for the remainder of the fight, according to the Johnstown papers.

Neil was recommended to Mauk by Jimmie Childress, former local boxer.

If Tommy Yarosz defeats Bee Bee Washington in the nation's capital next month the Monaca, Pa., light-heavy will likely be matched with Smuggy Hursey in a September match there. That's the opinion of "Bunny" Buntag, Yarosz's manager. Hursey is the negro battler who knocked out Danny Kapilow in one round.

The Mahoney's certainly must like to handle "dough".

Mortimer was the first pari-mutuel manager hired by the Cumberland Fair Association. That was in 1926.

His son, William Riggs Mahoney, has been named mutuel manager at Laurel by directors of the Maryland State Fair, Inc. The Laurel meet opens October 1 and runs 25 days.

Riggs is also mutuel manager at Narragansett and has served as assistant to his father at Pimlico.

Another of Mort's sons, Jack, serves as an aide at Atlantic City, Monmouth Park, Garden State Park and Hialeah Park.

Nearby Somerset county (Pa.) seems to be a popular spot for high school football teams to pitch training camps this year.

Charleroi, Greensburg, Dunbar Township, Clairton and Hurst have all selected Somerset sites. Charleroi will make the Somerset armory its headquarters and take its meals at the high school there.

Brian Holsopple, the middleweight boxer of the Keystate Athletic Club of Johnstown, who knocked out Bill Mann of the Rocket A.C. in a recent amateur boxing show here was badly injured at the Point Stadium in Johnstown, Pa., the other night when he was flattened by Don Free, terrific punching 142-pounder of Jeanette, Pa., in 1:59 of the first round.

Free scored two quick knockdowns before he delivered the "atomic punch" that put Holsopple down for the full count.

Cleveland Sweeps Red Sox Series, 5-4

BOSTON, July 31 (AP)—Homers by Manager Lou Boudreau and Joe Gordon scored all Cleveland's runs today as the Indians swept a three-game stand by edging the Red Sox, 5 to 4, before a 5,879 crowd at Fenway Park.

Both drives landed barely fair in the left field screen, Boudreau's in the first with Dale Mitchell on base after a single, and Gordon's in the sixth with Eddie Robinson and Hank Edwards ahead of him after a single and a walk.

For righthander Bob Lemon it was his first start of the season for the Indians and he was credited with the victory although he left the game in the sixth, when the Sox collected three runs. Box:

Reese's 3-Base Hit Wins Game In Ninth

ST. LOUIS, July 31 (AP)—Brooklyn waltzed out of town today with a 13-game winning streak, a 1-game National League lead and a clean sweep of its important series with the defending champion St. Louis Cardinals off a 2-1 victory in the finale.

Pee Wee Reese, whose tenth-inning single had nullified the Cards' dramatic uphill surge last night, came through with a nine-inning triple today scoring Bruce Edwards who had singled. The winning smash hugged the fair side of the right field foul line.

The triumph, spun by little Vic Lombardi, only recently restored to grace as a regular starter, gave the Brooks their second longest win string in history. The club record of 15 was established by Uncle Wilbert Robinson's Robins of 1924.

Just as in last night's game when the Cards came back to force the issue at the last second, the champs rallied in the last of the ninth after Reese's blow had broken a 1-1 tie. Box:

LEONARD BLANKS PHILS

CHICAGO, July 31 (AP) — Emil "Dutch" Leonard, the ex-American League knuckle ball pitcher, held the Cubs to five scattered hits here today for the 3-0 victory which gave the Philadelphia Phillies their first series of the year over Chicago. It was Philedelphia's third victory in 16 meetings with the Cubs.

Leonard was the complete master in registering his 12th victory of the season against five defeats. He allowed only two runners to reach second, struck out six, and not a one of the Cubs' five hits were for extra bases. Box:

Government Acts To Save Nation's Duck Population

Open Season And Bag Limits Restricted

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP)—The government today sharply restricted the open season and bag limits on duck hunting, decreeing an average of 30 days shooting in the east and 85 in the central and western states. The curtailment reflects a marked decline in the waterfowl population and poor breeding conditions along the migratory routes.

Last year the country's average open season was 45 days. It was 80 in 1945.

This year's daily bag limit on ducks was set at four, as compared with seven last year and 10 in 1945. The limit on the number of ducks a hunter may have in his possession was set at eight, compared with 14 last year and 20 the year before.

Shooting hours generally fall within the period of sunrise to sunset with some specific exceptions for certain types of fowl.

Opening dates vary according to states. The Fish and Wildlife Service said that the states, which have the option of splitting their season, have already decided this matter individually. However, the choice of a split season reduces the number of days of shooting, to offset the always heavy kills on the opening day of both segments of a split season. For instance a state with a 30-day straight season could have but two 12-day split seasons.

The shorter season allowed in the east was explained on the grounds that breeding conditions were poorer in the areas from which its migratory wildfowl fly south.

Today's regulations, issued by President Truman, are reminiscent of the big duck depression of the mid-30's. They also cover various other wildfowl.

The regulations are intended to prevent the disappearance of wild fowl — such as happened to the once prolific passenger pigeon.

A January estimate put the waterfowl population at 54,000,000, a decline of 26,000,000 from the 1946 estimate.

The 1943 estimate was 126,000,000. This has been reduced, in part because of hunters returning from the war and because of an easing of the wartime shortage of ammunition and other hunting equipment. Hunting license sales have boomed in recent years.

The open season on waterfowl and coot-except for wood ducks, snow geese, and brant in several states; and excluding Ross' geese and swans—are as follows:

Tennessee and Virginia—Dec. 8 to Jan. 6, 1948.

West Virginia—Nov. 4 to Dec. 3.

Maryland—Nov. 4 to Nov. 14 and Dec. 23 to Jan. 2.

Rails and gallinules (except coot) may be taken from Sept. 1 to Nov. 30, inclusive. Exceptions include:

Maryland, Sept. 1 to 30.

On Woodcock, the open seasons are established as follows:

West Virginia, Oct. 16 to Oct. 30.

Virginia, Nov. 20 to Dec. 4.

Maryland, Sept. 1 to Oct. 15.

Tennessee, Sept. 1 to Oct. 30 from noon to sunset.

Virginia, Sept. 16 to Oct. 31.

Maryland Avenue Wins Game By Forfeit Route

Maryland Avenue won over Bechtol's Bouncers via the forfeit route yesterday when the latter team failed to put in its appearance for a Junior City Softball League game at Fort Hill field.

Stitcher Planning Boys' Week Bouts

Show Set For Tuesday At Constitution Park

An amateur boxing show of approximately eight two-round exhibition bouts will be presented on the stage of the amphitheater at Constitution Park next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in conjunction with the Boys' Week program to be presented at the park.

Officer John Henry Stitcher, of the Cumberland Police Department, who promotes boxing shows for the Cumberland Police Boys' Club, is arranging the program.

Boxers of St. Mary's A. C., the Diamond A. C., Police Boys' Club and unattached leather pushers will participate in the no decision bouts.

No admission will be charged but a free will offering will be taken up, Stitcher said.

Stitcher said the outdoor show will give parents of the boxers and others who have never seen a boxing show an opportunity to witness the amateurs in action.

Billy Talbert Upset, Kramer, Schroeder Lose

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., July 31 (AP)—Second-seeded Billy Talbert of New York bowed out of the Meadow Club's 57th annual invitation tennis tournament today, joining three other top-ranking players on the sidlines as the quarter-final round was completed.

Talbert, sixth-ranking player in the country, was eliminated by seventh-seeded Sam Match of San Francisco in the second major upset of the grass court competition. Rallying from virtual defeat in the second set, Match triumphed with scores of 5-7, 6-4, 6-4.

No less surprising was the defeat of Jack Kramer and Ted Schroeder, Davis Cup doubles champions, who lost in straight sets in the second round doubles to Bernard Bartzen of San Angelo, Tex., and Gardner Larned of Chicago, 11-9, 6-3.

Colts Scrimmage

HERSHEY, Pa., July 31. (AP)—The Baltimore Colts of the All-America Professional Football Conference held their first scrimmage session today, just one week after the squad of 60-odd prospects pitched preseason training camp.

Harry Hopp, veteran pro campaigner, was impressive as he paced backfield candidates through the grind. Other standouts in today's workout were Quarterback Ernie Case and Halfbacks Doc Mobley and John Vardian.

Weldon Humble and Hub Bechtol showed up well in line play.

Third baseman Bob Elliott of the Boston Braves was born in San Francisco yet never played organized ball on the Pacific Coast.

Chitwood Daredevils Open Program Monday

BEDFORD, Pa., July 31—Bedford's great Fair, one of the top ten in Pennsylvania, will swing wide its gates Monday night, August 4, for the 73rd annual exhibition. Six nights and five days of entertainment and amusement are promised to thousands of fairgoers in the Tri-State area.

The fair will start right off with one of its feature attractions, the sensational Joie Chitwood Daredevils, featuring the veteran Cherokee Indian racetrack driver in a two-hour tilt with death. Three times winner of the national dirt track championship, Chitwood heads a cast of ace performers.

To Stage Harness Races

The harness racing season will get under way Tuesday, continuing on Thursday and Friday. Purses for the 3-day meet total $3,600. and many of the finest racers have been attracted by the 9-race program.

Tuesday will also be Children's Day at the fairgrounds. The management will throw open the grounds to children under 12 absolutely free, and an opportunity is thus extended for folks from far and wide to bring the kiddies and enjoy the special entertainment scheduled for this day.

The stage show which will be presented both afternoon and evening in front of the grandstand again provides top-flight entertainment, including the famed Grand Stand Follies of 1947, featuring 25 beautiful girls from the stage of the Roxy Theatre in New York. Six vaudeville acts include an unusual Apache trio, a perch pole act, one of the cleverest dog acts in show business, the celebrated Montana Kid and his horse Coley, a high-wire act, and an acrobatic team.

Wednesday will bring Jack Kochman's Thrill Drivers to the fairgrounds in the afternoon for the second thrill show. This championship troupe, defying death in stock cars and motorcycles, kept the audience in a state of nervous suspense during their entire show last year, and several new "wrinkles" have been added by Kochman to make this year's performance a "super-duper."

Thursday is always the "Big Day" at the fair. Cattle judging, special events, celebrated visitors, a special horse-racing program, will combine again to provide a day jam-packed with interest.

Special features are being arranged by the fair management for Friday, in addition to the regularly scheduled harness racing, and a complete change of program for the revue.

Auto Races Saturday

AAA-sponsored auto races on Saturday will bring the cream of the nation's drivers to Bedford again, including Bill Holland, Ted Horne, and several dozen others who have thrilled fair crowds before.

A new carnival will take over the Midway this year. Emde Brothers, a 32-car railroad show with 20 new and unusual shows and 20 modern rides, will provide the Bedford Fair with one of the largest carnivals ever to pitch tents here.

Entries for the agricultural departments are still opuring in, attracted by greatly augmented premium list. In the traditionally strong cattle department some of the finest herds in the county will be entered once again.

Exhibits by vocational agriculture students will be of special interest, and will receive a prominent position this year. The vocational students will show several special booths as part of their exhibits.

From the decade 1937 to 1946, a summary of catastrophic accidents according to type shows that the greatest loss of life, 30 per cent of the total, resulted from conflagration, burns and explosions. Nearly one-quarter of all lives lost resulted from natural disasters such as tornadoes, floods and hurricanes.

Legion Tourney Opens Tonight In Hagerstown

Fort Cumberland Will Battle Morris Frock

Fort Cumberland Post No. 12, of this city, and Morris Frock Post, of Hagerstown, will clash in the opening game of the Maryland American Legion junior baseball tournament tonight at 8:15 o'clock at Interstate League park, Hagerstown.

The team emerging from the three-day grind will be crowned champions of Maryland and will compete against champions of several states in the next round of the tourney.

Three teams are competing in the Hagerstown tourney, Westport Post being Baltimore's representative.

A team must lose two games before being eliminated in the Hagerstown tourney which ends on Sunday.

The loser of tonight's game will play Westport Saturday afternoon. The winner of the Saturday afternoon game will play Friday night's winner on Saturday night.

Lost To Hagerstown

Fort Cumberland will be meeting Hagerstown for the second time this season. On July 13 at Hagerstown the Morris Frock team handed Cumberland its lone setback of the season, 7-1, after a 12-game victory streak. Dave Cole, Williamsport lad, pitching for Hagerstown, let Fort Cumberland down with one hit and fanned 16.

Manager Eddie Diehl has nominated his slim righthander, Jim Clingan, to pitch tonight's game while Cole will likely be Hagerstown's starter. Fort Cumberland will hold Pat "Lefty" Creegan in reserve.

Hagerstown is managed by Jack Stonebraker, former Hagerstown High School and University of Maryland athlete, who once played second base for the local Potomac Edison Company baseball team.

Cumberland won Mountain District honors by eliminating Farrady Post, Frostburg, then swept two games from My Maryland Post of Capitol Heights to move into the final round. Hagerstown eliminated Rising Sun.

Witness Night Game

Manager Diehl and his team arrived in Hagerstown yesterday and witnessed the Trenton-Hagerstown game of the Interstate League last night. During their stay in Hagerstown the players will visit other points of interest.

Newsom Thinks Night Baseball Tops Day Games

Bobo Says He's Happy To Be With Yankees

By LAWRENCE PERRY

NEW YORK, July 31—The Yankees' dressing room was a happy place, as usual. Eight of the players were seated at a table seriously engaged in autographing baseballs—several huge boxes of them—and Red Patterson, the club secretary, was keeping them at the work. When they had finished their task, he herded others up to the table. Joe DiMaggio in half uniform, was munching on a lettuce and tomato sandwich. Frank Shea was having his bad elbow massaged by the trainer.

Bobo Newsom, in a Yankee uniform shirt, and bare legged, stalked past the table swinging a towel. Bobo's majesty of physique never was so impressively revealed as in his state of dishabille. He is a man of mighty stature and equatorial girth, his legs pillars of Hercules.

"Who was it," asked Aaron Robinson, glancing at him, "who wrote the other day he is Jack Dempsey's double?"

"Double is right," grinned Bud Chandler. "He is two Dempseys."

"How," we asked Red Patterson, not wishing to submit so intimate a question to the pitcher, "did he get that nickname, Bobo? It used to be Buck."

Calls Everyone Bobo

"He gave it to himself," Red said. "Just likes the sound, and he likes it so much he calls everyone else by that name."

We found that to be correct a few minutes later as we accosted the big fellow, now seated on a chair in an alcove trying to work up energy to put on the stockings he held in his hand.

"Happy here?" we asked him.

"Sure am happy, Bobo," he replied. "Never was in Manhattan before."

This was somewhat surprising; for since Bobo broke in with Raleigh in the Piedmont League in 1928, his contract has changed hands 22 times. He has played four times with the Senators, three times with the Browns, and has pitched for the Chicago Cubs, Detroit Tigers, Boston Red Sox, Philadelphia Athletics — "and," Bobo said, having run over this list of clubs, "come to think, I was in New York, if Brooklyn is New York, which I reckon it is. I was there twice. MacPhail got me there once—and he got me on the Yankees, for which I owe him a vote of thanks."

Maybe the Colonel owes him a vote, too, since his hurling record for the Yanks stands, at this writing, 4-0.

"Do you mind pitching night ball?"

"Why should I? I win night or day. Fact is I think night ball is better for all the players. Light is more even. Daytime you get changes from sun to shadow, a glare and then gloom."

"Babe Ruth says it is ruining ball players' eyes."

"Well, the Babe's opinion is to be respected—and so is mine."

Saved Ruth's Record

"I was going to pitch against old Hankus and I get a telegram signed "Ruth" as follows: 'Record means nothing to me, if honestly broken. Bear down.' It may have been a gag by someone. I don't know. Anyway, I strike Hank out three times—or maybe four—and the Babe still holds that record," said Newsom.

Bobo has gone on record as saying that while ballplayers are entitled to get all they can, owners have been paying some of them too much for what they do. But he never seems to have applied this theory to himself. Once when he was dickering with Connie Mack, the grand old man got irritated to the point of remarking that "this fellow Newsom is just a big boy." "Maybe he is a boy," Newsom retorted, "but just the same he wants a man's pay," which he got.

Bobo is always quick on the comeback, as countless stories of his witty cracks clearly demonstrate. But they say he is a lot quieter with the Yankees than he has ever been on any club. He has been shot with luck in this Yankee deal, and he is solmenly impressed by it.

Joe Walcott To Fight Louis In 10-Round Bout On Nov. 18

Non-Title Go Billed For New York Ring

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP)—Jersey Joe Walcott of Camden, N. J., will climb into the Madison Square Garden ring Nov. 18 to face Joe Louis without having, in theory at least, a chance of lifting the heavyweight champion's title.

The match, announced today by Sol Strauss, acting director of the 20th Century Sporting Club, is billed as a 10-round non-title fight, and inasmuch as a bout must be booked for 15 rounds to be considered as a championship fight in New York, Walcott would seem to be fighting only for any prestige he might attain. That, and what is known as money.

If Walcott Scores KO

However, the general idea around Jacobs' Beach is that, should Jersey Joe win by a knockout he would be regarded generally as champion, and even should he win a clean-cut decision he would have at least an unofficial claim to the title.

The National Boxing Association also recognizes only 15-round bouts for the championship, except in possible member states where 15-round bouts are not permitted. Prexy Abe Greene said that should Walcott win by a kayo no commission could deny his title claim.

Although, according to the New York rule, it is a non-title fight, the fact Louis would, in the public mind at least, be considered an ex-champion were he to be knocked out makes it theoretically his 24th title defense.

The bout is the first of two 10-round so-called non-title affairs planned for Louis the coming winter. The other, against an opponent yet to be chosen, is scheduled for next March.

Walcott, a 32-year-old veteran of the ring wars, has probably the best record of eligible Louis opponents and is considered by many as the best of the current crop of so-called contenders.

He has had three fights this year, defeating Joey Maxim twice and outpointing Elmer "Violent" Ray. He had lost close decisions to each of these men previously. He is a wide-shouldered, well-muscled individual with a fair punch and much cleverness and know-how. His left jab is rated among the best in the business.

Fight Called Off

NBA Prexy Says Title Must Be Won In Ring

PATERSON, N. J., July 31. (AP)—Abe J. Greene, president of the National Boxing Association, said today he had received the claim of Dado Marino for the world flyweight boxing title, but added that the NBA still holds that championships are won in the ring.

Sam Ichinose, manager of Marino, wired Greene from Glasgow, Scotland, the claim of the Honolul boxer for the title which the British Boxing Board of Control took away yesterday from Jackie Patterson, who had failed to make his scheduled defense of the title against Marino.

Greene said the NBA would recognize as a title bout one between Marino and one of the leading contenders, the most prominent of whom is Rinty Monaghan, Irish flyweight champion. The winner, Greene added, would be considered world champion.

Race Commission Approves Ten Day Meet At Marlboro

Group Had Revoked September Permit

BALTIMORE, July 31 (AP)—The State Racing Commission today reversed itself and authorized a ten-day meeting at Marlboro track starting Sept. 13.

A commission statement said the governing body still is not satisfied with conditions at the Prince Georges County Track but recognizes that circumstances make it difficult to carry out improvements.

Previously the commission had revoked the ten-day Marlboro permit on grounds the half-mile oval's facilities are too run down and too limited.

The commission said it still is reluctant to sanction racing there.

The commission statement; in part:

"The commission made an inspection of the Marlboro track on Tuesday, July 28, at the request of the (Southern Maryland Agricultural) Association, and upon its statement that every possible effort was being made to put the plant in shape for racing in September, consistent with the existing building restrictions.

"The commission found the condition of the plant improved by repairs and maintenance work since its prior inspection on July 2. Stables which were beyond repair have been torn down and the materials used to put other stables in usable condition. The association has assured the commission that it will furnish stabling at Bowie for horsemen who so desire and will van horses to Marlboro free of charge.

"The yater supply has been enlarged and extended; and the parking facilities and the sanitary and drainage systems have been improved.

"While the facilities presently available for agricultural and cattle exhibits, as well as for the public and the horsemen, are in no sense what the commission regards as adequate, yet it is recognized that the construction of new improvements which are so urgently needed has been impossible during the past year because of existing building regulations.

"This is not a complete excuse, however, for the failure to provide adequate facilities, which extends back over a long period of years.

"The commission is reluctant to sanction racing at an agricultural fair where the facilities for the public and the horsemen are as limted as those at Marlboro."

Warren Spahn of the Boston Braves won 19 games, lost 6 and had a 1.93 earned run average for Evansville, Ind., in the Three-Eye League in 1941.

ALLEGANY COUNTY TENNIS TOURNEY TO START AUG. 9

The annual Allegany County tennis tournament will be held this year on the local courts August 9 to 16, inclusive.

All events will be played, men's singles for the Schwarzenbach cup, now held by Charles Jones, last year's winner; women's singles; men's doubles; mixed doubles; and women's doubles.

Entries should be made to L. E. Van Sant, the Dingle courts; Gordon Bowie, the Country Club; or Joe Garlitz, Garlitz Recreation courts on Williams Road.

Ike, Bob Are Fit For Monday Bout

Montgomery To Fight Williams For Title

PHILADELPHIA, July 31 (AP)—Bob Montgomery and Ike Williams carried their four-year old feud into the office of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission today where they were pronounced physically fit for their 15-round lightweight title fight Monday.

Montgomery, recognized as the 135-pound king in New York and Pennsylvania, took the play away from Williams, National Boxing Association ruler, with his kidding but nary a word did the two exchange.

Williams had little to say as Dr. Ralph C. Lanciano, commission physician, gave him a thorough going over. And he looked almost angry as the fighters posed for the cameramen.

In contrast the Bobcat, while waiting for his turn, toyed with the physician's instrument's and chatted freely with the fight mob that jammed the examination room in Commissioner Leon Rains' office.

Dr. Lanciano said both fighters were in "perfect condition."

Two former Cardinals, Johnny Mize of the Giants and Harry Walker of the Phillies, are big guns in the National League this year.

Babe Ruth, well known as a right fielder and as a pitcher, played some games at first for the Boston Red Sox in 1918, for the Yankees in 1920, '21 and '32, and appeared at that station in the third game of the 1923 World Series.

I was there twice. MacPhail got me there once—and he got me on the Yankees, for which I owe him a vote of thanks."

Maybe the Colonel owes him a vote, too, since his hurling record for the Yanks stands, at this writing, 4-0.

"Do you mind pitching night ball?"

"Why should I? I win night or day. Fact is I think night ball is better for all the players. Light is more even. Daytime you get changes from sun to shadow, a glare and then gloom."

"Babe Ruth says it is ruining ball players' eyes."

"Well, the Babe's opinion is to be respected—and so is mine."

Saved Ruth's Record

"I was going to pitch against old Hankus and I get a telegram signed "Ruth" as follows: 'Record means nothing to me, if honestly broken. Bear down.' It may have been a gag by someone. I don't know. Anyway, I strike Hank out three times—or maybe four—and the Babe still holds that record," said Newsom.

Bobo has gone on record as saying that while ballplayers are entitled to get all they can, owners have been paying some of them too much for what they do. But he never seems to have applied this theory to himself. Once when he was dickering with Connie Mack, the grand old man got irritated to the point of remarking that "this fellow Newsom is just a big boy." "Maybe he is a boy," Newsom retorted, "but just the same he wants a man's pay," which he got.

Bobo is always quick on the comeback, as countless stories of his witty cracks clearly demonstrate. But they say he is a lot quieter with the Yankees than he has ever been on any club. He has been shot with luck in this Yankee deal, and he is solmenly impressed by it.

Joe Walcott To Fight Louis In 10-Round Bout On Nov. 18

Non-Title Go Billed For New York Ring

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP)—Jersey Joe Walcott of Camden, N. J., will climb into the Madison Square Garden ring Nov. 18 to face Joe Louis without having, in theory at least, a chance of lifting the heavyweight champion's title.

The match, announced today by Sol Strauss, acting director of the 20th Century Sporting Club, is billed as a 10-round non-title fight, and inasmuch as a bout must be booked for 15 rounds to be considered as a championship fight in New York, Walcott would seem to be fighting only for any prestige he might attain. That, and what is known as money.

If Walcott Scores KO

However, the general idea around Jacobs' Beach is that, should Jersey Joe win by a knockout he would be regarded generally as champion, and even should he win a clean-cut decision he would have at least an unofficial claim to the title.

The National Boxing Association also recognizes only 15-round bouts for the championship, except in possible member states where 15-round bouts are not permitted. Prexy Abe Greene said that should Walcott win by a kayo no commission could deny his title claim.

Although, according to the New York rule, it is a non-title fight, the fact Louis would, in the public mind at least, be considered an ex-champion were he to be knocked out makes it theoretically his 24th title defense.

The bout is the first of two 10-round so-called non-title affairs planned for Louis the coming winter. The other, against an opponent yet to be chosen, is scheduled for next March.

Walcott, a 32-year-old veteran of the ring wars, has probably the best record of eligible Louis opponents and is considered by many as the best of the current crop of so-called contenders.

He has had three fights this year, defeating Joey Maxim twice and outpointing Elmer "Violent" Ray. He had lost close decisions to each of these men previously. He is a wide-shouldered, well-muscled individual with a fair punch and much cleverness and know-how. His left jab is rated among the best in the business.

Fight Called Off

NBA Prexy Says Title Must Be Won In Ring

PATERSON, N. J., July 31. (AP)—Abe J. Greene, president of the National Boxing Association, said today he had received the claim of Dado Marino for the world flyweight boxing title, but added that the NBA still holds that championships are won in the ring.

Sam Ichinose, manager of Marino, wired Greene from Glasgow, Scotland, the claim of the Honolul boxer for the title which the British Boxing Board of Control took away yesterday from Jackie Patterson, who had failed to make his scheduled defense of the title against Marino.

Greene said the NBA would recognize as a title bout one between Marino and one of the leading contenders, the most prominent of whom is Rinty Monaghan, Irish flyweight champion. The winner, Greene added, would be considered world champion.

Race Commission Approves Ten Day Meet At Marlboro

Group Had Revoked September Permit

BALTIMORE, July 31 (AP)—The State Racing Commission today reversed itself and authorized a ten-day meeting at Marlboro track starting Sept. 13.

A commission statement said the governing body still is not satisfied with conditions at the Prince Georges County Track but recognizes that circumstances make it difficult to carry out improvements.

Previously the commission had revoked the ten-day Marlboro permit on grounds the half-mile oval's facilities are too run down and too limited.

The commission said it still is reluctant to sanction racing there.

The commission statement; in part:

"The commission made an inspection of the Marlboro track on Tuesday, July 28, at the request of the (Southern Maryland Agricultural) Association, and upon its statement that every possible effort was being made to put the plant in shape for racing in September, consistent with the existing building restrictions.

"The commission found the condition of the plant improved by repairs and maintenance work since its prior inspection on July 2. Stables which were beyond repair have been torn down and the materials used to put other stables in usable condition. The association has assured the commission that it will furnish stabling at Bowie for horsemen who so desire and will van horses to Marlboro free of charge.

"The yater supply has been enlarged and extended; and the parking facilities and the sanitary and drainage systems have been improved.

"While the facilities presently available for agricultural and cattle exhibits, as well as for the public and the horsemen, are in no sense what the commission regards as adequate, yet it is recognized that the construction of new improvements which are so urgently needed has been impossible during the past year because of existing building regulations.

"This is not a complete excuse, however, for the failure to provide adequate facilities, which extends back over a long period of years.

"The commission is reluctant to sanction racing at an agricultural fair where the facilities for the public and the horsemen are as limted as those at Marlboro."

Warren Spahn of the Boston Braves won 19 games, lost 6 and had a 1.93 earned run average for Evansville, Ind., in the Three-Eye League in 1941.

ALLEGANY COUNTY TENNIS TOURNEY TO START AUG. 9

The annual Allegany County tennis tournament will be held this year on the local courts August 9 to 16, inclusive.

All events will be played, men's singles for the Schwarzenbach cup, now held by Charles Jones, last year's winner; women's singles; men's doubles; mixed doubles; and women's doubles.

Entries should be made to L. E. Van Sant, the Dingle courts; Gordon Bowie, the Country Club; or Joe Garlitz, Garlitz Recreation courts on Williams Road.

Ike, Bob Are Fit For Monday Bout

Montgomery To Fight Williams For Title

PHILADELPHIA, July 31 (AP)—Bob Montgomery and Ike Williams carried their four-year old feud into the office of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission today where they were pronounced physically fit for their 15-round lightweight title fight Monday.

Montgomery, recognized as the 135-pound king in New York and Pennsylvania, took the play away from Williams, National Boxing Association ruler, with his kidding but nary a word did the two exchange.

Williams had little to say as Dr. Ralph C. Lanciano, commission physician, gave him a thorough going over. And he looked almost angry as the fighters posed for the cameramen.

In contrast the Bobcat, while waiting for his turn, toyed with the physician's instrument's and chatted freely with the fight mob that jammed the examination room in Commissioner Leon Rains' office.

Dr. Lanciano said both fighters were in "perfect condition."

Two former Cardinals, Johnny Mize of the Giants and Harry Walker of the Phillies, are big guns in the National League this year.

Babe Ruth, well known as a right fielder and as a pitcher, played some games at first for the Boston Red Sox in 1918, for the Yankees in 1920, '21 and '32, and appeared at that station in the third game of the 1923 World Series.

Strong Brew Makes Best Iced Tea

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

Only in America is iced tea popular. That's partly, of course, because we have much more ice readily available than have most other countries. Having ice in quantity, we have become exceedingly fond of iced drinks at meals, and in between during the summer.

But though we like iced tea, we don't always make it properly, for which I think we should be heartily ashamed of ourselves. First, tea should be freshly made if it's to be iced. Our fairly widespread habit of making a pitcher full of tea and storing it in the refrigerator to chill is a very bad one.

Brew Double Strength

Iced tea should be brewed double strength, to allow for the dilution caused by melting ice. In other words, you use two teaspoons of tea to a cup of water. Have the tea ready in a pre-heated pot. Pour boiling water over it. Let it seep between three and five minutes, depending upon your taste—but never more than five. Then pour it directly into the glasses, which are filled to the brim with ice.

Never under any circumstances use a tea bag if you want to get the full flavor and use of your tea. The leaves, all crowded in that way, can't expand properly — and that expansion is what lets the flavor get out. Cloudiness, which does no harm to flavor, is more likely to develop with fine tea than with inferior grades and with a strong brew than a weak one.

With iced tea serve sugar and lemon slices for those who like them. Stick the slices with cloves and have a few maraschino cherries handy for people who want their iced tea "fancy."

BETWEEN-MEAL SNACK . . . Chocolate Raisin Cookies and Iced Tea

What to serve with iced tea, when it's a between-meal drink? Well, if I could have my way, I'd never have any accompaniment other than thin, thin bread-and-butter sandwiches. A bit of fresh dill, chopped and creamed into the butter, is a delicious and allowable addition.

There are those, however, who want fancier sandwiches. White or dark bread spread with a tiny bit of mayonnaise and rolled around watercress is good. Most cheese spreads, sweet or sharp, go well with tea. They may be put on bread or crackers.

And finally, there are tea drinkers who want a bit of a sweet with their tea. A filled cookie jar is a good thing to have in any house. Here's an excellent cookie recipe from that fine new cookbook Sour Cream Cookery by Barbara Brown (M. Barrows and Co.)

Chocolate Raisin Cookies

2½ cup butter
1½ cups sugar
2 eggs
½ cup cocoa
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup sour cream
3 cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
⅔ cup raisins
½ teaspoon salt

Cream the butter and sugar together until fluffy. Add the eggs and beat for 2 mins. Sift the salt and soda with the flour, add, alternating with the sour cream. Flavor and blend well. Add the raisins. Chill the dough for an hour in the refrigerator then drop by teaspoonful onto an oiled baking sheet. Flatten with a spatula. Bake for 12 mins. at 350°.

And if you really want to go the whole way and offer your guests cake, please just make it a simple pound cake, sliced very thin, or, at most a dark raisin cake with just a thin simple icing.

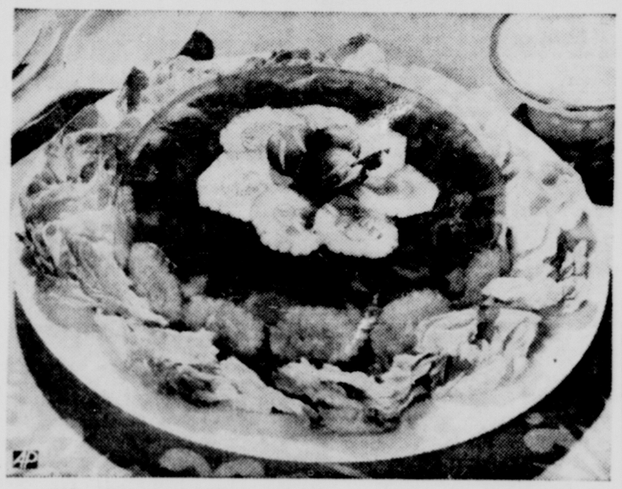
SUMMER SALADS



JELLIED VEGETABLE SALAD . . . Looks cool, tastes cool

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

Of course, if you try to keep yourself in the best of health, you eat salads the year round. But summertime is really salad time, and there's an abundance of fine things to put into those cooling and delectable salads which make the main course of many a meal.

Jellied Fresh Vegetable Salad

2 tablespoons gelatine
¾ cup cold water
2 cups boiling water
4 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup vinegar
2 tablespoons grated onion
½ cup celery crescents
½ cup diced green pepper
½ cup thinly sliced radish
½ cup coarsely grated carrot
1 or 2 cucumbers, peeled, scored and sliced
Real mayonnaise

Soften gelatine with cold water, add boiling water, sugar and salt and stir until dissolved. Add vinegar and onion. Chill until sirupy. Add vegetables except cucumber and lettuce. Arrange cucumber slices around sides of a deep eight-inch round pan. Pour gelatine mixture into pan and chill until firm. Unmold on chop plate, garnish with additional cucumber, radish roses and Boston lettuce. Serve with mayonnaise.

Flower Salad

6 medium sized tomatoes
6 tablespoons salad oil
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1½ cups sauerkraut
¾ cup finely diced celery
½ cup chopped stuffed olives
Crisp salad greens

Peel tomatoes and chill. Combine salad oil, lemon juice, sugar, salt, and pepper with an egg beater. Drain sauerkraut, celery and olives. Arrange salad greens on plates. Place one tomato on each plate and cut into six wedges with a sharp knife, but not cutting quite through the bottom. Spread the wedges apart a little. Pile sauerkraut mixture in the center of each tomato and garnish with a slice of stuffed olive. Real mayonnaise may be used in place of the French dressing, if desired.

Avocado Buffet Salad

1 avocado
Lemon juice
Salt
2 cups shredded cabbage
1 cup flaked sea food
½ cup whole ripe olives
Mayonnaise
Lettuce
Paprika

Cut avocado into quarters lengthwise and remove seed and skin. Sprinkle with lemon juice and salt. Combine cabbage, sea food and salt to taste, olives sliced from pits and sufficient mayonnaise to moisten. Blend lightly. Arrange in center of a large lettuce-garnished salad plate. Place avacado quarters around fish salad. Garnish salad with mayonnaise and sprinkle with paprika.

Frostburg Man On Hiking Trip To West Coast

Expects To Return In About 11 Weeks

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, July 31 — Luther Warren, an employe in the engineering department of the Celanese Corporation, who resides with Mr and Mrs. John Goldsworthy, 25 Park Avenue, left here five weeks ago to spend a vacation of 11 weeks on a walking tour to the Pacific coast and return.

Warren, a graduate of Purdue University, has been a resident of Frostburg several years and has been a familiar figure on all the highways in this section. Almost every day after returning from work he walks for hours and will never accept a life from a passing motorist. He spends his weekends on long walks to local historical spots and the mountain sections of Garrett County, West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

When he left here five weeks ago, he informed Mr. and Mrs. Goldsworthy that he had been granted a leave of three months and planned to spend 11 weeks walking from Frostburg to the shores of the Pacific and return on foot.

Car Contract Awarded

The Green Chevrolet Company, this city, was awarded the contract by the Mayor and City Commissioners for a fully equipped police car, which is to be delivered in 30 or 60 days. One other local automobile dealer submitted a bid. The car is to be a 4 door sedan, colored black and equipped with spare tire and wheel, siren, spot light, siren and fender stop lights.

Grouse Breaks Bank Window

One of the front windows of the Fidelity Savings Bank was broken yesterday at 6 p. m. when a ruffed grouse flew against it. The force of the impact killed the bird which was picked up by Harry Frost who sent it to Meyersdale to be stuffed and placed as a souvenir in the Century Club, an establishment operated here by Frost.

According to Frost, who was on the opposite side of the street with his wife and child, the grouse flew right over his head toward the bank. Thinking someone threw a rock, Frost said he ducked and then heard the crash and the flutter of the bird, which he described as a large well developed hen.

Local sportsmen state that it is rare for a grouse to be found in populated places. In recent years very few grouse have been in the woods in this section, one hunter said.

Fined On Motor Counts

Rose, who was hit by the vehicle, testified at the hearing that he was standing with his arm around the pole when Warnick's automobile hit the pole. He was taken to Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, for treatment.

Keyser Section Is Hit By Severe Electrical Storm And Cloudburst

Four Places Struck By Lightning Bolts

By MRS. JOSEPH H. TAYLOR

KEYSER, W. Va., July 31.—Extensive damage was done in Keyser and the surrounding section shortly after noon today when a cloudburst and severe electric storm hit the area.

Lightning struck at least four spots in town and cellars were flooded and gardens washed out. Hailstones as large as peas fell during the storm.

A 10 horse power motor at the filtration plant was struck by lightning and completely burned.

The chimney at the home of Mrs. George Grubbs was struck and knocked down. Flying bricks from the chimney struck the windows of the house next door, occupied by Alvin Moore, and knocked two panes out.

It is also believed that lightning struck a 2,300 volt wire on Fort Avenue as that section was without electricity for several hours. Potomac Light and Power workers repaired the line as soon as possible.

Firemen were called for the third time at 2 p. m. when lightning ran down a wire and heated a board in the ceiling of a one-story frame house on Newton Street occupied by James Lewis.

Slight damage was done to a truck parked on South Main Street at 2:30 p. m., when a short circuit in the wiring of the truck caused it to catch on fire. Firemen could not locate the owner.

Fish To Be Removed

Fish will be removed from New Creek Friday, August 1, due to the present drop in New Crook, which has become so low that it will be necessary to remove all fish from the lower section. All members of the Mineral County Wild Life Association and sportsmen are urged to be at the filtration plant at 5 p. m. Friday to assist in the project. A pump truck for transportation will be available. Seines will be furnished by the Conservation Commission, according to an announcement made by L. L. Blackburn, secretary of the Mineral County Wild Life Association.

Bible School Will Close

The Vacation Bible School conducted in McCoole, will close Friday. All parents and friends are invited to attend the closing exercises of the school which will be held at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The various classes will recite Bible passages and sing songs they have learned as well as display examples of their handiwork. The children will assemble as usual at 9 a. m. An offering will be received to help with the expenses of the school and to extend such privileges to children of other communities.

County Superintendent of Schools Charles L. Kopp and Janitor Adam Camp made the facilities of the public school building and grounds available.

17 Enter Beauty Contest

Wide interest is being shown in the beauty contest to select "Miss Keyser," sponsored by the Vigilant Reel and Hose Company, in conjunction with their Veterans' Homecoming celebration, V-J Week. The winner will be picked Monday, August 11, at 7 p. m. at the firemen's lot on Davis Street.

The 17 girls who have officially entered the contest and their sponsors, who will also contribute to the list of prizes, are: Betty West, Minnich's; Mildred LaRue, Walgreen Orug; Loretta Decker, Moose; Mary Kitzmiller, Royale Dairy; Renna Jane Thayer, Schriver's; Bonnie Ludwick, Fashion Shop; Louise Brill, McCoole's; Dorothy Henry, Lyons' Feed Company; Evon Johnson, Boggs Supply Company; Mary Louise Martin, Sugar Bowl; Norma Orndorff, Mineral County Garage; Mildred Harmon, Harmon's Store; Rena Heare, Coffman - Fisher's; Gaydon Greenwalt, Red Rock Cola; Mary Kathryn Mills, Band Box; Ellen Hull, George's Service Store, and Gwennie Eagle, Goldsworthy's Store.

Farm Bureau Holds Picnic

The Mineral County Farm Bureau and the Farm Women's Council will hold a picnic on Friday, August 8 at the K. of P. Grounds, Burlington. The grounds will be available from 2 p. m. until 10 p. m.

C. I. Homan, president of the Mineral County Farm Bureau, and Mrs. Rosalie Vandiver, president of the Farm Women's Council, states that all farm bureau families and council families and friends will participate in the outing.

The program calls for contests, swimming, in the afternoon, followed by a basket picnic at dinner time. The Farm Women's Council will have charge of the vespers program during the evening hour. The K. of P. Grounds has sufficient recreation equipment for both young and old.

Free lemonade will be furnished during the afternoon hours by Farm Women's Club and committees are working on such contests as softball, horseshoe, hog calling, sack race, and etc.

Delegates Selected

The Mineral County Farm Bureau Directors at a recent meeting selected voting delegates to attend the annual State Farm Bureau Convention to be held at Jackson's Mill on August 11, 12, and 13. Delegates are as follows: J. W. Carskadon, Jr., J. C. McDowell, C. M. Stickley, C. I. Homan; Alternate Delegate, Leonard Sites, James Taylor, Albert Schwinabart.

The directors also passed an order to pay $5 toward the expenses of any member attending the annual Convention and to assist in payment of expenses of cars taking members to the Convention. C. I. Homan, president of the Mineral County Farm Bureau, urges that all members desiring to attend to contact J. E. Prettyman, county agent, in order that sufficient transportation can be arranged.

Inspector Urges Safer Blasting At Hampshire Mine

A Federal Bureau of Mines inspector inspected the Hampshire Mine at Barton in May and June and advocated in his report under the Federal Mine Safety Code safer blasting practices and a better ventilating system and endorsed more than a dozen recent safety improvements.

Inspector Joe Dobashinski, who inspected the mine which is operated by the Campbell Coal Company, recommended the use only of permissable explosives instead of black blasting powder stored, transported and fired in an approved manner. Clay was being used for stemming port holes, he reported.

Although ventilation was improved and pre-sift examinations were started during the inspection, the inspector proposed more air through one last open crosscut, substantial incombustible main stoppings, erection of main-entry doors in pairs to form air locks, offset installation for several fans, added safety devices for each fan and the maintenance of at least two permissable flame safety lamps.

Improvements mentioned were removal of loose roof, enforcement of timbering rules, mechanical safeguards, removal of coal dust piles at the tipple, adequate first aid facilities, and the use of electric mine lamps by most underground workers.

Other recommendations included underground fire fighting equipment, a ban on smoking in the mine, unobstructed clearance along main haulways, the use of seafety appliances and clothing by the workers, overload protection for mining-machine trailing cables, telephone service for No. 3 mine and clean shelter holes.

FROSTBURG, July 31 — Luther Warren, an employe in the engineering department of the Celanese Corporation, who resides with Mr and Mrs. John Goldsworthy, 25 Park Avenue, left here five weeks ago to spend a vacation of 11 weeks on a walking tour to the Pacific coast and return.

Warren, a graduate of Purdue University, has been a resident of Frostburg several years and has been a familiar figure on all the highways in this section. Almost every day after returning from work he walks for hours and will never accept a life from a passing motorist. He spends his weekends on long walks to local historical spots and the mountain sections of Garrett County, West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

When he left here five weeks ago, he informed Mr. and Mrs. Goldsworthy that he had been granted a leave of three months and planned to spend 11 weeks walking from Frostburg to the shores of the Pacific and return on foot.

Car Contract Awarded

The Green Chevrolet Company, this city, was awarded the contract by the Mayor and City Commissioners for a fully equipped police car, which is to be delivered in 30 or 60 days. Grouse Breaks Bank Window

One of the front windows of the Fidelity Savings Bank was broken yesterday at 6 p. m. when a ruffed grouse flew against it. The force of the impact killed the bird which was picked up by Harry Frost who sent it to Meyersdale to be stuffed and placed as a souvenir in the Century Club, an establishment operated here by Frost.

According to Frost, who was on the opposite side of the street with his wife and child, the grouse flew right over his head toward the bank. Thinking someone threw a rock, Frost said he ducked and then heard the crash and the flutter of the bird, which he described as a large well developed hen.

Local sportsmen state that it is rare for a grouse to be found in populated places. In recent years very few grouse have been in the woods in this section, one hunter said.

Keyser Section Is Hit By Severe Electrical Storm And Cloudburst

Four Places Struck By Lightning Bolts

By MRS. JOSEPH H. TAYLOR

KEYSER, W. Va., July 31.—Extensive damage was done in Keyser and the surrounding section shortly after noon today when a cloudburst and severe electric storm hit the area.

Lightning struck at least four spots in town and cellars were flooded and gardens washed out. Hailstones as large as peas fell during the storm.

A 10 horse power motor at the filtration plant was struck by lightning and completely burned.

The chimney at the home of Mrs. George Grubbs was struck and knocked down. Flying bricks from the chimney struck the windows of the house next door, occupied by Alvin Moore, and knocked two panes out.

It is also believed that lightning struck a 2,300 volt wire on Fort Avenue as that section was without electricity for several hours. Potomac Light and Power workers repaired the line as soon as possible.

Firemen were called for the third time at 2 p. m. when lightning ran down a wire and heated a board in the ceiling of a one-story frame house on Newton Street occupied by James Lewis.

Slight damage was done to a truck parked on South Main Street at 2:30 p. m., when a short circuit in the wiring of the truck caused it to catch on fire. Firemen could not locate the owner.

Fish To Be Removed

Fish will be removed from New Creek Friday, August 1, due to the present drop in New Crook, which has become so low that it will be necessary to remove all fish from the lower section. All members of the Mineral County Wild Life Association and sportsmen are urged to be at the filtration plant at 5 p. m. Friday to assist in the project. A pump truck for transportation will be available. Seines will be furnished by the Conservation Commission, according to an announcement made by L. L. Blackburn, secretary of the Mineral County Wild Life Association.

An offering will be received to help with the expenses of the school and to extend such privileges to children of other communities.

Inspector Urges Safer Blasting At Hampshire Mine

A Federal Bureau of Mines inspector inspected the Hampshire Mine at Barton in May and June and advocated in his report under the Federal Mine Safety Code safer blasting practices and a better ventilating system and endorsed more than a dozen recent safety improvements.

Inspector Joe Dobashinski, who inspected the mine which is operated by the Campbell Coal Company, recommended the use only of permissable explosives instead of black blasting powder stored, transported and fired in an approved manner. Clay was being used for stemming port holes, he reported.

Although ventilation was improved and pre-sift examinations were started during the inspection, the inspector proposed more air through one last open crosscut, substantial incombustible main stoppings, erection of main-entry doors in pairs to form air locks, offset installation for several fans, added safety devices for each fan and the maintenance of at least two permissable flame safety lamps.

Improvements mentioned were removal of loose roof, enforcement of timbering rules, mechanical safeguards, removal of coal dust piles at the tipple, adequate first aid facilities, and the use of electric mine lamps by most underground workers.

Other recommendations included underground fire fighting equipment, a ban on smoking in the mine, unobstructed clearance along main haulways, the use of seafety appliances and clothing by the workers, overload protection for mining-machine trailing cables, telephone service for No. 3 mine and clean shelter holes.

Ceremonies To Mark Observance Of Air Forces Day In Maryland

Program Will Be Held In Baltimore

Maryland will observe the 40th birthday of the U. S. Army Air Force with an air parade and ceremonies in Homewood Stadium, Baltimore, today, which has been designated Air Force Day.

One distinguished Flying Cross and 10 Air Medals will be presented to Air Force veterans of World War II by Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, jet fighters and P-47's will perform and a flight of Lincolns, Britain's latest heavy bomber, will fly in review over the field.

Parked on the field will be various Army equipment, such as radar field units, radar-controlled anti-aircraft guns, a jet plane dismantled and jet engines for inspection.

Air Force Day in United States is sponsored this year by the Air Force Association, an organization of former members of the AAF.

Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, New York, who led the first bombing attack on Tokyo, is president of the organization. Col. Jimmy Stewart, Hollywood, and Sgt. Forrest Vosler, Syracuse, N. Y., a Medal of Honor winner, are on the board of directors.

The Army Air Force was born on August 1, 1907, when Capt. Charles D. F. Chandler was assigned two enlisted men to handle all matters pertaining to "military ballooning, air machines, and kindred subjects."

Milk Prices Will Be Hiked Today

An increase in the price of milk and dairy products in Cumberland and the Tri-State area will go into effect this morning, according to Edgar A. Dashiell, secretary-treasurer of the Dairy Service Corporation.

The retail price of regular milk will advance from 18 to 19 cents a quart, while the homogenized grade will retail for 20 instead of 19 cents a quart, beginning this morning. Price of cream will advance accordingly, Dashiell said.

The increase is necessary because of a decrease in supply and the necessity for furnishing farmers an incentive to produce milk during the fall and winter period, according to the official.

The increase will place the price of milk back where it was before the corporation permitted a reduction May 5 of this year. The new price is expected to remain in effect through next spring.

Station A, a regular classified station, serves all of South Cumberland below Oldtown Road, and the volume of mail handled there is increasing slowly but steadily, Mr. Brengle said. Five letter carriers work out of the station.

Mr. Brengle and his wife, the former Esther Schilling, are the parents of one daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson, Narrows, Va. Their two granddaughters, Ann and Margaret Esther Thompson, are spending the summer here.

$33,800 Pledged For Factory

The Frostburg Businessmen's Association committee, in charge of the campaign to raise funds for the erection of a new pajama factory for the Michael Berkowitz Company, met last night and reported $1,900 worth of bonds were sold during the past week, bringing the total to date to $33,800. The goal is $80,000.

The committeee voted last night to invite Benedict Berkowitz to come to Frostburg and meet with it, the purpose being to ascertain if the company desires the citizens of Frostburg to continue the soliciting campaign.

Amvets Consider Plan To Acquire New Home

Plans were discussed last night at the regular meeting of J. Louis Wolford Post No. 1, Amvets, for the acquisition of a new club room and headquarters.

The post has a proposition under consideration, according to Commander Norman Gerdenman, but details are still in the negotiating stage, and nothing definite has been decided. Increase in the number of members has created a need for larger quarters, he explained.

which time the community achieved the distinction of having the largest YMCA membership, 1,240, for any city its size in the United States. At that time the population numbered 23,000 persons.

From there Sisson went to Binghamton as membership secretary in the "Y", where he had worked as part-time secretary while attending school.

Fourteen months later, in 1928, he became acting general secretary at the Newburgh YMCA, where he remained for over eight years. During that period he conducted several financial campaigns and worked with a group holding an insurance refinancing drive to help pay off a $25,000 mortgage.

In 1936, Sisson became general secretary of the YMCA in Kingston, remaining there for four years. The oranization's cugrrent indebtedness was reduced from $13,000 to $5,000 during his stay, and an old theater was converted into a gymnasium and auditorium for use of "Y" members.

When he went to Ashbury Park in 1940 to become general secretary of the YMCA there, an insurance company had forclosed a mortgage for $185,000. During the next four years $45,000 on the mortgage principal was paid, and a $50,000 note was liquidated. The Army Signal Corps took over the YMCA building for 16 months in 1942-43, and Sisson operated a community program from temporary headquarters in a store building. The YMCA budget was increased from $13,000 to $34,000 during his service there.

Since coming to Cumberland two years ago, Sisson has added several new features to the local YMCA program, including the summer day camp, a Christian Youth Council for young church people, swimming instruction and other athletic events. In addition, a fund campaign conducted last fall to liquidate the $50,000 debt raised about $48,000.

Sission resides with his wife and two children, Lorraine, 13, and Roger, 4, at their home, 701 Hill Top Drive. His brother-in-law, Mark H. Nestle, now president of the Nielson Mining Company, with headquarters in Manila, was in YMCA work for 11 years in Europe and the Philippines.

Pittsburgh Truck Drivers Vote To Return To Work

Local Firms Informed Of Strike Settlement

PITTSBURGH, July 31 (AP) — The end of the 60-day old truck strike was reported tonight by Mayor David L. Lawrence but an authoritative spokesman said the possibility of a hitch still existed.

Lawrence told a press conference he was authorized by both the AFL-Teamsters and James P. Clark, a major operator, to announce agreement had been reached on both wages and conditions.

However, President Frank Salvatore of the Western Pennsylvania Motor Carriers Association said the final action would come at tonight's meeting when members will ratify or reject a teamster proposal made earlier today.

The striking teamsters voted 470 to 173 to accept wage hikes of 17½ cents an hour and return to work, leaving other issues to be settled by arbitration.

Local 453, Teamsters and Chauffeurs Union, AFL, has notified trucking companies with Pittsburgh, Pa., runs that two-month-old strike has been settled and that operations may be resumed immediately, Charles E. Bramble, president, said early last night.

He said the union office was informed of the settlement of the dispute yesterday afternoon by a representative of the Joint Teamsters Council there.

The Maryland Motor Lines and the Cumberland Motor Express Companies here and the Elliott Motor Lines in Winchester, Va., all of which operate runs into Pittsburgh, have already been informed of the settlement, Bramble said.

The long strike has idled runs between here and Pittsburgh and has hampered the flow of merchandise into this city. Its effects have been particularly noticeable in recent weeks, businessmen say.

Some two dozen drivers and maintenance men, who were affected by the strike here, have been transferred to other operations, union officials reported.

Child Polio Victim Reported Improving

Allen Pryor, 8-year-old son of Jacob A. Pryor, 107 Mary Street, who was rushed to a Baltimore Hospital Wednesday in a Maryland State Police ambulance after an illness was diagnosed as infantile paralysis, last night was reported "somewhat improved," by a hospital physician.

The child, who parents said is blind, was taken to Sydenham Hospital Wednesday in the ambulance by Trooper Theodore Snyder after doctors discovered symptoms of polio.

Hospital attaches described the condition of the child as "satisfactory" at the present time.

Local hospital attaches identified the child as a brother of Shirley Rae Pryor, who died in Allegany Hospital last November after being treated for a disease known as "blue baby disease." Shirley was once taken to Baltimore but treatment was not successful. Medical sources termed the disease a rare malady.

Ceremonies To Mark Observance Of Air Forces Day In Maryland

Program Will Be Held In Baltimore

Maryland will observe the 40th birthday of the U. S. Army Air Force with an air parade and ceremonies in Homewood Stadium, Baltimore, today, which has been designated Air Force Day.

One distinguished Flying Cross and 10 Air Medals will be presented to Air Force veterans of World War II by Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, jet fighters and P-47's will perform and a flight of Lincolns, Britain's latest heavy bomber, will fly in review over the field.

Parked on the field will be various Army equipment, such as radar field units, radar-controlled anti-aircraft guns, a jet plane dismantled and jet engines for inspection.

Air Force Day in United States is sponsored this year by the Air Force Association, an organization of former members of the AAF.

Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, New York, who led the first bombing attack on Tokyo, is president of the organization. Col. Jimmy Stewart, Hollywood, and Sgt. Forrest Vosler, Syracuse, N. Y., a Medal of Honor winner, are on the board of directors.

The Army Air Force was born on August 1, 1907, when Capt. Charles D. F. Chandler was assigned two enlisted men to handle all matters pertaining to "military ballooning, air machines, and kindred subjects."

Milk Prices Will Be Hiked Today

An increase in the price of milk and dairy products in Cumberland and the Tri-State area will go into effect this morning, according to Edgar A. Dashiell, secretary-treasurer of the Dairy Service Corporation.

The retail price of regular milk will advance from 18 to 19 cents a quart, while the homogenized grade will retail for 20 instead of 19 cents a quart, beginning this morning. Price of cream will advance accordingly, Dashiell said.

The increase is necessary because of a decrease in supply and the necessity for furnishing farmers an incentive to produce milk during the fall and winter period, according to the official.

The increase will place the price of milk back where it was before the corporation permitted a reduction May 5 of this year. The new price is expected to remain in effect through next spring.

Barbara George Wins Playground Contest

Barbara George is the winner of the senior popularity contest of Gephart Playground Association it was announced last night, and will be crowned at a lawn festival tonight by Mayor Thomas S. Post.

Despite yesterday's afternoon cloudburst, several hundred persons attended the lawn festival last night and saw County Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson, Jr., crown Jeanne Eichner, junior queen of the affair.

Physical Tests To Be Given Applicants

Physical examinations for applicants for the September class of Allegany Hospital School of Nursing will be held at 9 a. m., Saturday, Sister Bernard, director of nurses, announces.

The pre-entrance examination date has been set for September 2. Since a class was not admitted in June an enrollment of 30 young women will be accepted for the September class.

Applicants must have a high school certificate, be between 16 and 35 years of age, and are expected to have qualifications which denote aptitude for nursing, as well as good character reference and being able to pass the physical tests. The course is a three year one and any one interested in nursing is urged to make application immediately.

HELP BUILD AMERICA'S AIR POWER ON AIR FORCE DAY, AUGUST 1ST

No one today questions the fact that the whole future of the United States may rest in the very clouds over your head. The security of this country demands strong, well-trained, well-equipped Air Forces, superior to any in the world.

And the new, reorganized Air Forces give thousands of eligible young men an opportunity to take an active part in building America's Air Power . . . on the ground as well as in the sky.

You may, for example, enlist in the Air Forces for three years. If you have a specialty which will qualify you, you may also be able to enlist in a grade at higher pay.

If you have had Air Forces experience, you may join the Air Reserve and continue your military aviation training outside of business hours.

Or you may join the Air National Guard and perhaps become eligible for advanced technical training at special Air National Guard schools.

Think it over. If there are Air Force Day exhibits in your locality, be sure to visit them on August 1st. If no demonstrations are to be held nearby, get a copy of the new Air Forces pamphlet, "Know Your Air Forces," at your U. S. Army Recruiting Station.

NOW — THE WORLD'S GREATEST OPPORTUNITY FOR A CAREER IN AVIATION

Today the Army Air Forces offer high school graduates an unprecedented opportunity to get the finest aviation schooling on earth — and select your school or course before you enlist.

The AAF Career Plan is unlike anything ever offered before. It permits selected high school graduates to apply and qualify for AAF specialized courses of their own choice. Simply go to your U. S. Army Recruiting Station, explain the kind of aviation training you want and you will receive an application blank and a complete list of available courses.

When you are selected to attend the course of your choice, you enlist in the Army Air Forces for 3, 4 or 5 years. After your basic training period you are guaranteed the education you have selected to make you a specialist in the type of work you have chosen.

Get a list of all the schools and courses open to you under the AAF Aviation Career Plan at your nearest U. S. Army Recruiting Station.

Advice To The Lovelorn

Teen-Ager's Sensible Views On Love And Marriage

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

A good proportion of the letters I get are from teen-age boys and girls who are quite certain that they are madly and permanently in love. Unless they can marry the person on whom their heart is set at the moment, they are quite sure they will go through life bachelors or spinsters. I spend a great many hours trying to convince young people who write me this sort of letter that they are going to be very much surprised to find this is not the case.

It is a very refreshing experience, therefore, to get a letter from a teen-ager who seems to have rather more mature views on the subject of love and marriage than is ordinarily the case.

Because such letters come my way so rarely, and because, also, I believe that young people are very apt to put more confidence in what those of their own age have to say than they do in the philosophizing of their elders, I would like to devote this column to a letter just received from a 19-year-old girl.

She writes:

"Dear Miss Fairfax:

"I read your column daily and find it very interesting and, at times, very humorous. Letters written by young boys and girls, ranging from 16 to 19 years of age, saying they are madly in love and that they want to know how to win their man or their girl, strike me as very funny. In the first place, I don't think they are old enough to know what the score is, or whether or not they are really in love.

"Many girls and boys are getting engaged as soon as they get out of school, or even while they are still in school, when they should be out having good times and not getting too serious about any one particular boy or girl. Of course it might happen that they would be lucky enough to make a go of their marriage and be happy, but think of the fun they miss! Can't they realize that they ought to enjoy their youth, because they can always get married later on when they are more experienced about life?

"A girl may plan to work after she is married, but she may find that there are other responsibilities that go with marriage that she has not thought of and—that may be more than she is ready and willing to accept. I don't think a man so young, either, is apt to take into consideration all the responsibilities that will be placed upon him when he gets married. A girl should be able to support her husband and family, if the time should ever come, due to illness or other reasons, when her husband is unable to do so.

A girl who has just finished high school, or has quit school to marry before graduating, does not have the experience necessary to hold a good job. I think she should work for a year or two after graduating to get the experience she may need later on. Even when girls have gone to college or business school, I don't think they should get married as soon as they graduate. They may have an education, but they don't have the necessary knowledge. Education is learning; knowledge is application of what you have learned. A girl who has worked and learned the value of money and how hard money is to earn makes a better housewife.

"I certainly believe in marriage when you are old enough, say 21 or 22 years old. But I think that to get married when you are very young is just a fad that you follow because you see a lot of your friends doing it."

My congratulations to the writer of this letter. If she is wise enough to act in accordance with the views she has expressed, she is going to make some young man a very fine wife.

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, July 31—A movie has been offered Lauren Bacall by Jack Warner that she won't refuse. It's "Key Largo," the Maxwell Anderson play, with Humphrey Bogart as the star. Baby hates making pictures without Bogey, and in this one they can be together.

Eve Arden

Another reason Baby won't back out of the Anderson play is because Jerry Wald has been selected by Jack to produce, and Jerry is the lad who knows how to make pictures that never neglect the woman's angle.

"Key Largo" was on Broadway, and while it is not as well known as some of Anderson's plays, it will make a good movie.

John Mills, who was so good in "Great Expectations" could just about write his own ticket at any studio. He's here in Hollywood visiting Lili Palmer and Rex Harrison, but he's tied up on a seven year contract, and can't make a deal in Hollywood unless J. Arthur Rank gives him permission.

This is how it all happened. Mills had intended to make part of his pictures in London and part in Hollywood. Then he went to a garden party at Buckinghom Palace. The Queen told him how good she thought he was in "Great Expectations" and gave him a talk about loyalty to England. Next day he went and signed a seven year contract with Rank.

Eddie Lowe's romance with Lady Thelma Furness seems no nearer the alter although they are still crazy about one another. I doubt if there will ever be anyone he cares for as much.

But Eddie's movie plans are more definite. He's a very good actor and now he gets the chance he's been waiting for for several years. He goes into "Good Sam" with Gary Cooper and Ann Sheridan with Leo McCreary at the helm, and I hear it's one of those "picture stealing" roles.

Recently Eddie has been doing more on the stage than on the screen—but he'll alway be a potent movie name to the fans.

Chatter in Hollywood: The prize fight game is in for some pretty unsavory denouncements in the movies. "Body and Soul," in which John Garfield plays a prize fighter, handles the subject without kid gloves and shows how an element in the underworld handles it.

In "Whiplash" Warners pulls no punches about these same bad elements in the prize fight world. However, I must say I am sure that the whole pugilistic world is not made up of crooks, but there are some scoundrels just as there are in every line of business and the movies are out to show them for what they are.

In a special car traveling to San Francisco tonight are George Stevens, Harriet Parsons, Irene Dunne, Edgar Bergen, Barbara Bel Geddes and the rest of the cast of "I Remember Mama."

They'll take scenes in San Francisco where the story is laid. And while there, of course, they'll see Charlotte Greenwood in "I Remember Mama." She's playing it on the San Francisco stage. Harriet went to Santa Barbara for the opening and she told me she was delighted with Charlotte, who does an excellent job. A whole bus load of Los Angeles friends of Charlotte went to see her.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Jimmie Starr, well known columnist, will marry Marcorita Hellman, daughter of Marco Hellman, formerly Hollywood's leading banker. The marriage is set for March, after Jimmie gets his final decree.

Jack Merivale, son of Broadday's famed Philip Merivale, divorced his wife last week charging desertion. She's Jan Sterling, now starring in the Chicago company of "Born Yesterday."

BERLIN BARGAINS OFTEN PURCHASED BY SOVIET AGENTS

AP Newsfeatures

BERLIN—Antique dealers are today the busiest retail merchants in Berlin where almost no other trade exists.

For two years Berliners have been selling their private possessions and the end is not yet in sight. There are almost as many antique shops as food stores.

Until recently the Russians and not the Americans were the best customers. "Americans and British buy antiques as individuals," explained one dealer. "The Russians set up purchasing companies which made the antique business a big-time proposition."

This dealer explained that an American buying a Meissen dinner set for $4,000 or 40 cartons of cigarettes would do so in fear of being caught by the Army's Counter Intelligence Corps. The Soviet purchasing companies bought 30 to 40 sets at a clip. The same applied to silver, gold, and diamonds.

With the ban on American cigarette shipments and the closing of Soviet purchasing companies, Meissen dinner sets dropped from $4,000 to as low as $1,200, while prices on rugs, diamonds, silver, and other valuables also dropped.

Informed sources report that the Soviets closed their Berlin companies because big business transactions were causing too much attention to a capitalistic action unbecoming a supposedly socialistic society. These sources say the Russians now make their antique purchases entirely in the Soviet zone and have forbidden Berlin dealers to take valuable items from the zone and bring them to the capital for sale. Whereas American and British personnel have gone in for chinaware, Frenchmen in Berlin have been eager buyers of crystal ware.

40th Birthday Army Air Forces Will Be Honored

By JEAN MEEGAN

NEW YORK, July 31—From special star-studded programs to give-away shows, will honor the Army Air Forces on its 40th anniversary tomorrow.

From Hollywood at 7:30 p. m., NBC plans a special show featuring Tyrone Power, George Montgomery, Frances Langford, Wayne Morris, Carole Landis and Ronald Reagan. Earlier in the day, at 11:30 a. m. the network will carry a program from Randolph Field, Tex., marking a reunion of the class of flying cadets who were graduated in August, 1940, many of whom went on to distinguish themselves in combat.

Four regularly scheduled Mutual features and one special broadcast will honor the AAF. At 8 a. m., commentator Henry La Cossitt will devote most of his time to background stories on the air force. At 1 p. m., "Queen For A Day," will also broadcast from Randolph Field. And the "Hop Harrigan' adventure series at 4:30 will feature as its guest Col. Robert L. Scott, ace of the CBI theater and author of "God Is My Co-Pilot.'

On the same day, Mutual will carry an interview with Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle and Lt. Col. Howard Hugos, flight leader of the record-seeking Tokyo - Washington flight of eight B-29 bombers. On Saturday, the "Flight Into the Past" program will devote itself entirely to a dramatic-musical narration of the AAF's history.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, John W. Woods, "killed in action" in France, August 1, 1944.

How we miss your smile each evening,
Our hearts throb high with anguish

Years may pass, but cannot dim
The sorrow that we share
In France, a spot more precious

Sadly missed by Mr. & Mrs. Terence P. Woods & Family.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, John W. Woods, "killed in action" in France, August 1, 1944.

How we miss your smile each evening,
When day departs from whence it came.
Our hearts throb high with anguish
When mentioning your name.

Years may pass, but cannot dim
The sorrow that we share
In France, a spot more precious

Sadly missed by Mr. & Mrs. Terence P. Woods & Family.

Negro Is Ordered Held In Attempted Rape At Paw Paw

Pleads Not Guilty At 1 1-2 Hour Hearing

A 27-year-old negro, charged with the attempted rape of a Paw Paw W. Va., high school girl, yesterday was ordered held on $2,500 bond for action of the September term Morgan County grand jury after he pleaded "not guilty" at a preliminary hearing in Berkeley Springs, W. Va.

Four state witnesse, including Miss Marion Evans, the alleged victim, identified James Bullitt, a Paw Paw "handy man" as the negro who, she said, followed her home Sunday night and threatened "I'll kill you if you scream" after he grabbed her.

Declares He's Innocent

The negro, through his attorney, Hammond Silar, Berkeley Springs, told the court that he could produce four witnesses who would prove he was with them at 10:30 p. m. Sunday, the time of the alleged attack.

The witness for the defense, Wallace Hamilton, however, testified that while Bullitt was in his company early Sunday night he left about 10:10 p. m. and did not return until a half-hour later.

The two Justices of the Peace, L. M. Yost and C. C. Dyche, who sat jointly in the case, ruled out four other defense witnesses on the grounds that overwhelming evidence had already been presented to warrant holding Bullitt for the grand jury.

Foster Patterson, who authorities said saw the negro and Miss Evans fighting violently in the road, testified that he has known Bullitt for several years, and told the court he could positively identify the negro as the one who was fighting with Miss Evans. Patterson said the headlights of his car fell on the pair and Bullitt released the girl and ran as he stopped the car.

Miss Evans also identified Bullitt as the negro who followed her home from church Sunday and grabbed her as she neared home about half-mile from Paw Paw.

Victim Testifies

She testified that Bullitt grabbed her from behind and placed one hand over her mouth and one around her neck. Miss Evans, who authorities said had a difficult time testifying because of a swollen lip, reportedly suffered in the scuffle with Bullitt, said the negro threw her to the ground twice during the fight. Authorities said both of the girl's arms were severely bruised.

Sheriff Guy Spriggs, who removed Bullitt from the Paw Paw jail to Berkeley Springs Sunday night after he said an "angry mob gathered outside the building," stated the negro has already served two sentences in the West Virginia penitentiary. Once he was convicted for the attempted rape of a cousin, the sheriff added.

The hearing which began at 4 p. m. (EST) lasted for an hour and a half, after which Bullitt was removed to the Morgan County Jail when he failed to raise the $2,500 bond.

Agreement Recorded

An agreement has been made between Stanley Loar and his wife with the Maryland Coal and Realty Company for the strip or deep mining of a piece of property at Vale Summit. The agreement was recorded at the Court House yesterday.

The agreement calls for payment of $500 to the Loars by the coal company and also provides for certain conditions of how the land should be strip mined and also for the erection of a fence after work is completed.

100 Guardsmen To Attend Camp August 18-22

Two Local Companies Plan For Training

Preparations were begun last night by Headquarters Company, First Battalion, 115th Infantry, Maryland National Guard, to participate in a five-day training period at Camp Albert C. Ritchie, August 18 to 22, inclusive, according to Capt. Robert Powell, company commander.

Capt. Robert Mattlick, commander of Company C, the second of two local Guad units, stated his organization began preparations for camp Wednesday night and expects to take about 60 men and three officers.

Capt. Powell said letters have been sent to the employers of the 48 enlisted men and three officers who comprise Headquarters Company, asking that military leave be granted these men for five days. In most instances, he said, employers have already indicated that leave of absence will be granted the guardsmen they employ. Largest single employer is the Celanese Corporation.

The local units will leave here Sunday, August 17, by motor car and truck, but an advance detail of four men and an officer will leave Friday, August 15, to make preparations for housing the companies.

The camping period this year will be in the nature of class instruction and technical training. Except for a day on the rifle range, there will be little actual field training, as emphasis is to be placed on mechanical and technical phases of soldiering.

Col. Christopher Claypool, Baltimore, an instructor from the Second Army Headquarters, was a visitor at the State Armory last night.

Two new recruits were enrolled, Capt. Powell said, and any men who wish to enlist in the Company and attend camp, may apply at the Armory next Wednesday or Thursday nights. The two are Charles R. Eyler, Bedford Road, and William R. Rader, 506 Sheridan Place.

Stocks End July With Substantial, But Unusually Slow, Recovery Move

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP)—Stocks today ended July with a substantial recovery move that, while unusually slow, enabled market leaders to get back fractions to three or more points of their recent relapse.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .8 of a point at 66.8, which equalled the advance of July 24. For the month the gain was 2.6 points. The June advance was three points.

Bethlehem Steel was up 3¾ at 90½ and, after the close, the usual $1.50 dividend was voted. Net for the June quarter of $3.61 a share was reported against $4.84 in the initial three months and $4.29 in the 1946 June period.

Allied Chemical added 3⅞ at 191, Norfolk and Western four at 240, American Woolen 2⅞ at 43⅝, Santa Fe 2½ at 87¾ and Monsanto Chemical 2⅜ at 61⅜. Up one or more were United States Steel at 74¼, Youngstown Sheet 67⅞, American Rolling Mill 32⅞, Chrysler 59⅛, General Motors 60⅝, United States Rubber 48, Montgomery Ward 62, International Harvester 88½, Douglas Aircraft 56, American Water Works 16½, American Smelting 60¾, International Silver 61¼, du Pont 191½, Eastman Kodak 47½, Owens-Illinois 79, International Paper 47⅝, Exchange Buffet 12¼, Pacific Western Oil 39¾, Southern Railway 40 and Sears Roebuck 39¾.

Listed corporates marked down included Boston and Maine 4s at 83, North Western 4½s at 68⅞, Hudson and Manhattan refunding 5s at 57½, Pennsylvania Railroad 4¼s at 104¼, Frisco 4s at 86. Ahead were A. T. and T. 2⅝s of 1961 at 113½, B. and O. stamped convertibles at 50, St. Paul incomes at 76¼, Rock Island 4½s of 1952 at 59, Denver and Rio Grande Western incomes at 50, Illinois Central refunding 4s at 100¼, Lehigh Valley stamped 4s at 35½, and Missouri Pacific 5s of '77 at 78¼.

Australian loans were under mild pressure in the overseas list. United States governments moved narrowly in the over-the-counter market.

Pleads Not Guilty At 1 1-2 Hour Hearing

A 27-year-old negro, charged with the attempted rape of a Paw Paw W. Va., high school girl, yesterday was ordered held on $2,500 bond for action of the September term Morgan County grand jury after he pleaded "not guilty" at a preliminary hearing in Berkeley Springs, W. Va.

Four state witnesse, including Miss Marion Evans, the alleged victim, identified James Bullitt, a Paw Paw "handy man" as the negro who, she said, followed her home Sunday night and threatened "I'll kill you if you scream" after he grabbed her.

Declares He's Innocent

The negro, through his attorney, Hammond Silar, Berkeley Springs, told the court that he could produce four witnesses who would prove he was with them at 10:30 p. m. Sunday, the time of the alleged attack.

The witness for the defense, Wallace Hamilton, however, testified that while Bullitt was in his company early Sunday night he left about 10:10 p. m. and did not return until a half-hour later.

The two Justices of the Peace, L. M. Yost and C. C. Dyche, who sat jointly in the case, ruled out four other defense witnesses on the grounds that overwhelming evidence had already been presented to warrant holding Bullitt for the grand jury.

Foster Patterson, who authorities said saw the negro and Miss Evans fighting violently in the road, testified that he has known Bullitt for several years, and told the court he could positively identify the negro as the one who was fighting with Miss Evans. Patterson said the headlights of his car fell on the pair and Bullitt released the girl and ran as he stopped the car.

Miss Evans also identified Bullitt as the negro who followed her home from church Sunday and grabbed her as she neared home about half-mile from Paw Paw.

Victim Testifies

She testified that Bullitt grabbed her from behind and placed one hand over her mouth and one around her neck. Miss Evans, who authorities said had a difficult time testifying because of a swollen lip, reportedly suffered in the scuffle with Bullitt, said the negro threw her to the ground twice during the fight. Authorities said both of the girl's arms were severely bruised.

Sheriff Guy Spriggs, who removed Bullitt from the Paw Paw jail to Berkeley Springs Sunday night after he said an "angry mob gathered outside the building," stated the negro has already served two sentences in the West Virginia penitentiary. Once he was convicted for the attempted rape of a cousin, the sheriff added.

The hearing which began at 4 p. m. (EST) lasted for an hour and a half, after which Bullitt was removed to the Morgan County Jail when he failed to raise the $2,500 bond.

Agreement Recorded

An agreement has been made between Stanley Loar and his wife with the Maryland Coal and Realty Company for the strip or deep mining of a piece of property at Vale Summit. The agreement was recorded at the Court House yesterday.

The agreement calls for payment of $500 to the Loars by the coal company and also provides for certain conditions of how the land should be strip mined and also for the erection of a fence after work is completed.

100 Guardsmen To Attend Camp August 18-22

Two Local Companies Plan For Training

Preparations were begun last night by Headquarters Company, First Battalion, 115th Infantry, Maryland National Guard, to participate in a five-day training period at Camp Albert C. Ritchie, August 18 to 22, inclusive, according to Capt. Robert Powell, company commander.

Capt. Robert Mattlick, commander of Company C, the second of two local Guad units, stated his organization began preparations for camp Wednesday night and expects to take about 60 men and three officers.

Capt. Powell said letters have been sent to the employers of the 48 enlisted men and three officers who comprise Headquarters Company, asking that military leave be granted these men for five days. In most instances, he said, employers have already indicated that leave of absence will be granted the guardsmen they employ. Largest single employer is the Celanese Corporation.

The local units will leave here Sunday, August 17, by motor car and truck, but an advance detail of four men and an officer will leave Friday, August 15, to make preparations for housing the companies.

The camping period this year will be in the nature of class instruction and technical training. Except for a day on the rifle range, there will be little actual field training, as emphasis is to be placed on mechanical and technical phases of soldiering.

Col. Christopher Claypool, Baltimore, an instructor from the Second Army Headquarters, was a visitor at the State Armory last night.

Two new recruits were enrolled, Capt. Powell said, and any men who wish to enlist in the Company and attend camp, may apply at the Armory next Wednesday or Thursday nights. The two are Charles R. Eyler, Bedford Road, and William R. Rader, 506 Sheridan Place.

Stocks End July With Substantial, But Unusually Slow, Recovery Move

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP)—Stocks today ended July with a substantial recovery move that, while unusually slow, enabled market leaders to get back fractions to three or more points of their recent relapse.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .8 of a point at 66.8, which equalled the advance of July 24. For the month the gain was 2.6 points. The June advance was three points.

Bethlehem Steel was up 3¾ at 90½ and, after the close, the usual $1.50 dividend was voted. Net for the June quarter of $3.61 a share was reported against $4.84 in the initial three months and $4.29 in the 1946 June period.

Allied Chemical added 3⅞ at 191, Norfolk and Western four at 240, American Woolen 2⅞ at 43⅝, Santa Fe 2½ at 87⅞ and Monsanto Chemical 2⅜ at 61⅜. Up one or more were United States Steel at 74¼, Youngstown Sheet 67⅞, American Rolling Mill 32⅞, Chrysler 59⅛, General Motors 60⅝, United States Rubber 48, Montgomery Ward 62, International Harvester 88¼, Douglas Aircraft 56, American Water Works 16½, American Smelting 60⅜, International Silver 61¼, du Pont 191½, Eastman Kodak 47½, Owens-Illinois 79, International Paper 47⅝, Exchange Buffet 12⅛, Pacific Western Oil 39¾, Southern Railway 40 and Sears Roebuck 39⅜.

Despite the encouraging lead of the stock market, investors failed to work up much enthusiasm for carrier bonds and the price list at the close was a fairly even mixture of small gains and losses.

Listed corporates marked down included Boston and Maine 4s at 83, North Western 4½s at 68⅞, Hudson and Manhattan refunding 5s at 57½, Pennsylvania Railroad 4¼s at 104¼, Frisco 4s at 86. Ahead were A. T. and T. 2⅝s of 1961 at 113½, B. and O. stamped convertibles at 50, St. Paul incomes at 76¼, Rock Island 4½s of 1952 at 59, Denver and Rio Grande Western incomes at 50, Illinois Central refunding 4s at 100¼, Lehigh Valley stamped 4s at 35½, and Missouri Pacific 5s of '77 at 78¼.

Australian loans were under mild pressure in the overseas list. United States governments moved narrowly in the over-the-counter market.

Aircraft Plant May Be Located At Local Airport

Golladay To Confer With Graham Soon

A. Derr Golladay, local plane designer and engineer who has designed a new type of plastic airplane, last night requested the Municipal Airport Commission for permission to build a small experimental plant for production of the ship on unused land at the Cumberland Airport.

Golladay explained that the building would measure 50 by 80 feet and would be constructed of concrete block. He said if necessary it could be used at a later date as a hangar.

Three possible sites at the airport which he has investigated are in the vicinity of the city-owned hangars, a small plot in the parking area and land near the southwest entrance to the field, Golladay said.

He said he is anxious to locate the plant near Cumberland, but he added that the Chamber of Commerce of Wilmington, Del., has offered to provide buildings and an airport site there as an inducement to locate in that area.

Golladay explained it is necessary to locate the plant at an airport because the revolutionary design of his ship will make it necessary to instruct pilots in its operation.

Thomas Lohr Richards, a commission member, said under terms of the city's lease agreement with Cumberland Airways, the commission could approve the building site but could not authorize use of the land.

However, the commission expressed favorable reaction to Golladay's proposal, since it would start a new industry in this area.

T. Donald Shires, commission secretary, advised Golladay to confer with John A. Chapman, airport manager, and to present his proposal to William J. Graham, Pittsburgh, president of Cumberland Airways, who is expected here Tuesday to confer with the commission.

Shires said the commission has arranged to meet with Graham Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in City Hall to discuss the 1946 financial report of operations at the airport, which was submitted by the corporation earlier this year.

The report was rejected by the commission at the April meeting on grounds which have not been made public. Shires said City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson and City Attorney Charles Z. Heskett have been invited to attend Tuesday's meeting.

Among other matters to be discussed at the meeting is a complaint that grass plots at the airport are being damaged by pilots who are landing on the grass instead of the runways. In a letter to the commission, Chapman said he had taken no action pending an inspection visit by the group.

Oscar Gurley reported to the other members of the commission that he has been notified Cumberland is assured of receiving $75,000 in federal funds this year under the Federal Airport Act, but no official notice has been received by the commission from the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

The local group had applied for funds to be used in building an administration building and a new access road at the field. Gurley said he will arrange for a meeting with a CAA official here within a few weeks to discuss the matter.

W. Lee Elgin Sued For Return Of Revoked Licenses

Frostburg Man Files Mandamus Action

Action was taken in Circuit Court yesterday by John W. Tomlinson, Frostburg, through his attorney Edward J. Ryan, to have W. Lee Elgin, Commssioner of Motor Vehicles, return his automobile driver's license and his registration card and tags, which he claims were revoked illegally.

The action, a petition for writ of mandamus was docketed late Wednesday afternoon, and yesterday Chief Judge William A. Huster, signed a Court order instructing Elgin to show cause on or before Aubust 15, why the license should not be returned.

Tomlinson claims he has been a resident of Allegany county for more than 30 years and has been the holder of a driver's license for more than 20 years. He states he has been employed for the past three years at the Allegany Ballistics Labratory, and uses his car to drive to and from work. Several fellow employes ride with him, he states.

Describes Accident

On March 3, last, while en route home from work, Tomlinson outlines in his petition, at a point where the Eckhart branch of the C. & P. Railroad crosses Route 40, a car operated by W. L. Ridenour failed to make a curve, crossed to the wrong side of the highway and struck Tomlinson's machine, damaging the car and injuring the petitioner.

Tomlinson says he has filed suit against Ridenour for damages. He further alleges that his own license to drive was revoked and the tags for his car were taken away, although no motor vehicle charge or other legal action was taken against him.

In his petition, he prayed the Court to pass an order commanding Elgin to return the revoked license and lifted tags.

Divorce Suit Dismissed

A suit for divorce filed by Willard Blocher, Frostburg veteran of the Marines, was dismissed yesterday by Chief Judge William A. Huster and Associate Judge George Henderson. The wife, Mrs. Marguerite Blocher, was awarded the custody of three children and the husband was instructed to pay $15 weekly support and rental of the house in which they live.

Divorce actions were docketed by Thelma B. Richards, vs George Thomas Richards; Elva Brannan, vs Ronald Brannan; Rose C. Moreland, vs Victor J. Moreland; and Cornelia Carder, vs William Carder.

Mrs. Reuben Morton, Mrs. J. C. Ledbetter, Miss Emily Popp and Archie Ledbetter will go to Hood College today to stay through Sunday to attend the Training Union Conference in connection with the Maryland Baptist Summer Assembly.

Robert L. Sisson, YMCA Secretary, Notes 25th Anniversary In "Y" Work

Today will be an important anniversary for Robert L. Sisson, general secretary of Central YMCA, for it was exactly 25 years ago, August 1, 1922, that he began his YMCA career as desk secretary at the "Y" in Gloversville, N. Y.

In those 25 years, Sisson has served in Binghamton, Newburgh and Kingston, N. Y., and Asbury Park, N. J. He has been general secretary here since February, 1945.

After graduating from high school in his home city of Binghamton, Sisson took summer work in Silver Bay, N. Y., at an extension school of Springfield College, which cpecializes in the training of YMCA workers.

He recalls that the man who employed him for his first "Y" job was Leslie J. Tompkins, then general secretary of the Gloversville YMCA, who is now national personnel and field service secretary, headquarters in New York.

Later promoted to membership secretary, Sisson remained at Gloversville for over five years, during

Storm Disrupts Electric Lines, Damages Church

1.13 Inch Rain Fall Is Recorded

An electrical storm which struck Cumberland and the Tri-State area about 12:30 p. m. yesterday accompanied by 1.13 inches of rain fall, interrupted electrical service and caused minor interference to communication lines during the half-hour which lightning flashed through the sky.

Authorities also reported at least two buildings damaged by the lightning and City Police said the downpour of rain flooded the Green Street subway at the height of the storm. Hail the size of marbles was reported in Flintstone shortly before noon.

Potomac Edison officials said at least eight trunk lines serving outlying districts were put out of commission by direct strikes of lightning, and reported some of the districts were without service for as much as an hour and a half.

Many Fuses Blown

Employes of the trouble shooting department of the electrical company declared that at least 20 local residents reported their homes were without service because of the storm.

Most of the trouble was caused by fuses being "knocked out," or lines connecting homes with the trunk branches, being blown down, according to employes.

Several bricks were knocked off the north corner of the Assembly of God Church, 307 Wallace Street, when the lightning made a direct hit on the building. Employes at the city warehouse, located a short distance away, reported that the driver of a city truck, narrowly escaped injury when some of the bricks fell near him.

West Side Fire Company was called to the home of Mrs. Maude E. Willis, 529 Avirett Avenue, when lightning reportedly struck in that area. Fire fighters said a careful check of the neighborhood failed to disclose any damage from the bolt of lightning. Local residents, however, reported seeing smoke, in the area, before the firemen arrived.

Officials of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, said lightning flashes disrupted conversation over the lines during the storm, but declared no serious damage was caused in the area. From nearby sections, however, operators were reporting service suspended temporarily because lightning had broken lines.

Temperature Drops

Robert R. Golden, weather observer at Constitution Park, said rainfall amounted to 1.13 inches, as compared with 1.40 inches on June 8, which was the heaviest rain in a single day this year.

The temperature dropped sharply below Wednesday afternoon's blistering 96 degrees, with 72 degrees reported at 4 p. m. yesterday. Lowest reading of the day was 69 degrees, which was recorded at the height of the storm.

Unconfirmed reports also were made of a home being struck in the Potomac Park area, near Cresaptown, and Maryland State Police said the master radio tower at Frederick was struck and put out of order.

Local firemen said their electrical signal system went haywire during the storm, but declared the trouble cleared after the lightning flashes stopped. One fireman said the signal bell rang constantly during the lightning flashes, but the recording machine which was recently installed, failed to indicate what boxes were reporting calls.

Local residents said the hard rain caused some damage to flowers and truck gardens in the city.

Two persons were injured, neither believed seriously, when a bolt of lightning struck the Duckworth home in Mexico Farms yesterday about 2 p. m.

The injured persons, Mrs. Alice Duckworth and 10-months-old Betty Stafford, both of Mexico Farms, were treated in Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Duckworth was suffering from scratches on one of her arms and head injuries while the child was treated for head injuries. Both complained of pain in their ears from the impact.

Neighbors said the lightning bolt followed the telephone line into the home, broke that instrument and tore plaster board from the wall and then went out the door of the home, splintering the glass and knocking pieces of wood from the door some 20 feet into the highway.

Huge Parade To Feature "Boys' Week" Program

Contests Planned For Youngsters

One of the largest parades in the city's history is scheduled for Monday at 8 p. m. as the kickoff event for "Boys' Week," a program of recreation and athletic contests planned for youngsters in Cumberland, Ridgeley and nearby communities, according to Ted Licot, chairman in charge of arrangements.

All boys and girls owning bicycles are invited to take part in the parade, which will form at Laing Avenue in South Cumberland with Thomas F. Conlon as marshal. The line of march will be from Laing Avenue up Virginia Avenue to Oldtown Road, and from there to Wineow Street, up Centre Street to Market Street, across to North Mechanic, back to Baltimore Street and down South Mechanic to Williams Street, where the marchers will disband.

Will Award Prizes

Members of the Potomac Valley and Cumberland Tiger Motorcycle Clubs will take part, as well as boys and girls on foot. Judges will be selected to review the parade from the City Hall steps, and prizes will be awarded for original costumes and best decorated bicycles and motorcycles.

Final plans for "Boys' Week" were made at a meeting in City Hall last night, with age limits and other eligibility requirements outlined. Deadlines for entering the various contests were also set.

H. Wayne George, chairman of the committee arranging for the model airplane contest, said that event will be held Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. at the ball diamond in Constitution Park.

There are no age limits for the contest, and applications must be returned to the place where they were secured not later than next Tuesday at 6 p. m.

George said the contest will include speed events for U-control Class B and Class C models; a maneuverability contest for all classes of line-control models; endurance flights for hand-launched and catapult-launched gliders; and judging of models for workmanship.

George is being assisted by John Spiker, Francis Smith, Carl Amtower and John A. Chapman, manager of the Cumberland Municipal Airport. Chapman has announced that free airplane rides over the city will be given to all boys entering the contest.

Will Hold Pet Show

Deadline for entering the swimming contest is Sunday at 6 p. m., Licot said. That event, which will include racing and diving, is scheduled for Tuesday at 7 p. m. at Constitution Park pool, and is open to boys and girls under 15. At 8 p. m. the same day the Police Boys' Club will sponsor a boxing exhibition at the park amphitheater.

Bicycle races will be held at the park Thursday at 6 p. m., open to boys and girls under 16. Deadline for entries is 1 p. m. of that day. The archery contest, open to those under 16, will be held Saturday, August 9, at 1 p. m., with deadline for entries to be Thursday afternoon.

A pet show and talent night will be held next Friday at 6 p. m. at the park under the direction of Mrs. Ralph Stein, city playground supervisor, for boys and girls under 15. Deadline for entries is Wednesday afternoon.

Jitney races for boys under 16 will be held next Saturday at 3 p. m., and applications must be in by Thursday afternoon. Any homemade vehicle on four wheels made by a boy may be entered.

Softball teams of boys under 13 or between 13 and 16 years of age may enter the softball tournament to be held during the week, with deadline for entries to be Monday afternoon. Playoffs will be held Friday afternoon, and all games will be held at the park.

Langer Properties Sold To Settle Claim Of Heirs

Two properties on North Centre Street, figured in a public sale this week, to settle a claim of heirs of the Estate of Charles Langer, and will be presented to the Circuit Court for ratification in 30 days, attorneys indicated yesterday.

The sale, a legal proceedings known as a partition sale, was held for the purpose of giving heirs who hold a one-twelfth interest in the estate their share. Daniel A. Langer was heir to eleven-twelfths of the property.

The property on the west side of North Centre Street at Valley Street was purchased by Daniel A. Langer and wife as highest bidders for $5,000. A property on the opposite side of the street was also purchased by Langer and his wife for $9,500.

A farm containing 25½ acres, on Cash Valley Road, which also was sold at auction was purchased by Clarence H. and Madeline Claycomb, tenants on the place for $5,200.

At a private sale another Langer property in the 400 block North Centre Street was sold to Thomas Lohr Richards, trustee for the Estate of Charles Langer for $5,000 upon suggestion of the Court and agreement of those concerned. This was done to provide a permanent home for Christian Langer, surviving brother of the late Charles Langer who directed in his will that Christian Langer should always be permitted to reside in one of his properties, rent free.

T. L. Richards represented Daniel A. Langer and the estate, and James Alfred Avirett is attorney for the heirs who claimed the one-twelfth interest.

TO RETIRE SOON—Shown above in his office is C. Guy Brengle, 509 Rose Hill Avenue, superintendent of Station A branch postoffice on Virginia Avenue since 1941, who will retire from the postal service on September 30. Mr. Brengle began his career at the old Postoffice, then located in the Public Safety Building, as a substitute clerk on March 1, 1906.

C. Guy Brengle Resigns After 41 Years Of Postal Service In City

Started At Local Station In 1906

After 41 years of postal service in Cumberland, C. Guy Brengle, 509 Rose Hill Avenue, who has been superintendent of Station A, Virginia Avenue, for six years, will retire next September 30, nine days after his 70th birthday.

William C. McDermott, acting postmaster, in making this announcement yesterday, said that Mr. Brengle's successor has not yet been appointed.

Born and raised in Cumberland, Mr. Brengle was graduated from the old Union Street High School and taught for four years at McCoole, Lonaconing and at the Virginia Avenue School here.

When he entered the postal service as a substitute clerk March 1, 1906, he began work at the old postoffice building on Liberty Street, where police headquarters and the Health Department offices are located now.

His brother-in-law, the late Sylvester Schilling, was a letter carrier here when Mr. Brengle joined the postal service, and the former later was employed in the mailing division.

For the first 15 years of his postal career, Mr. Brengle worked in the mailing division at the old postoffice building, being promoted to regular clerk after the first four months of service.

In 1921 he was transferred to the registry division, where he worked for seven years, later working for two years at the general delivery window.

On April 1, 1930, Mr. Brengle became a special clerk and handled incoming and outgoing mail. He succeeded Maurice E. Robinette as superintendent of Station A on May 15, 1941, when the latter was appointed superintendent of mails at the Cumberland Postoffice. Mr. Robinette retired from the postal service June 30, 1946.

Two Men Sought In Violent Death Of Garrett Farmer

Police Indicate Man Not Hit-Run Victim

Maryland State Police and Garrett County officials last night were continuing their search for "a couple of suspects" whom they believe may furnish information concerning the death of Elzie Francis Layman, 49, Garrett County, who died in Miners Hospital yesterday after being found lying unconscious along Route 40, near Happy Hills Farm.

State police at first believed Layman to be the victim of a hit-run driver, but a Garrett County Service Station owner identified as Willitm Payton, threw new light on the case yesterday when he informed police that Layman had been quarreling with one of two Jennings men earlier in the evening.

Layman was found unconscious along Route 40, six miles west of Frostburg, by three Webster, Pa., Boy Scouts, Wednesday night about 11:30 o'clock. He died in Miners Hospital, Frostburg, early yesterday morning without regaining consciousness.

Payton told police that Layman was sitting in a room at the rear of the station about 10 p. m. Wednesday when he struck up a conversation with the men. All had been drinking, Payton declared.

According to Payton Layman and the two men began quarreling and the Garrett County farmer took a "swing" at one of them. Later, however, Layman apologized and the men shook hands, Payton told police.

Layman left at 11 p. m., the station owner explained, and the two men went outside of the place to their truck. Layman stopped and the three again began talking, Payton said. After a few minutes Layman began walking up the road, and the truck pulled out.

Layman was about 200 feet up the road, according to Payton, when the truck stopped at approximately the same place where the man was later found lying unconscious. The two men in the truck apparently talked with Layman for a short time before going on, according to Payton.

Authorities said the cut could have been inflicted either by a sharp instrument on an automobile or truck, or could have been caused by a sharp knife.

Medical authorities explained that the bruises and other injuries may have been the result of body blows inflicted by other persons, or could have been caused by a moving vehicle.

State Police at first believed Payton to be the victim of a hit-run driver, but later they indicated that he may have received the injuries under other circumstances.

Garrett County State's Attorney Walter Dawson, who is assisting the state police in the investigation viewed the body along with other county officials last night but refused to make any comment on the investigation.

The Ruth Class and the Berean Class of Second Baptist Church will entertain in Constitution Park tonight with a "hamburg fry", honoring Mr. and Mrs. Keith Ryan, former teachers of these classes. Mr. and Mrs. Ryan are now making their home in Evansville, Ind., and are here visiting relatives.

County Employment Declines Sharply

Employment figures in Allegany County decreased sharply during the month of June, this year as compared with the same month a year ago, but a four weeks strike of employes at the Celanese Corporation of America's Amcelle plant accounted for much of it.

The monthly report of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce shows that employment figure was off 10,368 in June of this year as compared with June of 1946. During June this year, only 8,557 situations were filled, compared with 18,925 in June, 1946.

The payrolls for the same comparative periods also showed a major decrease in June of this year, when $1,820,045.91 was lopped off the county figure of $3,837,331.71 as paid by the 17 industries in June, 1946. Again, however, the figures show the effects of the Celanese strike.

The Maryland State Employment Service recorded an increase in the number of registered unemployed between June and July of this year. In June there were 2,392 registered unemployed at the local office while in July there are 2,691, an increase of 299 registered unemployed.

The same office shows that placements of unemployed persons into positions has also dropped off during the same period. In June 298 situations were filled, through the office, while in July only 221 were filled, a decrease of 77.

In the city the estimated costs of building permits also decreased by $25,380, with permits for $95,500 worth of building being issued in June of this year while only $70,120 was indicated in July.

Purchase of Postal Savings Bonds showed an increase in June over May of this year, with 6,881.25 worth of bonds being purchased in June while only $6,600 was purchased in May.

O'Conor May Come Out Of Vote Recount With Small Margin

As the task of completing the recount of ballots cast last November in the contest for United States Senator neared completion in the Federal Building, Baltimore, it was indicated Herbert R. O'Conor Democrat, would retain a lead of about 500 votes over his Republican opponent D. John Markey, who demanded the recount.

Observers indicated the recount will be completed in about a week or 10 days, with only Frederick and Washington counties' ballot boxes yet to be opened. Both of these counties were carried in the official tabulation by Markey.

Barring surprises, O'Conor will come out of the recount with 75 per cent of his official majority of 2,232 wiped out, it is indicated. Both sides agree there is little likelihood of the whole majority being wiped out.

Completion of the recount, however does not end the affair, as there will be thousands of disputed ballots awaiting the judgment of a Senate committee, and an investigation is being pressed quietly to uncover evidence of fraud and irregularities.

A member of counsel for Col. Markey was disclosed as appealing to Democratic politicians thought unfriendly to Senator O'Conor for tips which might lead to the discovery of election malpractices.

In the meantime, Col. Markey has sailed for Europe and Africa to select sites for permanent American military cemeteries, confident that his return in September would be in ample time for the next stage of the contest.

Plans Will Be Made To Form Disaster Squad

Red Cross, Safety Group Will Meet

Plans were made at a dinner meeting of local industrial safety representatives last night at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club to discuss plans for a community disaster squad organization, with a meeting scheduled for next Thursday, August 7, at 7:30 p. m. in the Red Cross office, Postoffice Building.

The group, which has affiliated itself with the Western Maryland Safety Counsil, named Thomas Gulland, Lynn Walker and Detective Edwin R. Lilya of the Cumberland Police Department to meet with H. Lee Silcox, first aid chairman of Allegany County Chapter, American Red Cross, and Mrs. Lee W. Witherup, executive secretary of the chapter, at that time.

Silcox, a member of the safety organization, suggested that the squad be formed to co-ordinate community activity in the event of a major disaster such as an explosion or flood. Other members are urged to attend the meeting.

John J. Long, safety director at the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, and secretary of the safety group, reported that plans are being made to start training a disaster squad at the plant next week. Six to 10 men will be recruited for the squad from among plant employes who served in the chemical warfare and medical corps of the Army, he said.

He added that the company and the Paper Workers Union, which will hold a joint picnic on Labor Day at Silver Lake, are planning first aid exhibitions as part of the program.

Chief Harland Lasher of the Cresaptown Volunteer Fire Department, Victor Kalbaugh, Jr., of the Luke plant safety organization, and John McAlpine, treasurer of the Safety Council and a representative of the Celanese plant, were named to plan an exhibition program in connection with National Fire Prevention Week in October.

Lasher was asked to contact the Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association regarding the possibility of holding a contest on artificial respiration at the firemen's picnic August 24. Teams from major county industries would take part. Frank Powers, Silcox and Magnus Work, president of the council, were named to the committee in charge.

Another committee composed of Lynn Walker, Arthur Bittner and Eugene Howell was named to make a study of Cumberland traffic conditions and to report their findings at the next meeting, scheduled for August 28. Recommendations on the basis of the report may be made to the Mayor and Council after that time.

August Is Last Month To Get Tax Discount

County Collections Total 90 Per Cent

Entering the final discount period for payment of county taxes, W. A. Strother, tax collector for Tax District No. 1, said yesterday that nearly 90 per cent of county taxes charged to his account have been collected, and bills have been out only two months.

To date, Strothers stated, a total of $1,273,047.50 in county taxes has been received at the Court House. Less than $80,000 of this amount was remitted through the office from the Department of Motor Vehicles for automobile tax, he explained.

Strothers called attention to a difference in the figures of tax collections as shown in the treasurer's report, and those he reported yesterday. He explained that two separate bank accounts are kept. He keeps one for taxes as they are collected, and at intervals, pays sums to the treasurer, who deposits them in the county's regular account. The report of the treasurer, includes only funds received from the collector at the time the report was compiled, while taxes are still being collected at the collectors office, and money not turned over to the treasurer is listed in his report as uncollected, although people have actually paid their taxes. It is merely a process of bookkeeping and takes time, he explained.

The Tax Collector called attention to the fact that this is the last month in which tax bills can be discouned. Three per cent discount will be allowed on bills paid up to and including August 31.

After September 1, interest at the rate of one-half per cent per month is added to the tax bills, and Strother suggests that tax payers take advantage of the savings and those who have not paid their taxes, do so this month.

Collection Day, Friday

Aircraft Plant May Be Located At Local Airport

Golladay To Confer With Graham Soon

A. Derr Golladay, local plane designer and engineer who has designed a new type of plastic airplane, last night requested the Municipal Airport Commission for permission to build a small experimental plant for production of the ship on unused land at the Cumberland Airport.

Golladay explained that the building would measure 50 by 80 feet and would be constructed of concrete block. He said if necessary it could be used at a later date as a hangar.

Three possible sites at the airport which he has investigated are in the vicinity of the city-owned hangars, a small plot in the parking area and land near the southwest entrance to the field, Golladay said.

He said he is anxious to locate the plant near Cumberland, but he added that the Chamber of Commerce of Wilmington, Del., has offered to provide buildings and an airport site there as an inducement to locate in that area.

Golladay explained it is necessary to locate the plant at an airport because the revolutionary design of his ship will make it necessary to instruct pilots in its operation.

Thomas Lohr Richards, a commission member, said under terms of the city's lease agreement with Cumberland Airways, the commission could approve the building site but could not authorize use of the land.

However, the commission expressed favorable reaction to Golladay's proposal, since it would start a new industry in this area.

T. Donald Shires, commission secretary, advised Golladay to confer with John A. Chapman, airport manager, and to present his proposal to William J. Graham, Pittsburgh, president of Cumberland Airways, who is expected here Tuesday to confer with the commission.

Shires said the commission has arranged to meet with Graham Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in City Hall to discuss the 1946 financial report of operations at the airport, which was submitted by the corporation earlier this year.

The report was rejected by the commission at the April meeting on grounds which have not been made public. Shires said City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson and City Attorney Charles Z. Heskett have been invited to attend Tuesday's meeting.

Among other matters to be discussed at the meeting is a complaint that grass plots at the airport are being damaged by pilots who are landing on the grass instead of the runways. In a letter to the commission, Chapman said he had taken no action pending an inspection visit by the group.

Oscar Gurley reported to the other members of the commission that he has been notified Cumberland is assured of receiving $75,000 in federal funds this year under the Federal Airport Act, but no official notice has been received by the commission from the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

The local group had applied for funds to be used in building an administration building and a new access road at the field. Gurley said he will arrange for a meeting with a CAA official here within a few weeks to discuss the matter.

W. Lee Elgin Sued For Return Of Revoked Licenses

Frostburg Man Files Mandamus Action

Action was taken in Circuit Court yesterday by John W. Tomlinson, Frostburg, through his attorney Edward J. Ryan, to have W. Lee Elgin, Commssioner of Motor Vehicles, return his automobile driver's license and his registration card and tags, which he claims were revoked illegally.

The action, a petition for writ of mandamus was docketed late Wednesday afternoon, and yesterday Chief Judge William A. Huster, signed a Court order instructing Elgin to show cause on or before Aubust 15, why the license should not be returned.

Tomlinson claims he has been a resident of Allegany county for more than 30 years and has been the holder of a driver's license for more than 20 years. He states he has been employed for the past three years at the Allegany Ballistics Labratory, and uses his car to drive to and from work. Several fellow employes ride with him, he states.

Describes Accident

On March 3, last, while en route home from work, Tomlinson outlines in his petition, at a point where the Eckhart branch of the C. & P. Railroad crosses Route 40, a car operated by W. L. Ridenour failed to make a curve, crossed to the wrong side of the highway and struck Tomlinson's machine, damaging the car and injuring the petitioner.

Tomlinson says he has filed suit against Ridenour for damages. He further alleges that his own license to drive was revoked and the tags for his car were taken away, although no motor vehicle charge or other legal action was taken against him.

In his petition, he prayed the Court to pass an order commanding Elgin to return the revoked license and lifted tags.

Divorce Suit Dismissed

A suit for divorce filed by Willard Blocher, Frostburg veteran of the Marines, was dismissed yesterday by Chief Judge William A. Huster and Associate Judge George Henderson. The wife, Mrs. Marguerite Blocher, was awarded the custody of three children and the husband was instructed to pay $15 weekly support and rental of the house in which they live.

Divorce actions were docketed by Thelma B. Richards, vs George Thomas Richards; Elva Brannan, vs Ronald Brannan; Rose C. Moreland, vs Victor J. Moreland; and Cornelia Carder, vs William Carder.

Mrs. Reuben Morton, Mrs. J. C. Ledbetter, Miss Emily Popp and Archie Ledbetter will go to Hood College today to stay through Sunday to attend the Training Union Conference in connection with the Maryland Baptist Summer Assembly.

Robert L. Sisson, YMCA Secretary, Notes 25th Anniversary In "Y" Work

Today will be an important anniversary for Robert L. Sisson, general secretary of Central YMCA, for it was exactly 25 years ago, August 1, 1922, that he began his YMCA career as desk secretary at the "Y" in Gloversville, N. Y.

In those 25 years, Sisson has served in Binghamton, Newburgh and Kingston, N. Y., and Asbury Park, N. J. He has been general secretary here since February, 1945.

After graduating from high school in his home city of Binghamton, Sisson took summer work in Silver Bay, N. Y., at an extension school of Springfield College, which specializes in the training of YMCA workers.

He recalls that the man who employed him for his first "Y" job was Leslie J. Tompkins, then general secretary of the Gloversville YMCA, who is now national personnel and field service secretary, headquarters in New York.

Later promoted to membership secretary, Sisson remained at Gloversville for over five years, during

Storm Disrupts Electric Lines, Damages Church

1.13 Inch Rain Fall Is Recorded

An electrical storm which struck Cumberland and the Tri-State area about 12:30 p. m. yesterday accompanied by 1.13 inches of rain fall, interrupted electrical service and caused minor interference to communication lines during the half-hour which lightning flashed through the sky.

Authorities also reported at least two buildings damaged by the lightning and City Police said the downpour of rain flooded the Green Street subway at the height of the storm. Hail the size of marbles was reported in Flintstone shortly before noon.

Potomac Edison officials said at least eight trunk lines serving outlying districts were put out of commission by direct strikes of lightning, and reported some of the districts were without service for as much as an hour and a half.

Many Fuses Blown

Employes of the trouble shooting department of the electrical company declared that at least 20 local residents reported their homes were without service because of the storm.

Most of the trouble was caused by fuses being "knocked out," or lines connecting homes with the trunk branches, being blown down, according to employes.

Several bricks were knocked off the north corner of the Assembly of God Church, 307 Wallace Street, when the lightning made a direct hit on the building. Employes at the city warehouse, located a short distance away, reported that the driver of a city truck, narrowly escaped injury when some of the bricks fell near him.

West Side Fire Company was called to the home of Mrs. Maude E. Willis, 529 Avirett Avenue, when lightning reportedly struck in that area. Fire fighters said a careful check of the neighborhood failed to disclose any damage from the bolt of lightning. Local residents, however, reported seeing smoke, in the area, before the firemen arrived.

Officials of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, said lightning flashes disrupted conversation over the lines during the storm, but declared no serious damage was caused in the area. From nearby sections, however, operators were reporting service suspended temporarily because lightning had broken lines.

Temperature Drops

Robert R. Golden, weather observer at Constitution Park, said rainfall amounted to 1.13 inches, as compared with 1.40 inches on June 8, which was the heaviest rain in a single day this year.

The temperature dropped sharply below Wednesday afternoon's blistering 96 degrees, with 72 degrees reported at 4 p. m. yesterday. Lowest reading of the day was 69 degrees, which was recorded at the height of the storm.

Unconfirmed reports also were made of a home being struck in the Potomac Park area, near Cresaptown, and Maryland State Police said the master radio tower at Frederick was struck and put out of order.

Local firemen said their electrical signal system went haywire during the storm, but declared the trouble cleared after the lightning flashes stopped. One fireman said the signal bell rang constantly during the lightning flashes, but the recording machine which was recently installed, failed to indicate what boxes were reporting calls.

Local residents said the hard rain caused some damage to flowers and truck gardens in the city.

Two persons were injured, neither believed seriously, when a bolt of lightning struck the Duckworth home in Mexico Farms yesterday about 2 p. m.

The injured persons, Mrs. Alice Duckworth and 10-months-old Betty Stafford, both of Mexico Farms, were treated in Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Duckworth was suffering from scratches on one of her arms and head injuries while the child was treated for head injuries. Both complained of pain in their ears from the impact.

Neighbors said the lightning bolt followed the telephone line into the home, broke that instrument and tore plaster board from the wall and then went out the door of the home, splintering the glass and knocking pieces of wood from the door some 20 feet into the highway.

Huge Parade To Feature "Boys' Week" Program

Contests Planned For Youngsters

One of the largest parades in the city's history is scheduled for Monday at 8 p. m. as the kickoff event for "Boys' Week," a program of recreation and athletic contests planned for youngsters in Cumberland, Ridgeley and nearby communities, according to Ted Licot, chairman in charge of arrangements.

All boys and girls owning bicycles are invited to take part in the parade, which will form at Laing Avenue in South Cumberland with Thomas F. Conlon as marshal. The line of march will be from Laing Avenue up Virginia Avenue to Oldtown Road, and from there to Winecow Street, up Centre Street to Market Street, across to North Mechanic, back to Baltimore Street and down South Mechanic to Williams Street, where the marchers will disband.

Will Award Prizes

Members of the Potomac Valley and Cumberland Tiger Motorcycle Clubs will take part, as well as boys and girls on foot. Judges will be selected to review the parade from the City Hall steps, and prizes will be awarded for original costumes and best decorated bicycles and motorcycles.

Final plans for "Boys' Week" were made at a meeting in City Hall last night, with age limits and other eligibility requirements outlined. Deadlines for entering the various contests were also set.

Approximately 2,00 entry blanks have been distributed to the 11 city playgrounds, Constitution Park casino and various business places, including Walker's Variety Store, Virginia Avenue; Harley Davidson Motorcycle Company, Virginia Avenue; Vets Bike Shop, Front Street, and Cosgrove's Cycle Company, North Centre Street.

H. Wayne George, chairman of the committee arranging for the model airplane contest, said that event will be held Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. at the ball diamond in Constitution Park.

There are no age limits for the contest, and applications must be returned to the place where they were secured not later than next Tuesday at 6 p. m.

George said the contest will include speed events for U-control Class B and Class C models; a maneuverability contest for all classes of line-control models; endurance flights for hand-launched and catapult-launched gliders; and judging of models for workmanship.

George is being assisted by John Spiker, Francis Smith, Carl Amtower and John A. Chapman, manager of the Cumberland Municipal Airport. Chapman has announced that free airplane rides over the city will be given to all boys entering the contest.

Will Hold Pet Show

Deadline for entering the swimming contest is Sunday at 6 p. m., Licot said. That event, which will include racing and diving, is scheduled for Tuesday at 7 p. m. at Constitution Park pool, and is open to boys and girls under 15. At 8 p. m. the same day the Police Boys' Club will sponsor a boxing exhibition at the park amphitheater.

Bicycle races will be held at the park Thursday at 6 p. m., open to boys and girls under 16. Deadline for entries is 1 p. m. of that day. The archery contest, open to those under 16, will be held Saturday, August 9, at 1 p. m., with deadline for entries to be Thursday afternoon.

A pet show and talent night will be held next Friday at 6 p. m. at the park under the direction of Mrs. Ralph Stein, city playground supervisor, for boys and girls under 15. Deadline for entries is Wednesday afternoon.

Jitney races for boys under 16 will be held next Saturday at 3 p. m., and applications must be in by Thursday afternoon. Any homemade vehicle on four wheels made by a boy may be entered.

Langer Properties Sold To Settle Claim Of Heirs

Two properties on North Centre Street, figured in a public sale this week, to settle a claim of heirs of the Estate of Charles Langer, and will be presented to the Circuit Court for ratification in 30 days, attorneys indicated yesterday.

The sale, a legal proceedings known as a partition sale, was held for the purpose of giving heirs who hold a one-twelfth interest in the estate their share. Daniel A. Langer was heir to eleven-twelfths of the property.

The property on the west side of North Centre Street at Valley Street was purchased by Daniel A. Langer and wife as highest bidders for $5,000. A property on the opposite side of the street was also purchased by Langer and his wife for $9,500.

A farm containing 25½ acres, on Cash Valley Road, which also was sold at auction was purchased by Clarence H. and Madeline Claycomb, tenants on the place for $5,200.

At a private sale another Langer property in the 400 block North Centre Street was sold to Thomas Lohr Richards, trustee for the Estate of Charles Langer for $5,000 upon suggestion of the Court and agreement of those concerned. This was done to provide a permanent home for Christian Langer, surviving brother of the late Charles Langer who directed in his will that Christian Langer should always be permitted to reside in one of his properties, rent free.

T. L. Richards represented Daniel A. Langer and the estate, and James Alfred Avirett is attorney for the heirs who claimed the one-twelfth interest.

TO RETIRE SOON—Shown above in his office is C. Guy Brengle, 509 Rose Hill Avenue, superintendent of Station A branch postoffice on Virginia Avenue since 1941, who will retire from the postal service on September 30. Mr. Brengle began his career at the old Postoffice, then located in the Public Safety Building, as a substitute clerk on March 1, 1906.

C. Guy Brengle Resigns After 41 Years Of Postal Service In City

Started At Local Station In 1906

After 41 years of postal service in Cumberland, C. Guy Brengle, 509 Rose Hill Avenue, who has been superintendent of Station A, Virginia Avenue, for six years, will retire next September 30, nine days after his 70th birthday.

William C. McDermott, acting postmaster, in making this announcement yesterday, said that Mr. Brengle's successor has not yet been appointed.

Born and raised in Cumberland, Mr. Brengle was graduated from the old Union Street High School and taught for four years at McCoole, Lonaconing and at the Virginia Avenue School here.

When he entered the postal service as a substitute clerk March 1, 1906, he began work at the old postoffice building on Liberty Street, where police headquarters and the Health Department offices are located now.

His brother-in-law, the late Sylvester Schilling, was a letter carrier here when Mr. Brengle joined the postal service, and the former later was employed in the mailing division.

For the first 15 years of his postal career, Mr. Brengle worked in the mailing division at the old postoffice building, being promoted to regular clerk after the first four months of service.

In 1921 he was transferred to the registry division, where he worked for seven years, later working for two years at the general delivery window.

On April 1, 1930, Mr. Brengle became a special clerk and handled incoming and outgoing mail. He succeeded Maurice E. Robinette as superintendent of Station A on May 15, 1941, when the latter was appointed superintendent of mails at the Cumberland Postoffice. Mr. Robinette retired from the postal service June 30, 1946.

Two Men Sought In Violent Death Of Garrett Farmer

Police Indicate Man Not Hit-Run Victim

Maryland State Police and Garrett County officials last night were continuing their search for "a couple of suspects" whom they believe may furnish information concerning the death of Elzie Francis Layman, 49, Garrett County, who died in Miners Hospital yesterday after being found lying unconscious along Route 40, near Happy Hills Farm.

State police at first believed Layman to be the victim of a hit-run driver, but a Garrett County Service Station owner identified as Willitm Payton, threw new light on the case yesterday when he informed police that Layman had been quarreling with one of two Jennings men earlier in the evening.

Layman was found unconscious along Route 40, six miles west of Frostburg, by three Webster, Pa., Boy Scouts, Wednesday night about 11:30 o'clock. He died in Miners Hospital, Frostburg, early yesterday morning without regaining consciousness.

Payton told police that Layman was sitting in a room at the rear of the station about 10 p. m. Wednesday when he struck up a conversation with the men. All had been drinking, Payton declared.

According to Payton Layman and the two men began quarreling and the Garrett County farmer took a "swing" at one of them. Later, however, Layman apologized and the men shook hands, Payton told police.

Layman left at 11 p. m., the station owner explained, and the two men went outside of the place to their truck. Layman stopped and the three again began talking, Payton said. After a few minutes Layman began walking up the road, and the truck pulled out.

Layman was about 200 feet up the road, according to Payton, when the truck stopped at approximately the same place where the man was later found lying unconscious. The two men in the truck apparently talked with Layman for a short time before going on, according to Payton.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy medical examiner of Allegany County, said death was caused by pulmonary hemorrhage resulting from a punctured lung.

Authorities said the cut could have been inflicted either by a sharp instrument on an automobile or truck, or could have been caused by a sharp knife.

Medical authorities explained that the bruises and other injuries may have been the result of body blows inflicted by other persons, or could have been caused by a moving vehicle.

State Police at first believed Payton to be the victim of a hit-run driver, but later they indicated that he may have received the injuries under other circumstances.

Garrett County State's Attorney Walter Dawson, who is assisting the state police in the investigation viewed the body along with other county officials last night but refused to make any comment on the investigation.

The Ruth Class and the Berean Class of Second Baptist Church will entertain in Constitution Park tonight with a "hamburg fry", honoring Mr. and Mrs. Keith Ryan, former teachers of these classes. Mr. and Mrs. Ryan are now making their home in Evansville, Ind., and are here visiting relatives.

County Employment Declines Sharply

Employment figures in Allegany County decreased sharply during the month of June, this year as compared with the same month a year ago, but a four weeks strike of employes at the Celanese Corporation of America's Amcelle plant accounted for much of it.

The monthly report of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce shows that employment figure was off 10,368 in June of this year as compared with June of 1946. During June this year, only 8,557 situations were filled compared with 18,925 in June, 1946.

The payrolls for the same comparative periods also showed a major decrease in June of this year, when $1,820,045.91 was lopped off the county figure of $3,837,331.71 as paid by the 17 industries in June, 1946. Again, however, the figures show the effects of the Celanese strike.

The Maryland State Employment Service recorded an increase in the number of registered unemployed between June and July of this year. In June there were 2,392 registered unemployed at the local office while in July there are 2,691, an increase of 299 registered unemployed.

The same office shows that placements of unemployed persons into positions has also dropped off during the same period. In June 298 situations were filled, through the office, while in July only 221 were filled, a decrease of 77.

In the city the estimated costs of building permits also decreased by $25,380, with permits for $95,500 worth of building being issued in June of this year while only $70,120 was indicated in July.

Purchase of Postal Savings Bonds showed an increase in June over May of this year, with 6,881.25 worth of bonds being purchased in June while only $6,600 was purchased in May.

O'Conor May Come Out Of Vote Recount With Small Margin

As the task of completing the recount of ballots cast last November in the contest for United States Senator neared completion in the Federal Building, Baltimore, it was indicated Herbert R. O'Conor Democrat, would retain a lead of about 500 votes over his Republican opponent D. John Markey, who demanded the recount.

Observers indicated the recount will be completed in about a week or 10 days, with only Frederick and Washington counties' ballot boxes yet to be opened. Both of these counties were carried in the official tabulation by Markey.

Barring surprises, O'Conor will come out of the recount with 75 per cent of his official majority of 2,232 wiped out, it is indicated. Both sides agree there is little likelihood of the whole majority being wiped out.

Completion of the recount, however does not end the affair, as there will be thousands of disputed ballots awaiting the judgment of a Senate committee, and an investigation is being pressed quietly to uncover evidence of fraud and irregularities.

A member of counsel for Col. Markey was disclosed as appealing to Democratic politicians thought unfriendly to Senator O'Conor for tips which might lead to the discovery of election malpractices.

In the meantime, Col. Markey has sailed for Europe and Africa to select sites for permanent American military cemeteries, confident that his return in September would be in ample time for the next stage of the contest.

Plans Will Be Made To Form Disaster Squad

Red Cross, Safety Group Will Meet

Plans were made at a dinner meeting of local industrial safety representatives last night at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club to discuss plans for a community disaster squad organization, with a meeting scheduled for next Thursday, August 7, at 7:30 p. m. in the Red Cross office, Postoffice Building.

The group, which has affiliated itself with the Western Maryland Safety Counsil, named Thomas Gulland, Lynn Walker and Detective Edwin R. Lilya of the Cumberland Police Department to meet with H. Lee Silcox, first aid chairman of Allegany County Chapter, American Red Cross, and Mrs. Lee W. Witherup, executive secretary of the chapter, at that time.

Silcox, a member of the safety organization, suggested that the squad be formed to co-ordinate community activity in the event of a major disaster such as an explosion or flood. Other members are urged to attend the meeting.

John J. Long, safety director at the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, and secretary of the safety group, reported that plans are being made to start training a disaster squad at the plant next week. Six to 10 men will be recruited for the squad from among plant employes who served in the chemical warfare and medical corps of the Army, he said.

He added that the company and the Paper Workers Union, which will hold a joint picnic on Labor Day at Silver Lake, are planning first aid exhibitions as part of the program.

Chief Harland Lasher of the Cresaptown Volunteer Fire Department, Victor Kalbaugh, Jr., of the Luke plant safety organization, and John McAlpine, treasurer of the Safety Council and a representative of the Celanese plant, were named to plan an exhibition program in connection with National Fire Prevention Week in October.

Lasher was asked to contact the Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association regarding the possibility of holding a contest on artificial respiration at the firemen's picnic August 24. Teams from major county industries would take part. Frank Powers, Silcox and Magnus Work, president of the council, were named to the committee in charge.

Another committee composed of Lynn Walker, Arthur Bittner and Eugene Howell was named to make a study of Cumberland traffic conditions and to report their findings at the next meeting, scheduled for August 28. Recommendations on the basis of the report may be made to the Mayor and Council after that time.

August Is Last Month To Get Tax Discount

County Collections Total 90 Per Cent

Entering the final discount period for payment of county taxes, W. A. Strother, tax collector for Tax District No. 1, said yesterday that nearly 90 per cent of county taxes charged to his account have been collected, and bills have been out only two months.

To date, Strothers stated, a total of $1,273,047.50 in county taxes has been received at the Court House. Less than $80,000 of this amount was remitted through the office from the Department of Motor Vehicles for automobile tax, he explained.

Strothers called attention to a difference in the figures of tax collections as shown in the treasurer's report, and those he reported yesterday. He explained that two separate bank accounts are kept. He keeps one for taxes as they are collected, and at intervals, pays sums to the treasurer, who deposits them in the county's regular account. The report of the treasurer, includes only funds received from the collector at the time the report was compiled, while taxes are still being collected at the collectors office, and money not turned over to the treasurer is listed in his report as uncollected, although people have actually paid their taxes. It is merely a process of bookkeeping and takes time, he explained.

The Tax Collector called attention to the fact that this is the last month in which tax bills can be discouned. Three per cent discount will be allowed on bills paid up to and including August 31.

After September 1, interest at the rate of one-half per cent per month is added to the tax bills, and Strother suggests that tax payers take advantage of the savings and those who have not paid their taxes, do so this month.
